The Rights of Tramps.

The supreme court of Iowa insists that the tramp has rights which must be respected. It says in effect that when a nomadic individual is unceremoniously tossed from a moving railway train by an inconsiderate conductor and injured thereby he may recover damages from the railway corporation.

It appears that one Joseph Johnson, a gentleman of leisure and of peripatetic habit, was forcibly ejected from a moving train for insisting upon riding without paying his fare. He sustained injuries and brought suit against the road for damages. The lower court of Pottawattamie county held that a tramp had no rights and that the trainman was justified in throwing him from the train, no matter what the results might be. A new trial was granted and a favorable decision rendered, and upon taking the case to the supreme court this last decision was sustained, giving the tramp complainant judgment for injuries sustained.

It has been popularly supposed that the tramp has no rights which any one is bound to respect, but the Iowa decision puts another phase on the matter. It is a stern admonition that the tramp must be handled gently. If you toss him from a moving train you must do it in such a way as not to injure him. If he comes to the back door to make inroads upon the family larder the bulldog must be tightly chained. The decision opens up a great field of opportunity for sagacious tramps.

Marriage by Installments.

In the early days in Illinois wedding ceremonies were performed by justices of the peace. Cash was not plentiful, and the justice had to take all sorts of fees—cord wood, pumpkins and other produce. One evening a rather bashful couple appeared before the squire in one of the southern counties. The blushing groom explained that he had no money. He had ridden in ten miles, his intended riding behind him. He had brought a bag of coonskins and beeswax. The coonskins had been sold for just enough to buy the license, but he could find no market for the beeswax. Would the squire take this instead of the money? The justice agreed, but on weighing the wax found it 60 cents short. The law was very strict, he said, and he could not perform the ceremony until he had the remainder of the beeswax. No, he could not trust the groom. No beeswax, no wedding. The young man was dejected and disgusted. "Come on, Sal," he muttered and started for the door. But Sal was reluctant. When did a woman ever fail to find a way? Finally her face beamed as though she had been struck by a bright idea. "Squire," she said, "can't ye marry us as much as the beeswax comes to an' finish the job when we fetch in more beeswax?" The squire laughingly assented, and the genius of woman again triumphed.

"Do It To-Day."

"The time- worn injunction, "Never put off t'l to morrow what you can do to day," is now generally presented in this form: "Do it to-day" That is the terse advice we want to give you about that hacking cough or demoralizing cold with which you have been struggling for several days, perhaps weeks. Take some reliable remedy for it TO-DAY— and let that remedy be Dr. Bigelow's German Syrup, which has been in use for over thirty-five years. A few doses of it will undoubtedly relieve your cough or cold, and its continued use for a few days will cure you completely. No matter how deep seated your cough, even if dread consumption has attacked your lungs, German Syrup will surely effect a cure —as it has done before in thousands of apparently hopeless cases of lung trouble. New trial bottles, 25c; regular size, 75c. At O. E. Vars & Son's and L. A. Burrow's.

MURDER IN THE FIRST DEGREE.

FOUR ITALIANS INDICTED ON THAT CHARGE IN BELMONT WEDNESDAY.

Charged With Van Gorder Murder—Thirty-six Witnesses Examined by Grand Jury—Trial to Begin Next Tuesday.

The Allegany county grand jury, which has been in session at Belmont this week has returned indictments for murder in the first degree against the four Italians, Antonio Giorgio, Guiseppe Versace, Sebastino Pizzatiao and Olivio, who are accused of having murdered John Van Gorder and his sister, Anna Farnham, in West Almond, May 23d.

Thirty-six witnesses were examined by the grand jury and their work was completed Wednesday morning by the handing in of the indictments against all four Italians for murder in the first degree.

The trial of the Italians will commence in Belmont next Tuesday morning, and will be prosecuted as rapidly as possible. The crime is one of the most brutal in the history of the county and the trial can be none too speedy.

EASTERN STARS MEET.

Eighteenth District Convention Was Held at Hornellsville Thursday.

Hornellsville was honored yesterday by having the Convention of the Order of the Eastern Star for the eighteenth district of this state. The district comprises the counties of Allegany and Steuben. In the district there are fourteen flourishing chapters with a large membership, and the attendance at the convention was large. The local chapter of Andover was largely represented.

GOLDEN STREAM TURNED OFF.

Mother Hearst Has to Economize Since William Has Gone into the Presidential Contest.

Mrs. Phœbe Hearst, the wealthy and gentle mother of the Presidential candidate, has felt compelled to give notice to the University of California, that owing to the great demands made upon her purse, she is forced to omit her benefactions to that institution, amounting annually to some $20,000. This is much regretted at the college, and several teachers have resigned. Some uncharitable people imagine that her son's tapping of the family barrel at the bung has caused the mother to turn off the golden stream at the spigot. Possibly, after the St. Louis convention, Mrs. Hearst will again see her way clear to resume her gifts to the many worthy institutions she has founded.

INSECTS PEST FARMERS.

The Department of Agriculture Devising Ways and Means to Destroy them.

Few people realize how much agriculturists lose annually from the depredations of insect pests. It is estimated by government officials that the cotton-boll weevil destroyed last year $15,000,000 worth of cotton. The potato beetle cuts off $10,000,000 yearly from the potato crop. The cotton worm has caused a loss of $30,000,000 in one year, and in some years the Rocky Mountain locust has eaten up crops to the amount of $155,000,000. Fortunately the President takes a deep interest in the Department of Agriculture which has on hand the great task of devising ways and means to destroy these pests. All political parties agree that Secretary Wilson should be well seconded in his efforts to help the farmers.

NEW HOUSE OF WORSHIP

THE NEW BAPTIST CHURCH COMPLETED. DEDICATORY SERVICES HELD THIS WEEK.

This is dedication week for the Baptist people and their friends who are proudly worshiping in their beautiful new house of worship, and if the expressions heard on every side are indicative of its beauty and fine appointments, the Baptist church have a modern, and, in all particulars, a finely appointed place of worship. The indefatigable energy and persistence of the pastor, Rev. Chas. H. Harrington, with the united and loyal support of his people have been the means of producing the excellent results. While the description of the building has been given before in these columns it may not be out of place to sketch again some of the changes that have made possible the remodeled building shown in the above cut. The building which was built some 53 years ago served as the first house of worship for the Baptists and Mr. Harrington. The people have reason to be proud of these efforts.

Tuesday evening, at the reunion services, Rev. V. L. Eggleston presided, and Rev. Frank Sherer preached from Psa. 122: 1.

Wednesday afternoon Rev. W. L. Dorgan of Cuba addressed the people and Miss Minnie Clair read a History of the Church.

Wednesday evening the pastor presided. Rev. F. O. Dickey of Angelica offered the dedicatory prayer and Rev. T. G. Cass of Olean preached the dedicatory sermon, taking for his text, "Thy Kingdom Come," from which he gave a logical and eloquent address. The augmented choir furnished the excellent music so much enjoyed.

The services are in progress as we go to press, and will close with a reception and music by Cannon's orchestra Friday evening.

One unique feature of the services was the display in the church parlor of photographs of some of the older members who made possible the present success as well as living members who are non-resident.

PASSING OF HENRY CRANDALL.

A LINGERING ILLNESS ENDS IN DEATH MONDAY.

Funeral Services Held at His Late Home Wednesday Morning Under the Auspices of the Odd Fellows' Fraternity.

After an illness lasting nearly six months, Henry Ciandall, a much beloved and honored Andover citizen, passed to his reward Monday morning. A complication of diseases caused his death. For a number of years Mr. Crandall's health has not been good, but he was not considered dangerously ill, nor unabled to continue his daily toil as a carpenter and builder until late last December. The day before Christmas he done his last day's work. Since that time he has been a constant tho patient sufferer.

Charles Henry Crandall, son of Chas. M. Crandall and Julia O. Rhinevault Crandall, was born in Wheeler Center, Steuben county, May 2, 1858, being a few months over 46 years of age. The greater part of Mr. Crandall's life was passed in or near Andover and his friends number the entire populace. He was a quiet hard working citizen of whom all had only words of commendation.

The funeral services were held at his late residence on Water street under the auspices of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows of Andover, of which he was a revered member. Revs. H. D. Bacon of the Presbyterian church and Chas. H. Harrington of the Baptist church conducting the service.

He is survived by a wife and daughter, Miss Jennie Crandall, an aged father, Chas. M. Crandall, all of Andover, two brothers Frank Crandall of Wellsville and Sherman Crandall of Chattanooga, Tenn., and one sister, Mrs. Joseph Brown of Andover.

The burial was made in the Hartshorn cemetery at Hornellsville.

Magnificent Scenic Pleasure Excursion to Buffalo and Niagara Falls.

On Thursday, June 30th, the Erie Railroad Company will give the public along its line a delightful pleasure excursion to the Great Cataract of Niagara and the beautiful city of Buffalo. Tickets being limited two days will afford ample time to see the attractions of both these noted resorts. Train will leave Andover at 6:28 a. m. Fare round trip only $1.50. Half fare for children between the ages of five and twelve years.

Wellsville's Increased School Facilities.

On Wednesday, July 6th, Wellsville will vote upon the proposition to raise funds and levy a tax of $7,500 with which to defray the expenses incurred in the change of the heating, ventilating and closet systems of the high school building, and to make such alterations in the interior of the building as will provide ample accommodations for the increasing demands of the schools.
