Henry Gardner of Wellsville is in Jones Memorial Hospital in a critical condition, the result of a gas explosion. According to reports when he arose in the morning the gas heater was out, in the basement. He shut off the gas and after some time went back to light the heater again, but the fumes were still strong enough to explode, critically burning him and badly damaging the house.

Locals Still Undefeated

The Andover baseball team remains undefeated for this season winning over Belmont here Sunday by a score of 11-0.

George Phillipson pitched a good game, allowing the Belmont team only two hits. Every man on the local team got a hit except J. Horan, L. Susi, and Rosintoski, who chalked up two each. Rossy's being two long triples.

Some July Point Values Changed

Point values for margarine and canned fish will be increased, points for cheese will be reduced, and the point values of nearly all meats will be unchanged during the rationing period beginning July 1 and ending July 28, OPA said. The Point value of butter will remain unchanged. A two-point increase in the margarine point value, from 12 points to 14 points a pound, is necessary because of the decreased supply and to improve distribution.

Rationed canned fish, with present point values ranging from four to nine points a pound, will be increased two and three points a pound, depending upon the kind, because of reduced supplies for civilians.

A young collie dog, black with brown markings and white chest came to the editor's home Wednesday night, and against our wishes seems to want to stay. The owner is more than welcome to get him.

No, there is no gossips in this town—just a few tongues galloping thru life.
