Ruskin Opposed to Bicycles.
Ruskin's views of the bicycle were expressed years ago in a letter not generally known. It has recently been brought to public attention in England, and contains the following: "I not only object, but am quite prepared to spend all my best 'bad language' in reprobation of bi, tri and 4, 5, 6 or 7 cycles, and every other contrivance and invention for superseding human feet on God's ground. To walk, to run, to leap and to dance are the virtues of the human body, and neither to stride on stilts, wriggle on wheels or dangle on ropes, and nothing in the training of the human mind with the body will ever supersede the appointed God's ways of slow walking and hard working."

After some forty years of immersion in the waters of the pool of Echo-schacht, not far from Hermannstadt, several human bodies have been washed to the surface in a state of preservation.
