YOU MAN OF SMALL BUSINESS

We Want Your Account at This Bank

We have confidence in the people of Andover and vicinity, we believe in their ability to build up in a financial way. We want to do our part in helping them to build up. We want to make every earnest man, woman or child who wants to accumulate something for the future, who wants to get ahead in the world.

On our part there is not a little reluctance in this. We realize that in no other way can you accumulate so rapidly, so surely, as by the "bank account way" and that the small growing account of today will in a few years carry a balance of sufficient size to make the account profitable. But it first pays you.

Relics of the Capet Family.

The descendants of Edouard Lasne, who was housekeeper of the Temple prison when the Capet family were there, gave to the Carnavalet museum, in Paris, some of the things which Louis XVI. find Marie Antoinette left in their rooms when they were taken to the scaffold. There are two chemises of fine linen belonging to Marie Antoinette. The crown which was embroidered on them has been picked out, and only the initial "M." remains. There is a black silk blouse, very much worn and mended in several places, which Marie Antoinette made with her own hands in prison and which was worn by the princess royal after her father's execution. There are also two pairs of the king's silk stockings darned rather clumsily, a pair of "Mme. Royale's" little slippers, a crystal bottle which has a few drops of Marie Antoinette's favorite scent remaining in it and Louis XVI.'s shaving dish. But perhaps the most pathetic of the relics of the monarchy which went to pieces on the scaffold is a game of bricks with which the little dauphin, whose fate has always been and always will be a mystery, used to amuse himself in prison.

Turkish Women at the Theater.

A notice which is to be seen in one of the theaters of Constantinople effectively solves the problem of people at the back obtaining a clear view and is very much more radical than the polite request made in English and French theaters that ladies should not mar the view of the stage with huge hats. The notice reads: "In order to render the performance agreeable to all those present the management of the theater has decided that the spectators of the first three rows should recline, those of the next three rows lie on their knees and all the others be standing up. In that way everybody will be able to enjoy the play." This notice is followed by a suggestion inspiring the Turkish woman's lack of romance: "It is strictly forbidden to laugh. For it is a tragedy that is being performed."—Le Monde Artiste.

W. C. T. U. INSTITUTE

National Lecturer Said Ideal Homes Were Not in the Majority---Proposed Legislation Discussed.

The mid-winter institute of the Women's Christian Temperance Union of Allegany County, was held in the M. E. church, of Belmont, Tuesday and Wednesday, Feb. 27 and 28. Owing to the severity of the weather the attendance was not quite as large as usual, but the general effect was that no more helpful and inspiring meeting had ever been held in the organization.

A song service, led by Mrs. S. C. Draper and devotional exercises by Mrs. Leslie Baker, of Angelica, opened the first session. Mrs. R. W. Huntley, in behalf of the Belmont union spoke words of greeting and gave a brief review of the work, showing the wonderful growth of the movement, started thirty-seven years ago.

Welcomed by Rev. Davies

Rev. J. L. Davies welcomed the union in behalf of the Methodist church and said that "The open door of the church through which we passed were only typical of the open hearts of our hostesses, the Belmont Union." He emphasized the wonderful harmony existing in the organization, all creeds being on an equal footing. He recognized the organization as closely affiliated with the Christian Church.

Mrs. Seberry, the leader of the day, responded in her usual happy style and expressed her pride in such a society of women, who are willing to sacrifice for the good of the community.

Dr. Ernest L. Tiffany and Rev. Mr. Boolen, who are making a tour of the country in the interest of the Prohibition party were present. Dr. Cookston sang, "A Saloon-Less Nation in 1920."

Dr. Tiffany spoke enthusiastically of the work giving us cause for encouragement.

Economy of Prohibition.

Rev. R. W. Neathery in "Contrast: Prohibition with License," emphasized the financial and moral side of the question; saying that a man using $15 per week, who has not the liquor habit can save $1 of the amount, while the man with the habit will not save a cent. Wherever one exists the boys are forming habits that will follow them for life.

Pleasant and encouraging features of the afternoon were exercises by the Loyal Temperance Legion and the Young People's Branch, which consisted of recitations and songs. Belmont has reason to be proud of these workers, who have come into power and who will help to carry the burden, which many of the fathers will soon have to lay down.

The Army Canteen.

The question, "Shall the sale of wine and beer in the army canteen be restored?" was discussed with much enthusiasm and many articles were read written by officers of high standing and large experience, advice to the improved condition of the sale of liquor was prohibited in the canteen.

Three young girls, Misses Mildred Bruce, Clara Ward and Helen Scott members of the Loyal Legion read papers on the evils of cigarette smoking. Mrs. Willard and Miss Bowman gave glimpses of the National convention held in Milwaukee.

The evening service was opened with a song service, which was followed by a duet by Misses Carmer and Davies.

Rev. Davies read the 1st Psalm and offered prayer. A song by the Young People's Branch, a solo by Mrs. Arthur Burdick and duet by Mrs. Hickler and Mrs. Bliss were enjoyed features of the evening.

"Our Homes Are Not Ideal."

Mrs. E. E. Seberry, of Brooklyn, gave an address of the evening, taking as her topic, "The Exalted Ideal." She spoke of the ideal living of the faithful few and said that ideal homes are not in the majority.

"One of the main duties of government, said she, "is to prevent men from injuring one another." She said among other things that eight hundred girls had been rescued from an immoral life in the last twelve months by the W. C. T. U. Her address was interspersed by recitations which she delightfully rendered, closing with Joaquin Miller's "Columbus."

Rev. Neathery pronounced the benediction.

Prohibition Legislation

The temperance prayer meeting for Wednesday morning was led by Mrs. Celia Hammond, of Wellsville. Current events in National and State Legislature were discussed by Mrs. Seberry. She spoke of the efficient work done by our legislative committee, which is headed by our State President, Mrs. Ella A. Boole the most important temperance bill in our state being the County Prohibition Bill.

The Canteen bill, the Kenyon Sheppard bill and the National Prohibition bill are the most important bills under consideration. A symposium on the best plan for department work in the local union and a Question Box, which was opened by Mrs. Seberry were interesting features of the morning.

Rev. Neathery sang "Come unto Me" and responded to an encore.

Rev. J. L. Davies closed the session with a most helpful and uplifting Bible reading.

A feature of the afternoon was a parliamentary drill, led by Miss Bowler.

Mrs. L. M. N. Steven's Proclamation for National Prohibition was read.

The question, "Is a total abstinence constituency essential to the enforcement of prohibition?" was enthusiastically discussed, some of the gentlemen present entering into the discussion. The general opinion was that many men, not total abstainers vote for the prohibition of the liquor traffic.

A symposium on "What can be done to make sentiment for Statewide Prohibition by churches, young peoples' societies, the W. C. T. U. and individuals," was freely discussed.

The session closed by singing "God Be With You Till We Meet Again."

MOUNTAIN LAUREL FOR AMERICA'S FLOWER

At a recent convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs it was voted to ask the women throughout the United States to petition Congress to adopt formally the Mountain Laurel as a national emblem. It is claimed that as a small flower containing the red and white colors of the American flag and unfolding into almost a perfect star, the mountain Laurel deserves the consideration of the country.

ATTORNEY GENERAL CARMODY'S DECISION

Denies the Application of W. Pierpont White to Test Special Laws---Legislature Within its Rights.

Last Friday friends of good roads through this section of the state were made exceedingly happy by the announcement of Attorney General Carmody, dismissing the proceedings brought by one W. Pierpont White, to test the special appropriation granted last year for good roads. This decision of the Attorney General removes all obstacles from the way of an immediate construction of the state road from Hornell to Olean, which ex-assemblyman J. S. Phillips worked through the State legislation. The road will undoubtedly be constructed at once. In fact the engineers are now working on the plans.

Paving Main Street Uppermost

Citizens Meet at Village Hall and Discuss Proposed Road---Committee of Citizens and Trustees Go to Hornell for Facts.

The main topic of conversation in Andover this week has been that of paving Main Street with brick, and there seems scarcely no opposition to the plan now that a large percent of the cost will be borne by the state.

Last Wednesday evening the Village Board of Trustees approved the plan by passing a resolution to accept the state's offer. They recommend a pavement to start where the north side of Elm Street intersects Main Street and then South to the South Main Street bridge, a distance of 1250 feet.

The Board of Trustees recommend the construction of a 256 foot pavement the entire length, and if such is built, Andover will have a splendid street. Thirty-six feet is wider than many streets in cities are constructed and will give ample room for travel and traffic, leaving a parkway, from the curb to the side walk of five or six feet.

In Canisteo, and Friendship the State Highway Commission has agreed not only to pay its share of the paving of Main Street but will construct the road of brick instead of macadam where it goes through the rest of the village. The attorney for the Village Board, Hon. J. S. Phillips is working on a similar problem for Andover, and if successful as he undoubtedly will be, Andover will have a mile of brick road, beginning at the upper end of Water Street and extending down Chestnut Street to the village line.

Tuesday, President Williams, Trustee Bullard, Ed. Byland, A. D. Fuller, Frank Rauenbarth, and Chas. Tracy visited Hornell on a tour of investigation, to learn all they could concerning paving, and at a public meeting of citizens, held in Village Hall, Tuesday evening, the matters and information obtained at Hornell were thoroughly discussed.

Everything points toward paving, and there are few, if any, who are opposing the proposition.

MUSICAL FEAST.

Madam Ellen Beach Yaw and Mr. Franklin Cannon to Appear in Wellsville, Tuesday Eve., March 12.

The world's renowned artiste, Madam Ellen Yaw, together with our own Franklin Cannon will give a concert at the New Baldwin Theatre, Wellsville, Tuesday evening, March 12th.

Madam Yaw is justly acknowledged the truly great coloratura soprano of the world. There is no voice comparable to hers for flexibility, range and liquid clarity of tone; and a florid operatic area or a simple ballad is invested by her with the charm of her temperamental and sympathetic personality. Her career has not only been brilliant, but she has stepped from fame to glory in every city of the world in which she has appeared.

Mr. Cannon has but recently returned from a successful tour abroad and his Andover friends will be delighted to have this their first opportunity to hear him in several solo numbers. The following is taken from a German paper commenting upon Mr. Cannon's appearance at the recent celebration of the centennial of the birth of Liszt:

"At the Liszt Centennial Concert we learned to know Franklin Cannon. He played without mannerisms and followed the intentions of the composer. Such repose and finished elegance together with brilliant technique showed not only the virtuoso but also the artist."—Deutsche Volks Zeitung.

"His technique is marvelous, his interpretation delicate and charming as well as vigorous, fiery and transporting, as was shown in the Hungarian Fantasie. Stormy and unending applause showed the appreciation of the enthusiastic audience."—Wiener Zeitung.

THE MEN'S MEETING.

Last Sunday, Mr. Grantier, a prominent lawyer of Wellsville, established a reputation as a convincing and inspiring speaker. He may come to Andover when he can. The fellows liked him.

The cornet duets were pleasantly received, and the Men's Choir scored as usual.

Next Sunday there will be an interesting speaker with new songs by the chorus.

NEW HIGHWAY IN PORTVILLE.

Myron D. Collins has won in his application to lay out a certain highway in the town of Portville. The commissioners, named by the court to hear evidence and pass upon the application, have decided that the highway is a public necessity and the Collins application is granted.

FRATERNAL INSURANCE

Much interest is centered in matters of fraternal insurance in this state at present owing to the modification of plans and methods by practically all societies operating in the state. The latest readjustment of rates and benefits has been on the part of the Modern Woodman of America which change was a matter of necessity, and which will tend to the perpetuation of that society. Among the organizations that have effected readjustments of such character and which now are making substantial progress in membership and finance are the Knights of Maccabees and the National Protective Legion, the latter society domiciled in this state, and each of which acquired about one thousand new members last month. Although undergoing radical changes, fraternal insurance has apparently come to constitute a large proportion of the protection afforded in the homes of the people of this state.

NO JOKE.

Miss Clara Georgia, of Unionville, Conn., and Dr. Howard P. Mansfield, of Ridgefield, Conn., were some what startled last week to find that they had been legally man and wife for the past thirteen years. At that time they went through what they supposed to be a mock marriage ceremony while guests of friends. The affair had been practically forgotten by them until brought to the attention of Dr. Mansfield recently. According to the laws of Connecticut the marriage cannot be annulled but must be severed by divorce.

ANDOVER BOWLING TEAM WINS

The Andover Bowling team went to Wellsville Wednesday evening to play a contest game with the Wellsville team. The game was won by the Andover boys by 177 pins.

Following is the list of players:

Andover	Wellsville.
Robert Brundage,	Anderson
George Cummings,	Kline
Edgar Porter,	Frederick
Frank Miner,	Covey
Glenn Cheesman,	Wayland.

PRIZE EGGS

In the past two years Andover has become in a way famous as the home of prize poultry. But it remains for D. K. Porter to introduce during the Lenten season the daintiest hen's egg yet. We think "Lart" is raising canaries in his chicken coop, but he claims not. The egg is on display at this office and measures 2½ by 2¾ inches around. D. K. hasn't issued his annual chicken catalogue for 1912, but guarantees these eggs all heatfruit, and will stand the test of the pure food law.

SHOULD BREED MORE HORSES

Albany, Feb. 28. The demand for horses in the state is far greater than the supply, according to a letter to the Governor in response to his recent communication directing Commissioner Huson, of the State Department of Agriculture asking his opinion, as to the methods to be adopted to stimulate this branch of animal husbandry on the part of breeders and farmers of the state. Eight thousand horses are annually brought into the state for use on farms at an average cost of $200 each.

ANDOVER HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Enthusiastic Athletic Association Organized. Current Events New Feature at the Morning Exercises.

The school is planning a speaking contest to be held about May 1st.

The first year class gave a very enjoyable entertainment last Friday afternoon.

A current topic system has been started in the school and is proving a success. In our daily morning exercises three students appear and each are required to give a short talk on a subject of common interest.

An enthusiastic athletic association has been formed by the union of the boys' and girls' athletic clubs. The battery of the first High School nine have begun their spring training.

A second baseball nine is about to be organized. This plan is met with great approval by the younger boys.

The Senior Class are to hold a candy and bake sale Saturday next at Miss Trainor's Millinery parlors. Will begin at 10:30 a. m., and extend through the afternoon and evening. A nice line of home-made cakes pies, cookies, doughnuts, baked beans and a good variety of candy will be displayed. Come and help the Seniors.

The posters which may be seen in the store windows are the work of the drawing classes.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to express our gratitude and thanks to the many friends and neighbors who so kindly helped in caring for our dear husband and brother, during his last illness and death, also to our Pastor for his watchful care and sympathy, and to all who officiated at the funeral.

MRS. AMY J. ADAMS.
MRS. L. ARVILLA RAPLEE.
MISS VALERIA N. ADAMS.

LUCY STONE CLUB.

The Lucy Stone Club will meet with Mrs. Wm. Orvis, Tuesday afternoon, March 12th, subject, County Government. Leader, Mrs. Bess.

WELLS KENYON ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

Will Undoubtedly Die From Effect of Carbolic Acid Swallowed Wednesday Afternoon While Despondent

Tired of life, Wells Kenyon, the 18 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kenyon, of Independence, attempted suicide by the carbolic acid route, Wednesday afternoon.

Between 4 and 5 o'clock, Wednesday afternoon, Wells went up stairs to shave as his family supposed. In but a few moments a heavy fall was heard upstairs. John Lewis, a neighbor was passing the home at the time and he was called in. Going to the boy's room they found Wells unconscious on the floor, his mouth, tongue and throat cooked with carbolic acid. His father was not at home.

Dr. W. J. Grenolds of this village was called, but it was into the night before he arrived. He has been working over the lad nearly all the time since with but little hope of his recovery, yet he is living at this writing Thursday night.

About 11 o'clock Wednesday night the lad regained consciousness and has been rational nearly all the time since. He claimes the only reason for his act was that he couldn't get along with his father.

Only about a year ago, it will be remembered a similar case of the unfortunate young man, shot herself

UNION CAUCUS.

One of the largest attended Union Caucuses ever held in Andover gathered at Village Hall, Saturday evening for the purpose of nominating candidates for village offices.

W. F. O'Connell was made chairman of the meeting and Geo. Beebe secretary.

From the large attendance at the meeting one would infer that there was something doing, but when the deliberations were concluded it was evident that they were all out to give a helping hand to the return of the present officers to the board as their action was unanimous in all instances.

H. H. Williams was renominated for President, L. L. Bullard renominated for Trustee, T. M. Comstock, Collector and F. S. Clark, Treasurer.

MRS. LUCY LEE

The body of Mrs. Lucy Lee, aged 72 years, wife of the late Scuyler Lee, formerly a resident of Andover, was brought to this place Thursday, Feb. 29th, from Bradford, Pa., where she died at the home of her son-in-law, Albert Pool.

Funeral services were held from the Methodist church, conducted by the pastor, Rev. W. H. Adams and burial made in Hillside cemetery.
