ER POSED AS TICKET AGENT

ess, Pa., May 22.—A dishevelkoking individual running at Hall in the direction of the s was the only evidence that people of Gaines might have that the passenger station of Buffalo & Susquehanna railhere had been robbed, if it not been for what developed ward, disclosing one of the most ational and boldest robberies perpetrated in this section. The r not only looted the station d the money within reach, unthe very eyes of two passengers were waiting in the station for coming of a train, but sent a ge purporting to be sent by regular operator, in which the agreement was made that the n was being robbed while he being forcibly prevented from ing it. Then he left the sta and locked the waiting pas rs inside, they to be found a hour later by Donald Larrison, regular operator and station r, when he returned from his er.

he robbery was enacted in the early evening. The robber, n seen by several Gaines people running with all his might, declared as he passed them that wanted to catch a freight train ing the junction at that time.

Had His Nerve With Him.

he passengers who figured in unique "hold-up," were Philip rel and his mother-in-law, of Elmiro. They had been to Gaines ending to business during the , and got to the passenger sta some little time before train . They saw a man whom they ved to be the ticket agent counthe money in the ticket office, inquired of him whether the would be on time, being given ost courteous reply. The "ticket nt" then continued to busy himself about the office, apparently off of a message or two, then ed out upon the platform and a moments later, when Mr. Dewell mpted to go out he found the r was locked, having sprung to st a spring lock on the outside. n effort was made to attract attention, but all to no avail, until ent Agent Larrison came and ed the door. He was as much prised to find the depot occupied the passengers had been to find selves locked in. They explained a man had been there, and shammed the door and gone ay, locking them in.

Even Broke Open Valise.

Larrison found everything in his ce topsy-turvy. The robber had only broken open the cash drawand taken the money and postage ps, but had also broken open a ise and appropriated a portion of contents. During his occupancy the station he had sent a fake graph message, and though very ntly done, yet the receiver made that the one sending it was being ently restrained.

The whole job was done with as ch composure as western bandits when robbing trains. The felwas a large man, was dressed in white shirt and splendid fitting ing suit, while his address and ring were those of a clean-cut siness man.

BRINGS DEAD BACK TO LIFE, IS DOCTOR'S CLAIM.

Two Lifeless Animals Restored by New Method of Respiration, Says S. J. Meltzer.

New York, May 22.—Two animals were put to death and restored to life recently by a new method of artificial respiration devised by Dr. Samuel J. Meltzer of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research.

Dr. Meltzer's report appears in a preliminary note issued by the Department of Physiology and Pharmacology and printed in the Journal of the American Medical Association.

The discovery reported by Dr. Meltzer was made in experiments to discover a successful method of artificial respiration in furtherance of efforts for saving life in industrial establishments in cases of accidents. He believes the method to be equally applicable to man and urges that it be tried in all cases of death from acute illness. The actual cause of death might be only of a temporary nature.

The method consists of the introduction of a catheter into the pharynx pulling out the tongue, forcing the back part of the tongue against the roof of the mouth by pressure applied far back under the chin, putting a weight on the abdomen to keep air from being forced into the stomach, connecting the catheter with bellows and pumping air into the lungs.

Memorial Day Program Arranged.

Everything Arranged for the Proper Observance of the Day, Under the Aupices of the Local G. A. R. and Ladies of the Relief Corps.

The fitting observance of Memorial Day is a duty every town and every person in every town owes not only to the "Old Soldiers" with us, but also in memory of those who have passed over the river. In these strenuous times it is well for us at least once a year to pause one day and think of the heroic deeds of these who by their bravery made possible our present prosperity.

Memorial Day occurs next week Thursday. The committee of arrangements, Rev. H. B. Williams, F. W. Burrows, T. R. Bassett, B. S. Brundage, and A. D. Fuller, have completed their work of arranging the program for the proper observance of the day in Andover, under the auspices of the local Grand Army of the Republic and Ladies of the Relief Corps, of Edward Seaman Post.

The regular Sunday evening memorial services this year will be held in the Presbyterian church with the address by Rev. H. B. Williams. Members of Edward Seaman Post, G. A. R. and Ladies of the Relief Corps will attend the service in a body.

On Thursday, May 30th, let the houses of the town be decorated with flags.

The program for the day will be as follows:

At 1:15 p. m., the line of march will be formed at the G. A. R. Hall in order of march will be:

The Andover Band,
Flower Girls in Carriages,
The Edward Seaman Post,
Ladies of the Relief Corps.
School children.
Civic organizations,
Citizens.

The march will lead to Hillside Cemetery where the Post Ritual will be read and graves decorated. The line will then reform and march to the Auditorium where the following program will be observed:

Music.
Star Spangled Banner, by school children.
Prayer,—W. H. Randall.
Reading of Orders,—G. A. R.

FIND BODY OF MAN IN WOODS.

Corning Authorities Believe He Was Victim of Foul Play.—Skull is Fractured.

Corning, May 20.—The body of a man who had met with death, was found near the summit of Rose Hill yesterday afternoon by Claude Reep and James Jones, who were walking in the woods. Corner Herbert B. Smith and Deputy Sheriff Albert Sullivan, who went to the scene, found the features so changed as the result of putrefication that they could not identify the body, which apparently is that of a short, thick-set man of middle age. A fracture of the skull at the base of the brain indicates that death resulted from a blow.

The body had evidently lain in its present position for several weeks. No money was found in the pockets and this fact seems to explain the motive or the crime. The body was poked half way under a log and the face had been covered by an overcoat. The man was dressed as a laborer. There was nothing about the body to reveal the identity, a mouth organ and a jacknife being all that was found on the person.

Coroner Smith has ordered the body removed to the city to permit of a more careful examination of the fracture. The body is thought to be that of Charles Hounker, night foreman at the Central Shops, who disappeared suddenly, after leaving home for his work a few months ago.

LONGEST TROUT IN STATE.

The longest trout ever caught in any inland body of water in New York State was landed Thursday on Lake Keuka by Ernest Wald, a veteran fisherman of Penn Yan.

Wald was almost jerked from his boat when the fish first jumped for freedom, and for sixty-five minutes Wald and the monster trout battled. Several times the fisherman's boat was almost capsized as the fish whirled about, and the captor's hands were bleeding where the line had cut into the flesh in places. Finally the trout grew tired enough to allow itself to be brought alongside and drawn aboard by a net.

The trout is 38¾ inches long and weighed 17 pounds. The longest trout caught in the State prior to this time was also taken from Lake Keuka a few years ago. It was 35 inches long and weighed 19 pounds.—Bath Advocate.

STARTS A STILLED HEART

By Massaging Organ Surgeon Apparently Restores Life.

Miss Anna Loebenstein was virtually brought to life in the Ellis Hospital Schenectady, after her heart stopped beating and she had been pronounced dead. The resuscitation was accomplished by Dr. Charles G. McMullen by massaging the heart through the incision made by an operation she had just undergone.

The operation was just being completed by Dr. McMullen and Dr. Faust, brother-in-law of Miss Loebenstein, when to all appearances death came to the patient. Her pulse stopped entirely and there was not the least semblance of breathing according to the physicians.

By an abdominal opening through which the surgeons were operating Dr. Mullen reached the patient's heart and commenced massaging it gently. Where such treatment might be fatal a thousand times, according to medical men, it is successful once. The surgeons with the utmost skill manipulated the heart muscles and in a few seconds the heart gave response.

Restoratives were applied and the weak pulsations became stronger. Soon afterward under the treatment of the physicians and the interns at the Ellis Hospital, Miss Loebenstein regained consciousness.

MRS. OLIVE MINARD.

The death of Mrs. Olive Minard, occured at the home of her daughter, Mrs. F. M. Lee, Wednesday, May 20th. Mrs. Minard was 82 years of age. Funeral services were held at the home Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock. Rev. W. H. Randall, of the Baptist church officiating. Burial was in the Burdick cemetery at Alfred.

After the work an informal luncheon was served and dancing followed until 2 a. m.

THE GORGEOUS MINSTREL COSTUMES

Those to be Worn by the Home Enterprise Co. Minstrels the Most Beautiful Ever Seen in Andover.

Last Wednesday night was the occasion for the fancy dress fitting of the cast of the Home Enterprise Co. Minstrels. Kings, Princes, Nobility, Jesters and Funny End Men were all attired in wonderful court costumes, the most beautiful and elaborate ever seen in Andover. Members of the staff of the Auditorium who have witnessed all of the professional productions for years are unanimous in saying that these costumes are the most beautiful ever used in a staged production in this town.

All are of the fashion predominating in the court of Louis XIV. The court wigs, beautiful silk coats, in pronounced colors and delicate shades, trimmed with gold and lace, elegantly embroidered waistcoats, tight fitting knickerbockers, silk hose, fancy slippers, etc. The Heralds will wear cloth of gold capes and will present an imposing appearance as they are all large and handsomely built men.

These costumes are not of the ordinary stage kind rented for the occasion but were originally worn by the sons of foreign ambassadors at a big state affair held at the White House, immediately following the inauguration of President Taft. Mr. Close has secured these costumes at a cost of several thousand dollars.

The seat sale for this mammoth production went on this morning. There are still more desirable seats for the first night. Those who have not secured reservations should hurry, every seat in the house should be taken.

PAVING STILL THE TALK.

All of the towns in this section of the state that have so far voted on the paving proposition, have carried it by large majorities. Both Canisteo, Friendship and others are in the progressive list. Andover will join the bunch just as soon as we can find out the cost.

An interview with nearly all of the business men of Andover reveals the fact that every one the "News" questioned in the matter were outspoken in favor of paving. It will undoubtedly be some two weeks before the question can be brought to a vote in Andover but the majority will be the Roosevelt kind in Ohio, two to one.

The village Board have been doing all in their power to get this paving question before the people as soon as they can with the hope of getting the contract let in the July letting, and possibly have the pavement constructed this summer.

CLUB CONGRESS.

The Club Congress held Tuesday evening at Union Hall under the auspices of the Lucy Stone Club was well attended. Mrs. Coleman represented the Woman's Christian Temperance Union giving a brief history and outline of their work. The W. C. T. U. has a world's membership of over one half million. Have forty departments of work of which that of Franchise is one of the most important.

Mrs. Mary Warfield spoke for the Rebekah Lodge. The Rebekah lodge is auxiliary to the I. O. O. F. order, being recognized as a degree of Odd fellowship. Their order founded on the principals of Friendship, Love and Truth.

Mrs. Marie Fowler gave a fine paper upon the object and work of the W. R. C. The work of the Relief Corps is most worthy. Their allegiance to the flag and to the order of the G. A. R., relief work for all soldiers and their families, assistance at Memorial Day services, maintaining of the Oxford Home, a beautiful home provided for the care of soldiers' widows.

Mrs. R. A. Pease represented the Hawthorne or C. L. S. Circle. Literary club whose aim is the yearly study of a course of reading as arranged at Chautauqua. Andover has a number of graduates from this course, some having added many seals to their diplomas.

Mrs. Charles Robinson spoke in behalf of the Andover Grange and their splendid work. Mrs. Robinson referred to the fact that the Grange also stands solid for equal suffrage reminding us that in the suffrage campaign in California when returns came from the cities and congested districts the suffrage amendment was declared defeated. But when reports came from the rural districts the decision was reversed and the amendment granting women equal suffrage with men in the state of California carried by a handsome majority. She then introduced Mrs. Emmet Robinson, who favored the company with a splendid recitation entitled "Brains and Breeches." The poem was finely written and given by Mrs. Robinson in a most pleasing manner.

Mrs. Burrows, president of the Lucy Stone Club gave a brief history of the club, and its work. Beside their work as a reform society the Lucy Stone Club have accomplished some meritorious things for our town. In the way of civic improvements the Lucy Stone Club must be given the credit as originators and for the first work toward establishing in Andover the free library. It was the Lucy Stone Club who thought out and started the amusement association for the young people now being fitted from the proceeds of labor day for the past three years.

Mrs. Bettinger read an account of the division occupied by the Men's League in the Suffrage Parade in New York, May 3rd. One thousand men marched. A report of the State Suffrage Association held at Ithaca last Fall given at the County Convention in Belmont recently by Miss West of Scio, was read by Mrs. Backus. Mrs. Prest sang a solo and Misses Muriel Earley and Reba Burrows a duet which added greatly to the pleasure of the evening.
