Can You Do What Others Do?

Certainly you can. Other people are not naturally smarter than you. They haven't any better brain than you — although they may have a more active ambition and a steadier application to accomplish that ambition, the steady "day in and day out" application which brings the object of one's ambition within reach.

Everyone has an ambition to have a Bank Account—but is with the ambition is not ACTIVE.

It isn't hard, not a bit hard, to start an account at this bank. YOU can do it. You can do better—you can keep the account GROWING so that it will be worth something to you by January of next year.

Come in and let us explain to you the many advantages of an account at this bank, what the starting and building of an account means to you.

SUPERVISORS APPROVE ROAD.

Highway From Fillmore to Weller's Corners Will Be Built This Year.

The Board of Supervisors at a special session last week unanimously passed a resolution approving the state road from Fillmore to Weller's Corners, a distance of a little over two miles. The Wellsville Reporter says concerning this road:

"The first survey for the state High way practically covered this route and later the route was changed to go from Fillmore directly north, thus leaving out the village of Hume, yet this is one of the most heavily traveled roads in that section of the county. Supervisor Colburn of Hume realizing the necessity of its construction and the benefits to be derived from prompt action, which would result in getting the road built this year, immediately took the matter up with other supervisors in the county and as a result a special session of the Board has been called to meet at Belmont on Thursday afternoon, July 18th, at 2 o'clock when the Hume road proposition will be taken up.

"As Allegany county is in need of improved roads, and as there is every reason to believe that this project can go through without the usual tedious delay, thus getting the construction started and completed this year, it would seem a very wise action on the part of the Board to unanimously support Supervisor Colburn in his desire to secure a section of improved highway for the town of Hume."

FOILED HER PLAN.

Hornell Man Knocked Carbolic Acid Bottle From Wife's Lips.

Hornell, July 21.—Because her husband chided her for allowing a chicken which she was cooking for supper to scorch on the stove, Mrs. Ludyig Lantz, of Franklin Street, this evening rushed to an adjoining room declaring that she would end it all, and snatching a bottle partially filled with carbolic acid attempted to swallow the contents.

Her husband snatched the vial from her hand, but not before she had succeeded in swallowing a small portion. Medical assistance was summoned and everything done to relieve the suffering of the woman, whose mouth and lips are terribly burned. It was stated to-night that she will recover.

NEW BOND ISSUE.

People Will Vote on the $50,000,000 Issue For Highway Improvement.

At the coming elections in November the people will vote on the new $50,000,000 bond issue for highway improvement. The highway commission in reporting to the legislature January 1, 1912, stated the state and county system, as mapped out to consist of approximately 11,680 miles. Of this a little over 5,000 miles will be built or let to contractors by December 31, 1912. Over a third of the 5,000 miles of assured highways have been put through by the present highway commission which was only established towards the close of the season of 1911. In fact more mileage was put under contract in the last big letting than was ever built in any two years before in this state.

Now that the people are seeing these actual results and realize the vast increase in property values throughout the rural districts, the easy access to markets, and the comforts only a good road will bring there is a general feeling that the new bond issue will undoubtedly go through.

The $50,000,000 bond issue bill which was fathered by Senator John F. Murtaugh through the Legislature and signed by Governor Dix, provides that $20,000,000 be used for the construction and improvement of state highways and that $30,000,000 be used for country highways, and highway commission to immediately and equitably apportion the $50,000,000 on a basis of population, as given by 1910 census, mileage of highways in the county and the area.

HEYTEDDER CALM.

"I have noticed ever since I was old enough to make notes and paste them in my hat, that the men who have nothing at stake are the ones who make the most trouble. Consider Col. Heytedder, who has done more for this village than any other man. He's always putting up new buildings, or extending his business, or doing something that will give employment to honest laboring men. As fast as he makes money he puts it into some enterprise that will keep the wheels going around. I talk with him every day, and I've never heard him complain about his taxes. When it is up to him to pay his taxes he calls at the captain's office like a little man, and hands over the dinero, and says 'Bless you, my children,' and goes about his business as though nothing had happened. Such a man is a great asset, and we should put up a monument to him while he is with us to see it and get the good of it."

POTTER DEMOCRAT SOLD.

Thomas H. Higgins, an experienced newspaper man from Delaware County, has purchased the Potter Democrat and expects to inject new life into the only Democratic organ in Potter County by adding a linotype and other equipment to the mechanical department, as well as unmixed politics, to its editorial columns.

Mr. Higgins is 60 years of age. He was formerly employed as a traveling salesman by a type concern.

ILLEGAL LIQUOR SELLING IS CHARGED.

Bath, July 29.—In police court this afternoon James Robinson was held for the action of the September grand jury. He is charged with retailing whisky by the bottle in this, a no-license town. Robinson's bail will later be fixed upon application to the county judge.

...The provision of the statute as to designation by petitions follows: "petitions for the designation of candidates for party nomination or for the election of candidates to party positions shall be signed by at least five per cent of the total enrolled voters of such party within the district within which such office or within the unit of representation for which such party position is to be filled, but in no case less than four per cent of the total vote cast in that district for the party candidate for governor at the last election at which a governor was voted for."

THAT WELLSVILLE GAME AND SHOW

Wellsville Pitcher Gets Mad at Rooters and Starts to Clean Out Grandstand--Score 10 to 0 for Andover

Wellsville's crack independent base ball team, that is supposed to be the fastest in this neck of the woods, came to Andover Saturday, to show the Andover base ball team how the game is played. From the advertising this team is getting from the Wellsville press, their residents are taught to believe that, coming from the county metropolis as they do, they are the real originators of that game called base ball, and that all other attempts are simple amateur performances; that the management of all other teams, in justice, should pay a royalty to the Wellsville base ball team on the gate receipts of each and every game played.

It was with fear and trembling that Manager Lauterborn and his team tackled the job of playing the Wellsville boys at all, but finally concuded that it was no worse to be defeated by a good ball team than a poor one, and they were curious to see if they could get a score or two while the much heralded champions of the earth were piling up a whole book full of scores.

The time of the game at hand, the visiting umpire, (Wellsville always did want all the umpires they could get, they are noted for umpiring. The greatest part of some games is in counting.) announced the batteries, Mariner and Rockwell for Wellsville and Geary and Trowbridge for Andover. The Andover boys took the field and everything went off like clockwork. The visitors didn't even find Geary in the first inning. When it came Andover's turn at bat, just to stimulate the crowd and give the rooters something to get busy at, they ran in two earned runs for a sample.

After the first inning, there was nothing doing on either side but just playing ball, and listening to the Wellsville team kicking on the Andover diamond. Because they were not scoring they had to find some excuse and laid it all to the grounds. In the last part of the fourth inning Andover came across with a couple more good clean runs.

At this juncture of the game, the Mr. Pitcher for Wellsville got rattled; he got mad; he went crazy; he made the biggest kind of fool of himself it was possible for a man to make. Some one in the crowd said something—no one knows who said it or what he said, but it is a safe wager that it was not one half as bad a remark as many rooters for Wellsville had made repeatedly about the Andover pitcher—that offended his royal highness. He collected a pile of stones near the pitcher's box and got ready to clean out the grand stand. Joe Lauterborn was quietly walking down the third base line, when Mariner deliberately threw the ball at his head with all the force it was possible for him to command and remarked as he threw it, "There, now will you keep still." Rattled as he was over the loss of the game, and mad as he was because of some imaginary remark, he did not come within two feet of hitting the man he pretended he threw at. The ball was thrown with such terrific force that it smashed through the wire netting screen in front of the grand stand and hit John Lever on top of the lid, completely ruining his straw hat. Had the ball been one-half inch lower, it would have put Mr. Lever out of commission for a time. The grand stand was filled with ladies and gentlemen who had paid their admittance to see the game.

Of course there was something doing right away. It must be said to the Andover crowd, of Mr. Lever and Mr. Lauterborn that they took the matter like gentlemen, for it was found out that Wellsville pitcher team was allowed to keep Mariner in the box to finish the game. The mistake made was that at the close of the game an officer did not introduce the gentleman to the Andover lockup.

Of couse there was nothing to the game after the show had been pulled off. The Andover boys batting the ball all over the field, until at the close of—the ninth the score book read 10 to 0.

Up to the fourth inning the game was a dandy. The Wellsville fellows playing snappy base ball, and were giving all a good time. The conduct of all of the Wellsville team with the exception of Sherm Mariner, was that of gentlemen, and it was a pity that he should have made such a show of temper as he did.

BASE BALL DOPE.

Score keeper Richardson thinking it unnecessary longer to keep track of the games, lost the score book.

Wellsville's score keeper agreed to send us up a record of Saturday's game. We don't blame them for not sending it. A score of ten to nothing in favor of Andover, don't look good.

Say, if Bill Lanterborn stole second, would Mike Lynch him?

That Wellsville pitcher was some trap shooter, Eh? Did it hurt you John?

Raufenbarth was fined two pounds of bologna for not reporting to practise with full uniform on.

That break down stuff of Harold Brainard's is getting regular on Saturdays.

We hear that Bill is looking up some of the Andover uniforms. He has rented a safe deposit box of John Lever so he can find them on days when they are needed.

Don't forget to be out strong for the South Hill game, Sunday. Mr. [illegible] has the of the Arkport Agricultural Society [illegible]

CHAS. LEVER SUFFERS SHOCK.

Charles B. Lever suffered a slight shock of paralysis about noon Tuesday as he was leaving his hay field on his farm two miles east of Andover, to return home for dinner.

Medical aid and his family were summoned immediately and he was brought home in the afternoon where he is reported as improvnig.

Mr. Lever had been at work all the morning and had made no complaints. He drove to the farm in the early morning and carried the milk to the condensory and had returned to the farm and had just started for home when he called for help as he was feeling strangely, and collapsed.

It is thought he will recover.

MOTHER KIDNAPED OWN DAUGHTER.

A daring kidnaping took place last Thursday night in Attica, when two women and a man in a big gray touring car grabbed Mildred Sloan, the 11-year-old adopted daughter of John W. Sloan, proprietor of the Erie hotel and made off with her toward Buffalo.

A playmate of Mildred gave the alarm and in a few minutes Mr. Sloan was in pursuit in another machine. His car broke down 6 miles out, however, and he turned the chase over by telephone to Sheriff Hart, of Genesee county. Hart put a man on a motor cycle and had the gray car trailed to Buffalo, where the women were arrested shortly before midnight and taken with the little girl to police headquarters.

To Police Chief Ragan, of Buffalo, the younger of the women, Mrs. Herman F. Lehman, 27 years old, keeper of a boarding house, said Mildred was her child, that she married Chas. A. Deming, of Chicago, in 1899 and had divorced him in 1901, two months before Mildred was born; that she came to Buffalo two years later and was induced by a city official to part with the little girl, he promising to find a good home for it. Since then until January she has not known where Mildred was. She determined to kidnap the little girl and hired the automobile in Buffalo for that purpose.

Mildred told the police she wanted to go to her mother in Attica. She did not recognize Mrs. Lehman as her own mother. Mrs. Lehman was locked up on a charge of kidnaping. The chauffeur and other woman, Mrs. Ambrose Kempf are held as witnesses.

VREELAND ANNOUNCES HIS RETIREMENT

Assigns Ill Health as Reason for Not Accepting Renomination---Has Served Fourteen Years in Congress.

Salamanca, July 30.—Hon. Edward B. Vreeland, Representative in Congress from this district since 1899 and for several years one of the leaders in the House, announces that he will not be a candidate for re-election.

Ever since Mr. Vreeland returned home from Washington there have been rumors to the effect that he contemplated dropping out of public life; and a large number of prominent Republicans from Chautauqua and Allegany counties have called on him during the past week and urged him to remain in Congress.

Mr. Vreeland gives as his reason for retiring that his health has become impaired by the strenuous work of the past four years, during which time he has been a member of the National Monetary Commission, and has spoken in all the principal cities of the United States in favor of the reform of our financial system. After hearing reports from all parts of the district, Mr. Vreeland has no doubt of his renomination and re-election should he be a candidate. But he appreciates that a candidate for Congress this year should take the lead in an aggressive fight until the polls close; and he does not feel that he can do the necessary work.

Mr. Vreeland has attained a position among the leaders in Congress and has been the author of constructive legislation of vital importance to the country at large. He is the author of the emergency currency bill, under which associations have been formed in 17 cities and $500,000,000 in currency lies in the Government's vaults at Washington ready to prevent such a currency famine as existed during the panic of 1907. Since Senator Aldrich's retirement, Mr. Vreeland has been acknowledged by both sides in Congress to be the best informed man on banking and currency legislation in either house.

Senator Charles M. Hamilton, of Ripley, it is believed, will be the organization candidate to succeed Mr. Vreeland. Frank Mott, of Jamestown, is spoken of to lead the forlorn hope on the Democratic side.

NOVITT'S ASSIGMENT.

Smith & Dickson, as attorneys for F. W. Warner, to whom Royal Novitt made a general assigment on July 2nd, have issued a statement to the creditors. They say, that the assigment is made for the benefit of the creditors, without preferences, except for labor which is merely nominal and was filed in the office of the County Clerk on July 2nd. The inventory and schedules show the nominal value of the goods to be about $7,000.00 and their actual value about $4,000.00. The liabilities aggregate $10,000.00.
