A Galaxy of Clean, "UNBOSSED" Progressive Candidates

Not One of the Candidates Here Represented by Half-tone Illustrations Sought the Progressive Party Nominations---the Party Sought the Men in every instance---A Clean Ticket that no Person Will Ever Regret Voting for at the Election on Tuesday of Next Week.

DR. CARLOS C. ALDEN

ERNEST CAWCROFT

MAYOR SAMUEL A. CARLSON

FREDERICK B. KEENEY

SAMUEL A. CARLSON, CONGRESSIONAL CANDIDATE.

Samuel A. Carlson the Progressive Candidate for representative in Congress has been three times elected Mayor of Jamestown because he has stood for Progressive measures such as public ownership of the water and electric lighting plants, a public hospital and a public market, the latter being a benefit not only to the Jamestown consumers but to the farmer who is thereby enabled to deal directly with the consumer.

Mayor Carlson has stood for a uniform public service rate to all and for equal taxation upon every dollar of property value and as a means to this end he proposed the publication of the entire assessment roll for public review each year. His advocacy of improved methods of municipal government has attracted attention to such an extent that he enjoys the distinction of being the only Mayor in the United States who has been four times invited to address the National Convention of the League of American Municipalities.

Mayor Carlson's outspoken and independent attitude upon public questions has sometimes invited criticism and yet his public service has often been commended by those who differ with him.

Refering to improvements inaugurated while Mr. Carlson had served only one term as Councilman, The Jamestown Journal said: "The man who worked in and out of season, to whom a large share of the credit is due, is Samuel A. Carlson. His sledge hammer arguments fell in all places at the right time and no one seemed to be able to stand against them. He was armed with an array of facts and figures and so well grounded in his position that it was impossible to shake him."

He is making a fight for Congress by appealing directly to the people for the support of those principles which he believes will make for that which is best, purest and noblest in American life and he is waging this contest without the backing of a single dollar from any source whatever and when he announced his candidacy he challenged opponents to meet in joint debate in Abraham Lincoln fashion but no one has yet ventured to meet him in the forum of public debate.

Commenting upon Mayor Carlson, the Utica Globe recently said: "In this day when graft enters so largely into political life it is refreshing to have at the head of a flourishing and progressive City like Jamestown a man of Mr. Carlson's sterling honesty and unimpeachable character.

F. B. KEENEY

Candidate of the Progressive Party for State Senator, from the 44th District, of Warsaw, N. Y., is a well known business man and farmer Not only is he well known in his home county of Wyoming, but he is widely known all over Western New York and through the entire state. He is a thorough and successful farmer. For fourteen years Mr. Keeney owned and conducted the famous "Belvidere Farm" near Angelica, and his herd of Jersey cattle, "The Premier Jersey Herd," is known all over the country and have become household words to every farmer in this section.

We have been electing lawyers and business men to office for years. Now let us put a few of our good substantial Western New York farmers in to make laws for us. The farmers of this country are the back bone of the nation. They have graciously accepted any old candidate the politicians have seen fit to name for years. They have taken such laws as these lawyers and politicians have seen fit to dope out to them, until they have found that most everything on earth have laws giving them protection, except the farmers. It is about time that the farmers sent a few farmers to make laws for them, and a more successful and better qualified farmer could not be found than F. B. Keeney, of Warsaw.

Mr. Keeney was born in Warsaw, N. Y., May 25, 1858. He graduated from the Warsaw schools and attended the Rochester Business University, taking the prescribed course of study. He was in business in Buffalo two years and has since been a breeder of registered Jersey cattle, his herd being at the top. His motto has been "To breed up, breed from the top."

MAYOR SAMUEL A. CARLSON

Mr. Keeney is also well known as the gentleman who bought and shipped hay from the farmers in this and adjoining towns. He has always been honest and square in all his dealings and has an enviable reputation for fair dealing with all who have had business relations with him. He was the first president of the New York State Hay Dealers Association, and is now president of the Wyoming County Agricultural Society one of the most successful county agricultural associations in the State. He is a self-made man, a man who has made every dollar he is worth by hard and industrous work.

F. B. Keeney will make a typical State Senator, and every farmer in Western New York will be confident of a square deal in every matter that he has anything to do with when he takes his seat as Senator from the 44th district.

FARMERS, LET'S VOTE FOR FARMERS FOR A WHILE.

WM. J. GARWOOD FOR SHERIFF

Mr. Wm. J. Garwood, of Burns, is making an active canvass for the office of Sheriff on the Progressive ticket. To the voters of Allegany County little need be said as to his eminent fitness for the office, as he is well known in every town in the county. Mr. Garwood is a hustling, energetic man, in the prime of life and thoroughly familiar with the requirements of the office and his duties as he filled the office some years ago in an able manner and has been Deputy Sheriff for many years. In his own town of Burns, he is known as an honest, fearless man, independent in his views and actions, thoroughly reliable and possesses the respect and confidence of all who know him.

Mr. Garwood has always lived in the town of Burns. He is a self made man in every sense of the word, and by his own industry and thrift has acquired a fine farm and has educated and started well in life a large family of children.

During his whole life, public and private, no one has ever raised a word against his honesty or fidelity to his duties—always strictly sober, energetic and faithful to any duty or task entrusted to him. He has always commanded the respect of his neighbors.

No better man, nor one better fitted by training and temperment, could be found for the office of Sheriff, and if elected he will be found the servant of the people and not the stool pigeon of any political ring.

CARLOS C. ALDEN

Carlos C. Alden, candidate on the Progressive ticket for associate judge of the Court of Appeals, was born in Wilmington, Ill., of New England parentis. He is a direct descendant, in the ninth generation of Puritan John Alden. His boyhood was passed in Belfast and Bangor, Me. Leaving there at eighteen, he went to New York City, and after several years in business studied law. He was graduated from the New York University Law School in 1892. In 1904 his alma mater conferred on him the honorary degree of Juris Doctor.

Admitted to the bar in 1893, he practised in New York City, but was also led into legal authorship and teaching through his association with Austin Abbott, then dean of the New York University Law School. Dean Alden became a professor in that school in 1893.

In 1904 he was made Dean of the Buffalo Law School, and has since been at is head. In 1909, Dean Alden was chosen by Governor Hughes as his legal adviser.

Dean Alden's Record

In His Profession: Eleven years of active practice in New York City; now counsel to one of Buffalo's leading law firms.

In Legal Teaching: Nine years a professor of law in New York University Law School; eight years Dean of the Buffalo Law School.

In Legal Writing: Has published two works upon New York practice used in almost every law office in the state; also, a student's book on practice.

In Public Office: Legal adviser to Gov. Hughes in 1909; in 1910-1916 a commissioner on uniform laws under appointment by Gov. Hughes.

In Private Life: A thorough progressive; actively interested in good government, municipal, charter and civil service reforms, and other institutions which have to do with the general welfare of the public.

ERNEST CAWCROFT FOR STATE TREASURER.

Ernest Cawcroft, the nominee of the National Progressive party for State Treasurer, resides at Jamestown, in the great agricultural county of Chautauqua, on the Southern tier. He is a lawyer and business man of integrity and experience, and has made a State-wide reputation for the energetic administration of large business enterprises in bankruptcy—an experience which is deemed peculiarly to qualify him to help Oscar S. Straus rehabilitate the finances of the State of New York, at the close of the present Dix administration. He was placed on the ticket peculiarly as the representative of the younger men in the party, and as an expression of the feeling that the younger men in the upstate districts should at all times receive the fullest recognition in the party councils.

A Man of Wide Interests.

Mr. Cawcroft was born in Massachusetts but has lived in Jamestown since he was six years of age. He studied in the Jamestown High School and New York Law School Upon admission to the bar in 1905, he became a partner of William L. Ransom, under the firm name of Ransom & Cawcroft, and has practiced his profession with great success, particularly along lines of business and commercial law. He served in 1906 as special counsel to the commission which revised the charter of the City of Jamestown, and during the administration of Attorney-General O'Malley, he was special counsel for the state Department of Agriculture. He is a member of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, the Loyal Order of Moose, the Knights of Pythias, the Mt. Moriah Lodge of Masons, the Sons of St. George, the Y. M. C. A., the Jamestown Club, the University Club of Jamestown, the Chautauqua County Historical Society, and the Chautauqua County Direct Nominations League. He has traveled in Europe, the West Indies, South America and throughout the United States and Canada, in the investigation of industrial and economic problems, and has written extensively concerning them for the magazines. He has also been a contributor to business and accounting magazines on commercial and financial topics. He is president of the Jamestown Building Company, the Eagle Building Company of Jamestown, and a director of the Pythian Improvement Company. He is president of the Lodge of the Fraternal Order of Eagles in Jamestown.

At the age of 31, he is one of the most aggressive exponents of Progressive principles in Western New York. In the Republican party, he was an ardent champion of the leadership of Colonel Roosevelt, and when the Republican party ceased to be a party responsive to popular needs or the control of the rank and file of Republican voters, he was one of the first to follow Col. Roosevelt out of the Republican party. He soon was made provisional chairman of the Progressive Committee for Chautauqua County, and has made a reputation for picturesque campaigning by automobile, a style of campaigning which he will doubtless continue with marked effect in agricultural counties west of the Genesee River.

Experiences Valuable to Party.

To a peculiar degree Mr. Cawcroft is fitted to represent the younger men in the councils of the Progressive State administration. He is splendidly qualified to be a member of the "cabinet" of Gov. Straus after January 1, 1913. He recently remarked in a public address: "I have personally observed the successful operation, in Europe and other parts of the world, of each and all of the economic remedies proposed by the Progressive platform. I know these remedies are facts to me and not theories." His conspicuous services to the Progressive movement were such that it was but natural, when his name was placed before the convention by his former partner and lifelong friend, William L. Ransom, a member of the New York County delegation, that the delegates should choose him with practical unanimity to represent the younger men and the Southern Tier of counties upon the first State ticket of the Progressive party in New York.

JOHN N. KROH

JOHN N. KROH, CANDIDATE FOR COUNTY CLERK

John N. Kroh, the Progressive candidate for County Clerk, is peculiarly a working man's candidate, but none the less in every respect a man who reaches to the full accomplishments requisite to insure a competent and business like management of that office.

By dint of his honesty and efficiency in his employment he has worked to a commanding position in the manufacturing establishment with which he has for many years been connected, and has become one of the leading contractors of that large and successful business carried on at Friendship, this County, by the Empire Sash, Door and Blind Co., and he employes and manages a large number of laborers in that business.

He is held in great respect by his fellow townsmen at whose hands he will receive a very large vote, and is in every way entitled to the vote of every citizen desiring a clean and efficient management of the important office of County Clerk.

WILLIAM J. GARWOOD

D. D. DICKSON FOR MEMBER OF ASSEMBLY.

Had the Progressive Party hunted the county of Allegany over, they could not have found a candidate for Assembly better fitted by nature and training than Dawson D. Dickson, of Angelica. He is a man who has been in public life for thirty years and no one can honestly say anything against his character or integrity.

Mr. Dickson was fourteen years a member of the Board of Supervisors of this county from Angelica and during all those years made life a burden for the bosses and grafters. He has been fighting the battles of Allegany County tax payers for all of twenty years. He would do the same in the Assembly.

The people know Dawson D. Dickson. He is right and they know he is right. He will be Allegany County's next Assemblyman, because Allegany County voters have faith in his sincerity of purpose and honesty of character.

—The merchant who really expects you to buy it at his store knows that he must make the inducements strong and determining. Perhaps in today's ads you may find some price arguments that will decide you.

TO THE UNDECIDED

If any person who is politically undecided how he shall vote this fall, wishes concrete reasons why he should indorse Theodore Roosevelt instead of Mr. Taft, Mr. Wilson, or any other presidential candidate, he can find satisfactory examples without number in his own community. Even if the voter has but one ounce of grey matter he will be able to discover that the very name "Roosevelt" is the symbol of Progression while the other candidates spell Retrogression, not in fiction, but in fact.

For instance, a certain large industry in Wellsville, capitalized at $300,000 whose continued existence means prosperity for the city had considerable difficulty, previous to the term of office of Mr. Roosevelt, in procuring cars to ship its product. Various industries all over the United States were having the same trouble, not caused by car shortage, due to increased transportation, but from favoritism shown its interests. Mr. Roosevelt instigated and established the boards of the Inter-State Commerce Comission and the trouble was remedied for the independent industries.

At the present time the above industry is in a flourishing condition, thanks to Mr. Roosevelt, and is a conspicious example why you, if you desire to preserve your community industries, should put the Progressive Party in power. Do it now for it is "BETTER TO BE A BULL-MOOSE, THAN A BULL-HEAD."

In direct contridiction to the alleged charitable institution of "Tammany Hall," and the vote getting methods of its ward leaders, and the aloofness of the "Old Guard" toward the lower classes of humanity, is the whole hearted attitude of Oscar Straus and his wife toward all who are in distress and need the helping hand.

The charitable works of Mr. Straus were in evidence long before he ever became a Progressive candidate for Governor of the State of New York, and they certainly were not alone for the sake of personal gain or political favor.

Mrs. Straus is no less an enthusiast in this line of work than her noted husband, and as head of the bureau for assistance to Hebrew Immigrants she is given ample opportunity to help those in distress.

An evidence of the fruit of her labors was shown on the recent visit of Mrs. Straus to Wellsville, when she was met in the lobby of the Baldwin theatre by a young Jewish girl whom she had befriended in New York City and who is now a respected resident of that village, her rise in life being due in a large measure to the timely charity of Mrs. Straus.

Don't you think it worth while to cast your vote for Oscar Straus and put a man of sterling worth and impeachable character in the Governor's chair at Albany?
