Pay by Check

Persons who have never had a bank account often think it a very complicated affair. On the contrary it is very simple. When you deposit your money in this bank we give you a pass book showing the amount of your deposit, also a check book. These checks are merely orders on the bank to pay a certain sum to a designated person or firm. When properly endorsed the check is paid, cancelled and returned to you—a valid receipt showing amount, date and to whom paid.

Any additional information you may desire regarding the check plan of protecting your income cheerfully furnished.

BOY KILLED IN BASE BALL GAME

Victor Marsh of Rock Glen, was instantly killed at Perry, last week, by being hit in the stomach by a base ball. The lad was 12 years of age, and went to Perry with a company of Boy Scouts to play a contest game with the Boy Scouts of Perry. He was catching, playing without a body protector.

The coroner issued a certificate of accidental death. This should be a warning against players going into a game without proper protection.

An Appalachian Door.

Any one of tact and common sense can go as he pleases through the darkest corner of Appalachia without being molested, says a writer in Outing. Tact, however, implies the will and the insight to put yourself truly in the other man's place. Imagine yourself born, bred, circumstanced like him. It implies also the courtesy of doing as you would be done by if you were in that fellow's shoes—no arrogance, no condescension, but man to man on a footing of equal manliness.

And there are "manners" in the rudest community—customs and rules of conduct that it is well to learn before one goes far afield. For example when you stop at a mountain cabin if no dogs sound an alarm do not walk up to the door and knock. You are expected to call out "Hello!" until some one comes out to inspect you.

None but the most intimate neighbors neglect this usage, and there is mighty good reason back of it in a land where the path to one's door may be a warpath.—New York Herald.

Lured to Destruction.

The inhabitants of the Scilly Islands in the old days looked upon the occurrence of a wreck as a blessing of providence, and stories are extant about thanks being offered for a wreck in various parts of the country.

Some of the stories told us by the islanders themselves, says Country Life, show that there was an almost diabolical cleverness in the way in which the storm tossed mariner was lured to destruction. For example, it was common to burn false lights, that were calculated to bring the ships on the rocks instead of warning them away, and worse, even, than this was done.

There was at one time a gang of wreckers, who, when a storm was brewing, fastened a bright light to the horns of a cow and sent her to graze along the cliffs, to the bewilderment and deception of the sailors. Needless to say, this spirit has entirely changed now.

London's Destructive Atmosphere.

The smoke and soot that are always in the atmosphere (there are days in the of soot hanging over London even days) contain lots of sulphur, and the sulphur when it meets certain substances forms sulphuric acid or vitriol. It was the vitriol in the atmosphere that brought the great roof of Charing Cross station down with a crash a few years ago. The engine smoke had eaten away the iron, which was finishing clently painted. And some years ago before the London underground was electrified, it was a great joke at one of the stations for passengers to go and poke umbrellas into a certain iron girder, which at one point was nearly as soft as putty. Paint is in such cases the engineer's great standby. In some ways paint is more powerful than iron. Many London buildings might be said to be practically held together by paint, particularly railway stations.—Pearson's Weekly.

Lang Willie's Retort.

A Scotch caddie is almost certain to be a shrewd observer of men and things, and he is frequently gifted with a sharp tongue of his own.

Lang Willie was for many years a well known figure on the St Andrews golf links. On the occasion of Louis Kossuth's visit to St Andrews a public dinner was given in his honor, and Willie applied for a ticket to the banquet who was in charge of the arrangements. The worthy man curtly refused the application, saying to Willie that it was "no place for the likes of him to be at the dinner."

"No for the likes of me!" was Willie's indignant rejoinder. "I've been in the company of gentlemen from 11 to 4 o'clock maist days for the last thirty years, and that's mair than you can say."

MAN JUMPS FROM MOVING TRAIN

Hornell, May 19—While on his way to Corning Saturday evening on the excursion train, Scott Likely, a helper in the blacksmith department of the local Erie shops, met with a very serious accident. The train had just left the yards of this city, when the conductor came along to take up the tickets. When he came to Likely he was offered a mileage, and according to orders, refused it. Mr. Likely then drew a bill from his pocket for the fare, and while offering it to the conductor, it was blown through the window. The man rushed to the end of the car and jumped off. The train was running slow at the time, but nevertheless Mr. Likely was thrown to the ground with considerable force. He sustained several severe bruises, but luckily no bones were broken. The train was stopped, and the man, who had in the meantime found his money was taken on. He was taken from the train at Canisteo, and brought to St. James Mercy Hospital at this city. Although severely bruised from the mishap, the latest reports state that he is resting comfortably, and will be able to resume his shop duties in a few days.

Senior Class Will Go to Washington

In Company With Many Other Schools in the County, Andover Graduates Will Make Pleasant Tour.

The annual Washington tour of the graduating class of the Andover High School is to start on Wednesday morning, June 25th. The trip this year is to include stops at Philadelphia and Harrisburg. Supt. H. G. Burdick of Wellsville, has issued the following schedule of the trip. We take the following from the Wellsville Reporter:

The special all steel train will leave Hornell via Erie R. R., Wednesday morning, June 25th, at 7:00 a. m., making the following stops:

| | |
|---|---|
| Andover | 7:45 |
| Wellsville | 8:00 |
| Scio | 8:09 |
| Belmont | 8:18 |
| Friendship | 8:37 |
| Cuba | 8:56 |
| Olean | 9:23 |

At Olean the train will be transferred to the Pennsylvania lines and will leave Olean about 10:00 a. m., for Washington. We pass through Harrisburg and Baltimore, arriving in Washington at 7:00 p. m. Large sight-seeing autos will transfer the entire party and their baggage to boarding places which are near the Capitol building. At 8 o'clock the party will meet at the corner of Second and Pennsy. Ave., going from there through the Capitol grounds to the Conressional Library, the most beautiful building in America. The library closes at 10 o'clock.

Thursday, A. M., at 8:30 the party will again meet at Second and Pennsy. Ave., N. W., visiting the Botanical Gardens, the Capitol Grounds, and at 9:30, having group picture taken on steps of Congressional Library. At 10 o'clock special guides will conduct party through the Capitol building.

While the party is seated for the group picture, announcements will be made concerning special features of the trip. The party will be divided into two groups, called Groups One and Two. At this time also some changes may be made in the program on account of appointments to meet President Wilson and Secretary of State Bryan. Mr. Manton M. Wyvoll, Mr. Bryan's private secretary, has very kindly arranged these appointments. Opportunities will also be had for visiting Congress while in session.

At 12:20 Group One will lunch at Second and C. streets; at 1:00 Group Two will lunch at Second and C streets.

At 1:30 Group One will leave Second and Pennsy. Ave., N. W., for Bureau of Printing and Engraving and Washington Monument.

Group Two will leave Second and Pennsy. Ave., at 1:30 and visit Smithsonian buildings.

Friday, A. M., at 8:30 party leaves Second and Pennsy. Ave., walking through Botanical Gardens to Fish Commission and Mount Vernon steam boat landing. Boat leaves at 10:00 o'clock. Lunch at rear of Washington Estate in old Virginia at 1:00 o'clock. Leave at 2:00 o'clock on special street cars for Alexandria, Virginia and Arlington Cemetery. Cars leave Arlington at about 5:00 p. m.

Saturday, A. M., leave Third and E streets, N. W., at 9:30 a. m., walk to Pension Building and Patent Office. Lincoln House and Old Ford Theatre on Tenth street, thence to Dead Letter Office, Treasury Building and White House. Take cars to boarding places, Group Two eating lunch at 12:30, and Group One at 1:00.

At 1:30 Group Two leaves Second and Penn'a. for Bureau of Engrav. and Washingotn Monument. At 1:30 Group One leaves 2nd and Penn'a Ave., N. W., for Smithsonian Institute.

Sunday, 9:00 a. m., automobiles convey party through residence part of city to the New York Ave., Presbyterian church where President Wilson worships. Persons wishing to attend other churches will have ample time to reach them.

Dinner will be served at 1:00 at the boarding places.

At 1:45 party leaves Third and Penn'a Ave., for Corcoran Art Gallery. Those desiring can remain here for the afternoon and the others will leave at 2:30 for Zoo Park. Leave Zoo Park at 5:00. Lunch at Third and C streets, N. W., 5:30 to 6:30 Congressional Library is open Sunday evening.

Monday, 9:00 A. M., Group One leaves Second and E streets for Government Printing Building, N. Capital and H. streets and goes from Printing Building to Navy yard. At 9:00 a. m., Group Two leaves Third and Penn's. Ave., for Navy yard, goes from Navy yard to Government Printing Building.

Monday afternoon is left open so that members of the party can visit places in which they are particularly interested.

WILL CELEBRATE JULY FOURTH

Everything Possible Being Done to Make Day Most Pleasant---Committees of Arrangements.

It was definitely decided Tuesday evening that Andover would have a mammouth 4th of July celebration this year. It will be a regular old fashioned celebration, with music by several bands, speakers, sports and parades, and the largest display of fire works ever attempted in a village the size of Andover. There will also be some patriotic performances in the Auditorium in the evening.

After a thorough discussion of the project the following chairmen of committees were appointed, each chairman being given the power to appoint his own assistants as members of the committee: Marshall of the Day, E. D. Baker; Finance, C. W. Williams; Program, B. B. Hann; Music, J. P. Cannon; Sports, A. R. Brilton; Publicity, Rev. W. H. Randall; Speaker, F. W. Burrows.

Breakfast will be served Tuesday morning at 6:30 o'clock and the party will be transferred at 6:45 in autoes to the Pennsylvania R. R. Station, where our special train leaves at 7:00 a. m., arriving at Philadelphia at 10 a. m.

The train leaves Philadelphia at 1 p. m., arriving in Harrisburg at 3:30, leaving Harrisburg at 7:20, will arrive in Olean about 4:00 a. m., and at Wellsville about 6 a. m., Wednesday.

The special train will consist of our new, large steel coaches and a baggage car. There will be plenty of room for everybody. Members of the party will have to provide their own lunches on the train, both going and returning. At Philadelphia and Harrisburg on the return trip there will be ample time to get lunches if desired.

If enough persons desire it, a sleeper will be put on the train at Philadelphia for Wellsville. The rates for a lower birth will be $2 and upper, $1.60. Two persons can occupy the birth, each paying one half of the above rates.

The train will be used by members of the party only. While stopping at Philadelphia and Harrisburg all baggage will be locked in the coaches and cared for by a special guard of the Pennsylvania lines.

THE PAR Y WILL LEAVE ALL APPOINTED PLACES ON TIME. INDIVIDUALS WHO ARE LATE WILL BE LEFT BEHIND.

BUSINESS MEN COMPTELE ORGANIZATION

New Association Takes Name of Former Organization, "Andover Business Men's Association"--The Officers

The new Business Men's Association completed their organization Tuesday evening, at the play rooms parlors, by adopting constitution and bylaws, and the election of officers.

The new organization semis to be characterized by their desire to do something for the good and benefit of Andover, both civically and commercially. They take as their motto, "A Better Andover."

After the odoption of the bylaws the following officers were elected: President, E. D. Baker; Vice President, J. E. Cannon; Secretary, J. Harvey Backus; Treasurer, B. S. Brundage; Executive Committee, the officers and B. B. Hann, H. B. Williams and F. W. Burrows.

It is expected that a greater share of the routine work of the association will be given to the executive committee, thus leaving the regular meetings to be held the first Tuesday evening of each month, with the exception of July and August, for the discussion of ways and means of creating more business for Andover merchants and business men, and the improvement of civic conditions.

There is nothing too hard for the association to tackle, and nothing so small as to be beneath its notice, provided it is a matter that will have an influence upon the welfare of this community.

AUTO BACKED DOWN HILL

While entertaining a party of friends last week Sunday with an automobile ride in a new car which she had just purchased and was learning to drive, Miss Leah McElheny, postmistress at Black Creek, lost control of the car and after backing down a short hill, the car dove over the side of a bridge landing the three occupants of the car on the rock creek bottom twelve feet below.

Their escape was nothing short of miraculous and they owe their lives to the fact that the car carried a top which partly stopped the weight of the machine as it fell.—Rushford Spectator.

PRESIDENT'S SUMMER HOME

The summer home of President Wilson and family, otherwise the summer capital, is to be at Cornish, New Hampshire. "Harlakenden," the 700-acre estate of Mr. Winston Churchill, has, it is announced, been chosen by the President for this purpose. The "summer White House" is an attractive colonial mansion commanding a beautiful view of river and mountain scenery.

The Belmont Dispatch says:

"Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch, given by home talent under the direction of Miss H. Christine Lewis, last Friday and Saturday evenings, exceeded the expectations of all who saw it, and an unprecedented success from beginning to end.

As a whole the play was a triumph for each one who took part and demonstrates once again th earl and ability which Miss Lewis possesses in training and staging home talent. This, though, an apparently simple play, was unusually difficult to put on because of the entire change of scene between acts.

A pleasing variety was given to the evening, by the vaudeville numbers that were introduced. Space forbids a detailed account of these acts but from the smallest goblin to the big brown bear and the organ grinder they fully sustained the high character of the evening's performance and when the curtain went down on the Virginia Reel in the midst of Mrs. Wigg's benefit dance for Miss Hazy, every one felt that it was a fitting climax for an unusually delightful entertainment.

Large audiences filled the hall both evenings and a nice contribution for the support of the Free Library will be realized."

Andover Being "Dry Town" Huge Joke

Cause of Temperance Receives Body Blow at Belmont Monday---Can Now Properly Celebrate Fourth.

An overwhelming majority of Andover citizens are not only not pleased, but proclaim themselves as indignant at what they call the "Miscarriage of Justice" in the matter of the sentences received by the Andover excise violators at the term of County Court at Blemont, this week.

Andover people are not in the least "mealy-mouthed" about expressing their contempt for and disappointment in the persons who made it possible for Andover excise violators to be virtually told to go and sin some more. In fact, numerous are those who, having refrigerators in working condition, say that as it doesn't cost anything in Andover they will go into the booze business themselves. One party in particular, who had but recently gone out of the business, on account of the temperance scare, is announcing to his customers that he will start up again right away. There is a big demand for workable refrigerators, even though the electors of the town of Andover have said in most emphatic terms, for the last six years, "Thou shalt not sell booze."

Nothing could possibly have been done more in the interest of getting license in Andover than the sentence pronounced upon the self-confessed violators of the excise law has done. One was fined $200 and sentenced 30 days in the county jail, and the fine and sentence entirely suspended, another fined $300 and a 30 days sentence in the county jail and the sentence suspended.

Alic Mitchell, because he has no money and but few friends, must take all the punishment for excise violations in Andover, even though he has not sold drops where the others have doled out gallons. That's justice.

Many a stand-pat partisan in Andover is to-day making threats of what he will do to the District Attorney and Judge for their part in this performance if they ever come up for office again. They say Judge Reynolds couldn't find a Corporals Guard to vote for him in Andover for re-election.

Hold right on there, Mr. Temperance man, just stop long enough in your abuse of the officials—and they undoubtedly deserve all they are getting—to consider your part in the program. What have you done to show your disapproval of excise violations in Andover? Not one thing. Didn't you know that the District Attorney and Judge are accustomed to feel the pulse of the people somewhat to find out the sentiment of the people concerning these matters? What did they find in Andover? What did the temperance people do to show them their attitude in the matter? Nothing, as usual.

The condition of the illicit sale of liquor in Andover to-day is no more the fault of the law-violators than it is the fault of indifferent temperance people of Andover. When public sentiment is strong enough against liquor selling, and temperance people have backbone enough to come out in the open and be counted as against it, even if it does take a quarter or two from their profits in business, then, and then only, will Andover be a dry town. Excise violators know they are practically safe from harm for they know that a certain per cent. want their toddy, and they will not squeal, and they also know that the temperance people have not stamina enough to stand up and be counted.

It is reported that District Attorney Ward said something like this: "Don't condemn me. I have been trying for a year to prosecute excise violators in Andover, and the only man who has assisted me in the least was Officer Brundage. To pay him for doing so the temperance people in Andover have allowed him to lose his position. That speaks for itself the temperance sentiment in Andover."

GALLAGHER—LYNCH

A pretty wedding was solomnized in the church of the Blessed Sacrament Andover, Tuesday morning, the contracting parties being Gertrude M. Lynch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Lynch, and Mr. Patrick J. Gallagher. Rev. J. J. Sheehy performed the ceremony.

The bride was attired in white marquesette over white satin with pearl trimmings and veil crowned with lillies of the valley, and carried bridal roses. The attendants were Miss Nellie Lynch, sister of the bride, and Frank Gallagher, brother of the groom. The bride's maid was attired in nile green crepe chiffon over green satin and carried pink roses.

After the ceremony the immediate relatives assembled at the home of the bride, where the wedding breakfast was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Gallagher left on the morning train for New York City.

MRS. WIGGS OF THE CABBAGE PATCH

The Senior Class of the High School and the Lucy Stone Club will present the play, "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," with vaudeville numbers in the near future.

This entertainment is being prepared by local talent under the efficient management of Miss H. Christine Lewis. Her success in coaching plays is a guarantee of the excellence of the production and the high quality of this entertainmnt. Notice of the date and price of tickets will be given in the next issue of the News.
