W. H. PHILLIPS VISITS IN THIS VICINITY

(From the Hornell Tribune)

W. H. Phillips of Chicago is spending the holidays with Mrs. Phillips and other relatives and also his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Phillips of Andover, who recently had the misfortune to fall and break her hip. Mr. Phillips is connected with one of the largest shoe manufacturing concerns in this country, Selz, Schwab & Co., of Chicago and in his business visites nearly all states of the middle west and south goes from her to Pittsburg and then to Louisville, Ky.

This firm has eleven factores and since the war has completed large contracts for the different European nations. One order being 1,000,000 pairs of shoes for the French and 500,000 for the English soldiers. Other orders from Russia and Germany were refused because of lack of leather to supply the regular trade and fill such huge demands.

Mr. Phillips is a brother of J. S. Phillips of this city and formerly lived in this vicinity. He reports business as improving especially along all manufacturing lines. He reports witnessing at Lathrop, Missouri, a sale of 28,000 fine horses and mules which were bought by the English agents for the war and paid for wholly in gold at one time.

You've hit the right tobacco

when you fire-up some Prince Albert in your old jimmy pipe or in a makin's cigarette. And you know it! Can't get in wrong with P. A. for it is made right; made to spread-smoke-sunshine among men who have suffered with scorched tongues and parched throats! The patented process fixes that—and cuts out bite and parch. All day long you'll sing how glad you are you're pals with

You take this testimony straight from the shoulder, men. You can smoke a barrel of P. A. without a kick! It hands out all the tobacco happiness any man ever dreamed about, it's so smooth and friendly. It's a mighty cheerful thing to be on talking-terms with your pipe and your tongue at the same time—but that's what's coming to you sure as you pin your faith to Prince Albert!

Everywhere tobacco is sold you'll find Prince Albert awaiting your cheerful visit. Buy it in toppy red bags, 5c; tidy red tins, 10c; handsome pound and half-pound humidors—and—in that classy pound crystal-glass humidor with sponge-moisteners for that keeps the tobacco so fit!

MARY PICKFORD, THE IDOL OF THE SCREEN

To Be Seen in "Fanchon The Cricket" at the Auditorium, Wednesday Evening

Mary Pickford, the world's foremost motion picture star, is utterly fascinating in the role of Fanchon, a mischievous imp of a girl, the scorn and by-word of the village, who, under the subtle influence of love, gradually developes a goodness of disposition and a general bent toward virtuous principles whereby she eventually gains the heart of the man she loves and triumphs gloriously over the envy, hatred and uncharitableness of the rustic community of which she had been a despised and rejected member. There is a naturalness about her portraval—a sparkling, quaint originality—that is absolutely irresistible, and "Fanchon the Cricket" will undoubtedly be considered as notable an achievement as her memorable characterization of "Tess of the Storm Country."

Our "B. B. B." column always does the business.

Chiropractic

Have You Dyspepsia, Indigestion or any form of Stomach Trouble?

These disorders are cured by a subluxated vertebra pinching slightly the nerves leading to the stomach, thus cutting off part of the nerve force (life) to the stomach. As a result the stomach is unable to do its work properly. Chiropractic adjustments will remove the cause of these ailments.

PROGRESSIVES HAVE GREAT HOPES

National Executive Committee to Meet Here This Week in Chicago, Planning For National Convention June 7th.

New York, Jan. 9. — There is little doubt among the Bull Moose leaders who started in Chicago to-day that the Progressive national convention will be held in this city on June 7th, the same day on which the Republican convention begins in New York. That, at least, seemed to be the solid sentiment of the delegates from New York and Eastern states, no matter how the West may feel, and it seemed pretty generally recognized June 7th is the date favored by Colonel Roosevelt.

A few who favor June 9th point out that on that date the Republican convention should get down to its business of nominating and that the gathering of the Progressive clans might have more potent effect than if they began work on the same date. The worldly consideration of obtaining hotel rooms seems to be one of the biggest objections to this plan as well as the argument advanced that the Progressive influence might be most strongly felt if they kept step with the Republican progress. However, there seemed to be no doubt that the earlier date favored by Colonel Roosevelt and that, therefore, it will be chosen. Colonel Roosevelt was not among those present when the train pulled out, but Secretary John McGrath, and a state-room with Dr. H. Wilson Jackson, committeeman from Vermont.

From all sides as the national committeeman and their friends and sympathizers stood about waiting for train time came indications that this Progressive campaign is going to be very much like — will start off with a bang, in fact, and keep up top speed until its momentum is felt at the desired quarter. That was the reason so many Progressives, actuated by love of the cause rather than official duty, journeyed to the West.

There were Mark Sullivan, editor of Colliers; Henry L. Stoddard, Bainbridge Colby, Harris J. Wilkinson of Syracuse, a real Progressive; William H. Lichtkiss, former state superintendent of insurance; Robert Bacher, former Progressive state chairman, and others of unofficial mention as well as George Perkins, chairman of the national committee; Elton Hooker, treasurer of the party; Walter Johnson, New York state chairman.

Mr. Hotchkiss was the most outspoken of the party. "The month of June is the only day," he said, in answer to a question, and then said that the majority of the committeemen and planning Progressives felt as he did.

That the effort to stir up the old enthusiasm of Armaggedon to be a tremendous one is evidenced by the elaborate preparations to recall the fiery days of 1912 when the Roosevelt convention developed into one of the wars of politics. The old Florentine room in the Congress hotel where the party was born has been taken, and the attempt will be made to arouse all political passion that will make that day famous.

"T. R. or Hughes," was the toast expressed to-day. If they can't have the colonel the sentiment for the jurist is strong, in the hope that he can be supported by the Progressives despite his Republican affiliations. It is said that Colonel Roosevelt is far from antagonistic to Justice Hughes and that in the event that no one is found who can hope to lead the Progressives successfully, they can indorse Hughes. As for other Progressive candidates, outside of the colonel, "who else have we got," was the comment one heard.

ELMIRA CITIZENS AFTER SALOONS

Petitions Are Being Circulated Asking Legislature to Give Elmira Citizens Chance to Vote Out the Saloons.

A movement is being started by the anti-saloon forces to have the liquor question taken up in Elmira soon and brought to a vote to decide whether or not the city shall go "dry." These forces want Elmira to take the lead and be the first city in the state to be in the "dry" class. Petitions forwarding this movement will be circulated at the various churches to-morrow. These petitions will be circulated by the Women's Christian Temperance Union and allied forces, and the question will be presented from the pulpits of many of the churches.

The plan to be adopted by the anti-saloon forces is following out the suggestion offered by Governor Morton in 1896 when he signed the present excise bill which permitted a vote on license in villages. He added a memorandum which read.

"If the people in any city should desire an opportunity to vote upon this question, the legislature will doubtless accord it that right; and public opinion may soon warrant a general amendment to the bill, providing for local option in all cities. On principle, there seems to be no reason why local option should not be applied to cities as well as rural communities."

The petitions later will be filed with the mayor and Common Council, with the request that they petition the legislature for a special act to allow Elmira to take a vote on the license question. Those back of the fight in Elmira do not care to wait for the Anti-Saloon League forces to secure an optional prohibition measure for the entire state, and feel that their plan will be a short cut.

A LETTER FROM LEONARD RUSCITTI

Mr. H. Backus,

Dear Friend:

Just a few lines to wish you a happy New Year, and to all of my Andover friends. I am still at war and fighting hard every day, but we are gaining more and more every day. When I received a letter from my friend, Mr. Monte, last month, while fighting and I saw it was from Andover it made me feel like a new man and wish I was back in dear old Andover. I hope and wish that day will soon come again.

I am yours truly,
Soldoto Leonard Ruscitti

WORKING HARD TO ADVANCE ANDOVER

Rousing Big Meeting Thursday Night of the New Organization. Sixty-two Present. Eighteen New Members.

The January meeting of the organization nicknamed the "Busy Boosters Bunch" was held at I. O. O. F. Hall, Thursday evening of last week. Sixty-two of Andover's representative men—business men, professional men, farmers and factory men, were present.

The meeting was characterized by the spirit of good fellowship and the enthusiasm manifested at other times, and every one present has nothing but praise for the gathering.

After partaking of a sumptuous buffet luncheon prepared by the ladies of the Seventh-day Baptist church, and listening to several inspiring selections by the orchestra, President J. H. Faisant called the meeting to order, outlining in a very clever speech the work he believed the organization should preform at this meeting.

First—The election of a treasurer. Upon motion duly carried A. R. Baker was unanimously chosen treasurer of the association.

Second—Naming an executive committee. After a free discussion of the whole matter, explaining in detail what the duties of such an executive committee should be, James P. Cannon moved that the president appoint a committee to serve with him as an executive committee. The motion carried and the president appointed the officers of the association, J. H. Faisant, president; J. H. Backus, secretary, A. R. Baker, treasurer and E. J. Atwood. C. E. Brown, F. S. Potter and H. B. Williams.

Third—An entertainment committee.

The following gentlemen were chosen as an entertainment committee to have charge of arranging the programs for the association meetings etc: Dr. John Common, J. P. Cannon, Henry Stephens, L. C. Sterner, and F. L. Bloss.

Fourth—Naming the organization. After a full and free discussion as to a proper name for the new association it was decided that each member should bring in a written suggestion for a name at our next meeting, Feb. 3rd, and that the executive committee should then make a choice.

Fifth—Stationery for the use of the organization. This matter was referred to the executive committee, at such a time as the organization had decided upon a proper name.

Sixth—Finances. How to create funds for current expenses. A motion prevailed to make an assessment of ten cents a month per member, to care for these obligations. The collection was the made by the treasurer.

The secretary read an article from the Saturday Evening Post, telling how a club in Minneapolis did things for that city.

The president then announced the committee to arrange the refreshments for the next meeting, Feb. 3rd, as follows: W. S. Calhoun, E. B. Rollins and J. A. O'Leary.

The business left unfinished from previous meetings was then taken up.

The committee on electric lights through C. M. Lash and Frank Raufenbarth submitted correspondence they had received regarding installing electric lights in Andover, which was read by the secretary. The matter was referred to the executive committee.

The committee (appointed to take complaints to the Public Service Commission in regard to Erie Railroad matters, submitted correspondence from Superintendent G. J. June, of the Erie Railroad Company. The secretary read the correspondence and the matter was referred back to the committee for further precedure.

The committee on laundry reported that they had placed an advertisement in the Elmira Telegram and had received three replys which the secretary read After remarks by Henry Garvin, chairman of the committee, T. R. Bassett and others, the whole matter was referred to the executive committee.

The committee on distribution of bills by outside firms made a partial report and the subject was referred back to them for further investigation and report at the next meeting.

An opportunity was given for those present who were not members to join the association. The following gentlement availed themselves of the opportunity:

President Faisant called the secretary to the chair and moved that our next meeting, Feb. 3rd, be called "William Night," and that Rev. H. B. Wiliams be requested to give his "Community Lecture" to the association, as a part of the program, and that the matter be left entirely with the entertainment committee to complete arrangements

The question of a fire alarm adequate for the needs of Andover was brought up. F. J. Raufenbarth, Fire Chief, informed the association that steps were now being taken by the proper officers to procure such. The question was therefore dismissed.

The subject of how to dispose of garbage was raised and A. Monte, T. J. Gilbert and H. C. Snyder were appointed a committee to look into the matter and report.

Inadequate telephone for foreign communication was discussed and the president appointed as a committee to take the matter up and see what could be done about it and report the following gentlemen: R. E. Temple, V. L. Eggleston and Dr. C. W O'Donnell.

W. S. Calhoun brought to the attention of the meeting the matter of credits. The president appointed the following committee to take the subject under consideration: W. S. Calhoun, Jas. P. Cannon, F. J. Raufenbarth, F. W. Burrows and J. H. Backus.

The meeting then adjourned.

LEAP YEAR PARTY

Girls Club of Andover Will Give Another Swell Party

The young gentlemen in Andover are becoming anxious to know where the lightning will strike and whether they are to receive bids from their lady friends or not, to attend the Girls' Club Leap Year Party, Thursday evening, Jan. 20th.

Four years ago the girls—some of them the same old girls—gave what is considered the "swellest" party ever pulled off in town. But they are still in the market, and their efforts will undoubtedly be more ardent than on former occasions for, you know, four years on an old girl's age brings her close to the "forgotten blessing" mark, and they will not want to wait for another opportunity.

Keatings Orchestra will furnish the inspiration and the "girls" will only have to pay $1.50 per couple.

Dancing at 8:30 sharp.

Spectators 10c.

A BLUNDER

It seems that others beside newspaper people make blunders. The carelessness of a state official in footing the budget for 1916, cause a shortage of County funds, and will probably necessitate Allegany County borrowing $10,000 some time during the coming year.

Someone of to-day's ads touches your self-interest, so unmistakably that it comes to have especial value for you.

SUPREME COURT IN SESSION

The Following Account of Supreme Court Proceedings is From the Belmont Dispatch—Judge Brown Presiding.

The January session of Supreme Court opened Monday afternoon at two o'clock, with Hon. Charles H. Brown presiding.

District Attorney James T. Ward had several cases ready for the Grand Jury and with Milo B. Greene of Alfred, as foreman the jury accomplished considerable work during the two days and a half they were in session.

The following indictments were found and the several prisoners are expected to plead some time this morning:

Samuel Rumsey, of Olean, was indicted for illegal voting at Cuba last November.

Howarad Moore, of Friendship was indicted for forgery in the 2nd degree. Moore forged L. G. Arnold's name to $9.45 check and passed it at 1st National Bank of Wellsville, Dec. 13, 1913. Moore's whereabouts have been unknown till he lately appeared at Friendship and was picked up.

Frank Barrett, indicted for 2nd degree forgery for forging a Shinglehouse man's name to a $15.00 check and passing same at the 1st Natitonal Bank at Shinglehouse, Pa. Barrett hails from Bolivar.

Jack Taylor of Buffalo, was indicted for Grand Larceny for the theft of a horse from the Morgan livery at Wellsville last October.

Jack Wheeler of Fillmore, indicted for burglary in the third degree for breaking into the commissary of a state road contractor and purloining $43.00 in money.

Sam Stebbins of Wellsville, indicted for keeping a room for gambling purposes and being a common gambler himself.

Aaron Peterson of Wellsville for procuring and abetting an illegal registration at Wellsville last Fall.

Clifford Wright of Wellsville, indicted for an illegal registration at Wellsville.

The first case moved for trial before Judge Brown was calendared as No. 13, Fern Allen and Rosen Allen vs. L. H. Litchard. The plaintiffs presented their case and rested and deft. did not put in any answer and tried for a non-suit, Judge denied same and directed a verdict, saying that the plffs, are the owners as tenants in common of one undivided third of the premises described in the complaint.

The second case tried was a divorce case from Andover. Hammond vs. Hammond. Five witnesses were sworn by plff. and deft. did not appear. Jury was waved and the judge directed plff's, attorney to prepare his findings and he would sign them, granting an interlocutory decree.

Next case, a divorce case not calendared, Pickens vs. Pickens of Wellsville. Judge held up case claiming that no evidence had been introduced to show that the summons and complaint had been served on right woman.

Next case was No. 11, Levi Bartlett vs. Town of Rushford, suing for loss of services of wife. Bartlett beat the town last year in a damage suit. Case lasted the best part of two days and jury found a verdict of $500 in favor of plaintiff.

Case No. 5.—The Drake Hardware Co. vs. Peter Killian and Mary Killian. Seven witnesses sworn by plff. Judge directed verdict of $89.29 and cost.

Case No. 19 was next tried—Tracy vs. Parker, suit over dividing line between two farms located at Tucker's Corners near Belmont.

FALSE REPORT ARRESTED

There is Not and Has Not Been Diptheria in Andover

A week or so ago a lady from Hornell, where diptheria has been somewhat prevalent this winter, came to Andover on a visit and was taken with a sore throat. A physician was called, and after proper treatment, she was sent back to Hornell, where it is reported she had diptheria. But none of those whom she saw in Andover have shown any signs of the disease, and will not now, from that source.

It was currently reported on our streets the first of the week that diptheria was showing itself in Andover. Such is not the case.

The News took particular pains to find the source of the rumor, and after interviews with the Village Health Officer, Dr. E. J. Loughlen and several of Andover's physicians can state with authority that there is not a case of diptheria in Andover, and that at this writing there is not even a symptom of it existing that has come to the attention of Andover doctors.

ENOS—JONES

The marriage of Miss Florence Enos, of Hornell and Winfred Jones, formerly of this village, now of Hornell, was solemnized Wednesday evening, at the First Baptist church parsonage at Hornell. The ceremony was performed by the pastor, the Rev. S. B. Crandall. Both are among Hornell's most popular young people and have the best wishes of a host of friends. The bride is a former Corning girl, but has made her home in Hornell for about three years. The groom is a valued employee of the Erie Railroad. They will be at home to friends, at 103 Maple street, after a brief honeymoon.

NOTICE

On account of illness the meeting of Edward Seaman Relief Corps will be postponed one week until Saturday night, Jan. 22nd.

By Order of Senior Vice.
