AUDITORIUM
SATURDAY EVENING

The picturization of the tense and emotional drama, "The Moth and the Flame," by Clyde Fitch, which will be exhibited at the Auditorium, Saturday evening, presents with all the realism of life itself the dominant elements of that great stage success. The poor little moth is blinded by the flame, until she cannot see the fatal perils threatening her. Just on the verge of her great error, her vision returns, and with the resultant extinguishment of the flame, the moth sees her danger, in heart, but with her soul rescued from the devouring fire.

FINE ENTERTAINMENT

The Ladies Quartette, from the Ithaca Conservatory of Music, gave an entertainment at the Baptist church, last Saturday evening under the auspices of the Baraca Class, which was said by all to be one of the best ever given in Andover.

Miss Grace Randall, the reader, was up to her usual form, if not better, showing much progress in her role. There are few better than she.

Miss Martha Webb, the soprano, won everybody by her sweet voice and splendid power of expression.

Miss Gladys Mason, violinist, was far beyond the average in her line, and has a bright future before her on her chosen instrument.

Miss Price, pianist, gave evidence of much skill in her manipulation of most dificult numbers.

All the company were greeted with applause and had to respond to encores after every number.

They gave a sacred concert in the church on Sunday evening, before a capacity house, and a return date will be looked forward to with pleasurable anticipation.

ELSIE JANIS AT THE AUDITORIUM NEXT WEDNESDAY EVENING

"Can she dance? She makes Pavlowa look like a street car."

Thus Maizie Follette boosts Betty to the stage manager when the masquerading little society girl applies for a place in the chorus at the famous Gaiety Theatre in the course of "Betty in Search of a Thrill."

Inosmuch as Betty is played by no less a celebrity than the famous Elsie Janis the subsequent tryout of the applicant dancer provides probably the most graceful exhibition of stage dancing ever caught by the moving picture camera. With her panther-like grace; with the exquisite wand-like weaving of her slim limbs, swirling her long, flowing skirt in graceful folds; and with her stunning knifelike hand-string at the end—Elise Janis more than lives up to her reputation as one of the few really great dancers on the stage.

Bosworth, incorporated have not stinted "Betty in Search of a Thrill," and the settings have the elaborateness which Paramount program patrons have the right to expect.

Have You Dyspepsia, Indigestion or any form of Stomach Trouble?

These disorders are cured by a subluxated vertebra pinching slightly the nerves leading to the stomach, thus cutting off part of the nerve force (life) to the stomach. As a result the stomach is unable to do its work properly. Chiropractic adjustments will remove the cause of these ailments.

A. DOLSON DIES IN BUFFALO

Was Once Former Andover Attorney. The Close of an Active and Successful Career Was Buried in Bath.

Word has been received of the death of Attorney Charles A. Dolson of the best known members of the legal profession in the land of the state, at his home in Buffalo, Monday morning after an attack of pneumonia. Dolson was formerly a resident of this village, where he followed his profession for years. He was born in Bath, in 1851. His father was Dr. J. S. Dolson.

At the close of his school life he entered the profession of law and his admission to the bar he settled at Andover, N. Y., where he established himself as one of the strongest trial lawyers in Allegany County. He soon after formed a partnership with Hon. D. P. Richardson of Andover who like himself was one of the leading lawyers in the county.

The firm continued for about four years having been engaged in some of the most important litigations of the time. In 1875 Mr. Dolson desiring a larger field removed to Elmira, where he soon took to the front and became one of the leading members of the bar in that city. Upon leaving Andover he returned to Andover where he devoted a large part of his time to his large stock farm.

Devoted to his friends, however, he drifted back into the practice of law, and it was at this time that his abilities as a trial lawyer became so widely known. In 1888, upon the death of Hon. Horace Bemis, one of Wellsville's leading lawyers, he moved to that city and formed a partnership with Hon. George Tuttle, the firm bearing the name of Dolson & Orcutt. This firm, known to the present day, was one of the strongest law firms in the country, having in it one of the strongest and most sought after in the profession.

The partnership was dissolved by mutual consent and for a short time Mr. Dolson practiced alone. Shortly after, however, his brother, Mr. J. S. Dolson associated with him and about fifteen years ago, desiring a larger field, moved to Buffalo.

Following his residence in Buffalo, Mr. Dolson has been Deputy Attorney-General of the State and for years was a criminal lawyer of note in Buffalo, although he took a very active interest in politics.

The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon.

CONFERRING SUFFRAGE

The men of Iowa spend thousands of dollars each year for improper purposes which they never appropriate a cent for that for child welfare, though the women of Iowa have pleaded for it, says Professor Starbuck of Iowa City, and he added, "The chance of getting out of the vicious circle of Despond is to let the women of the state have the ballot."

The time comes the election at which the men of Iowa will decide the question.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

At the Morning Hour the sermon will be the interpretation of a Suggestion of Atonement for the King's Feast. A beautiful passage from the Proverbs furnished the key.

At the Evening Hour in accordance with a request that on the 23rd be made "Child Labor Day" on which day all over the United States ministers will speak on this important matter, Mr. Williams will give a short address along this line.

BLANCHE SWEET

To Appear in Margaret Tumell's Emotional Drama of Justice and Romance "Stolen Goods," Wednesday Evening.

In "Stolen Goods" Margery Hunting, a poor girl working in a dressmaking establishment, is sent to match some samples at a store. While she is standing at a counter Helen North, a rich girl kleptomaniac, steals a piece of lace, and noticing that it is missed, saves herself by thrusting it into Margery's open bag. Thus Margery goes to prison for a crime which she did not commit. When Margery leaves prison she becomes a trained nurse, but her "prison record" is discovered and she feels that her best field for work is in the Belgian hospitals under the red cross. There she again meets Helen, who has lost all her money but who has received a ticket to America and some cash from a friend to whom her father wrote before his death. Helen is apparently killed by a shell, and Margery determines to go to America under the name of the woman who caused all her misery. Helen is not really slain, and when she seeks to claim her own the drama developes to a most unexpected climax.

Blanche Sweet plays the role of Margery and House Peters is the red cross surgeon who loves her and remains true under all conditions.

DEVASTATING FIRE AT GALETON

One Third of the Business Section of That Thrifty Burg Goes Up in Smoke Wednesday Morning.

Galeton, Pa., Jan. 19. — Fire, which is supposed to have started in the basement of the Stero-Bargus Clothing Co., at two o'clock this morning, swept away about a third of the business section of this village, before it could be checked.

Among the most important buildings burned were the Grand Central Hotel, the First National Bank, the plant of the Galeton Leader-Dispatch, all the business places down to Bridge street, including two churches and many private homes. The loss cannot be estimated at this time with any degree of accuracy, but it is stated that it will run into several hundred thousands of dollars.

The village has two hose companies, but they were inadequate to cope with the situation, and the flames spread with amazing rapidity. The village to-day is practically paralyzed by the fire and it will be many months before business resumes.

The village is the home of the Buffalo & Susquehanna Railroad car shops and fire fighting apparatus of the railroad company was pressed into service, and every effort made to confine the flames to the buildings adjoining those in which the fire started. At Bridge street the space between the buildings enabled the firemen to hold the flames in check and the fire was stopped at that point.

The ruins are smouldering yet this morning, but nevertheless plans are already under way, looking towards the rebuilding of many of the business places. The Leader-Dispatch is the only paper in the place, and it is expected that machinery will be rushed to the scene and the regular edition issued this week.

The fire is the most disastrous one that ever visited the village, which is one of the most thriving and prosperous in that section of Pennsylvania. Many people are rendered homeless.

ARE HOLDING REVIVAL SERVICES

Pastor Chas. Collins of the M. E. Church in the Midst of Evangelistic Services at Local Church.

The revival meetings in the Methodist church are gaining in interest and power daily. These services are splendid examples of modern sane pastoral evangelism in which the pastor gathers his flock about him and for a season intercedes with God for the purifying and empowering of the church, and then in public protracted meetings devoid of sensationalism on the one hand and of rant and cant on the other hand, preaches the gospel of sin and salvation and with solemn urgency seeks to bring the unchurched and the unreligious into a covenant relation with God.

REV. CHAS. COLLINS
Pastor Andover M. E. Church

The services thus far have been well attended, both afternoon and evening, and many have been greatly helped and blessed. The fine singing of Mr. and Mrs. Scott, who are here to furnish special music during the meetings, is much appreciated and the work of the large chorus choir under their leadership has been a pleasant feature.

Next Sunday will be a big day. The pastor will preach evangelistic sermons at both services. At 10:30 the subject will be "Watching on the Tower," in which the breathing of the Holy Spirit upon the dry bones in Ezekiel's Valley of vision is graphically described. A sermon to stir, hearten and arouse christian workers.

In the evening the subject will be "Wilt Thou Be Made Whole?" showing how no case of evil heart or moral disability is too hard for Christ to heal. Just the plain unvarnished gospel which is mighty to save. The musical program will be very full and varied at all services and the Sunday evening song service beginning at 7:30 will be especially enjoyable.

On Tuesday evening of next week the District Superintendent of the M. E. church will be present and preach, Dr. Horace A. Crane is a preacher of power and ability and his presence will be an additional inspiration. Everybody is welcome and will be made to feel that they are welcome at these services.

The meetings continue all next week.

GERMANS WANT CANADA

Would Pour in From U. S. If Teutons Gained Seas, Says Senator.

Ottawa, Ont., Jan. 18. — James Lougheed, government leader in the Senate, declared in a speech in the upper house of parliament to-day that Germany was known to desire possession of Canada as a prize of war should be victorious in the present conflict. Some Canadians, he said, could not ye realize that Canada was in as great jeopardy as Great Britain or any of her allies.

Senator Lougheed asserted that German spies had compiled and filed in the archives of their government more complete information on the natural and developed resources of Canada than was possessed even by the Dominion government. He expressed the belief that Germans living in the United States would be glad to aid in the capture of Canada.

If the allies' lines were broken and an avenue opened up on the seas, the speaker prophesied, German troops would be landed upon the shores of Canada and the dominion's southern boundary would be crossed by reservists living in the United States. To prevent such a contingency, he said, Canadians should exert themselves to the utmost to aid Great Britain.

ROOSA TRIES TO BREAK JAIL

Canisteo Man Had Plans Well Made Trusty Declares But They Didn't Work Well

Bath, Jan. 18. Frank Roosa of Canisteo, who is held in the county jail here waiting trial on an indictment accusing him of forgery in the second degree, has been planning to make his escape according to a story told by a trusty to the turnkey of the jail.

The trusty revealed the fact that Roosa has been systematically taking pepper from the table at meal time, having in mind, the trusty says, the throwing of the burning spice in the eyes of the guard, and then while he was blinded, making a get-away.

An immediate search was made of the cell occupied by Roosa and a flatiron was found wrapped in cloth, which could have been used most effectively as a weapon. This was of course removed from the cell.

Roosa denies that he had planned to make his escape which would have been impossible, had he been able to blind the guard, for the reason that when he enters the room in which are the cages the guard is locked in with the prisoners, and he does not have the key on his person.

Hereafter Roosa will be watched closely until the time of his trial which will be held in February. — Tuesday's Hornell Tribune.

BOY SWALLOWS WHITE ARSENIC

Canisteo, Jan. 18. — Carlton White, 19 years old of Troupsburg, well known in this village swallowed a quantity of white arsenic at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred White, at 5 o'clock Sunday night, and died within the hour.

The young man had had much trouble the last year and had become despondent. The poison was in the home for use in poisoning rats and young White took this method of ending his life. He had been convicted or criminal assault on a young woman and was paroled with orders to report to a county officer weekly, as well as pay $100 a year which he must earn himself. About Thanksgiving time White was driving an automobile near Knoxville when he ran into an undertaking rig. For this offense he was fined $20 and also paid $7 costs.

The young man is survived by his parents, his father being a well known Troupsburg farmer, and by two younger brothers.

CONVENTION OF DAIRY STUDENTS

Annual Meeting on Thursday, Feb. 10, at Cornell University, Ithaca. Dr. L. L. Van Slyke and Stephen Francisco speak.

The Cornell dairy students' association will hold its annual meeting on Thursday, February 10, in connection with the ninth annual farmers' week at Ithaca, according to an announcement from Cornell. For the purpose of helping those students who have taken up practical work in making butter and cheese, and in handling market milk problems, and to aid the dairymen of the state both in factories and farm dairies in these respects, the dairy experts at the college of agriculture have planned a number of addresses and demonstrations covering the various phases of this work.

It is expected that Stephen Francisco, of Montclair, New Jersey, who is widely known as a pioneer in the certified milk business, will speak on that branch of dairying, illustrating his remarks with lantern slides showing the methods used in the production and handling of certified milk on his own farms. In view of the fact that commercial dairies are now using butter fat content as a basis for fixing the value of commercial milk, a lecture on this subject by Dr. L. L. Van Slyke, chief chemist of the Geneva experiment station, has been made a feature of the meeting.

Lectures on the disposal of creamery sewage, and on the purposes and aims of the association are also included. It is announced that exhibits and demonstrations in the handling of milk and the manufacturing of dairy products will be given during the week and that judging contests in butter, cheese, and market milk, with first and second prizes to be given in each, will be held.
