CENTENNIAL OF THE LOCOMOTIVE

The centennial history (1815-1915) of the locomotive is the history of the railroad in the United States, and the story of the American railroad is summed up in the extreme between the "Stourbridge Lion," built in England, and the "Matt H. Shay," now in service on the Erie Railroad. The "Stourbridge Lion" was put into operation on the Delaware & Hudson Canal Company's Railroad in 1829 by Horatio Allen, who later became President of the Erie. The "Lion" looked neither like a lion nor any other animal, although it was called an "iron horse." Beside the "Shay" it was a crude [illegible] capable of hauling [illegible] three cars, while the "Shay," the largest locomotive in the world—is 105 feet in length, weighs 853,050 pounds and can haul a train 4½ miles in length.

The Erie is using this great machine every day in pusher service between Deposit, N. Y., and Susquehanna, Pa., and its work is so satisfactory that the company has ordered three more of the same type, which is called the triplex or "Centipede," the latter for the reason that it has twenty-four drive wheels, giving it a tractive power of 160,000 pounds, and in a larger way resembling the venomous reptile of southwestern North America. The Erie has also ordered 30 other large locomotives of another class to be delivered this winter.

NEW BUFFALO TRAIN

Erie Will Run an Early Acommodation to Buffalo, Leaving Hornell at 8:40 A. M.

Another adjustment of the Buffalo service for the towns of Allegany County on the Erie Railroad has been provided by the Commission. This has been the subject of several orders following the taking off of two passenger trains by the Erie some months ago. For some time past the Erie, under an order of the Commission has been supplying this local service by stopping its fast through train, No. 5 at Canaseraga and Portage. The road finds that on account of the early hour at which this train has been stopped it has had no patronage, and by stopping has risked important mail and passenger connectitons for the West at Buffalo. The road has now asked and the Commission has permitted it to eliminate these stops by train No. 5, and to put on a local train leaving Hornell at 8:40 a. m., and making all the local stops between Hornell and Castile for which service was asked in the original complaint, and reaching Buffalo at 11:30 a. m. The Commission believes that this will afford the most satisfactory service for the complaints than any of the plans which have so far been tried.

A GREAT FAIR IS NOW PROJECTED

In Order to Raise Funds to Better Amusement Features of Andover, Committee Decides on Fair for Last of April.

The committee of the Community Co-operative Club, having in charge Andover's entertainment, are making arrangements to hold a fair the last of April for the purpose of raising funds.

This committee has a great amount of work under consideration the coming spring, which it is absolutely necessary to raise funds for if done.

They plan to fix up the park so as to make it a suitable place for picnic parties, family reunions, or in other words a park instead of a wood-lot.

The athletic field also must have quite extensive repairs in order to provide suitable grounds for the young people to play base ball, lawn tennis, foot ball and other games.

A large amount of money can be used very advantageously in the interests of the right entertainment of Andover people in various lines, and a fair seems the most feisable manner of raising the money.

Old men, bachelors, young men and boys and ladies, single and married and widows, and old maids are all earnestly requested to lend a hand and help this most worthy object.

The committee organized by electing P. C. Berkwater chairman, A. R. Baker, treasurer, and J. H. Backus, secretary. The following committees were appointed.

Advertising

J. P. Cannon, H. C. Snyder and J. Harvey Backus.

Soliciting

A. R. Baker, E. J. Atwood, P. C. Berkwater, T. J. Gilbert, L. C. Sterner, Geo. Barrett, Howard Inskip and Ralph Temple. The committee itself being given authority to add to the membership as they deem best.

Music

F. L. Bloss, Jas. P. Cannon.

Entertainments

Dr. John Common, L. I. Bloss, and Leo Raufenbarth.

Other committees will be appointed later.

REBEKAHS ENTERTAIN SISTER LODGE

By invitation of Andover Rebekah Lodge 303 about fifty members from Wellsville Lodge were entertained at the regular meeting Wednesday night. The initiatory degree was conferred upon a class of two. Mrs. Minnie Leonard of Hornell, Vice President of State Assembly, was also present. At the close of the business meeting luncheon was served to nearly two hundred, members of the home lodge and guests.

The work of the degree team, under the training of Park Rogers as Degree Master, was beautiful and proved that ladies can be as adept in Military movements as gentlemen. They were given much praise for the faultless manner in which they executed the difficult movements and figures.

$ DAY SATURDAY, MARCH 4. "CHILD OF THE ATTIC" SCORES A SUCCESS

The production of the "Child of the Attic" by local talent under the auspices of the Lady of the Club, Tuesday night, played to a good house. The play was staged under personal direction of Miss Christine Lewis of Belmont and was a success both as an entertainment and financially.

The cast and specialties numbered about sixty, making it impossible to give personal mention of all those appearing. The leading characters were well taken, both by those of mature years and experience, as well as the younger ones who made their debut before the footlights in which the stage training of Miss Lewis was [illegible]

$ Dollar Day $

Like a great many other fads, Dollar Day is receiving a great amount of attention now-a-days.

Pick up most any daily paper and you will find that they are being successfully conducted all over the country, to the great advantage of the purchasing public. People wait for them, and profit greatly by so doing.

The idea is to make a group or collection of goods and price the combination for only one dollar. Most every old thing is cut to a dollar on Dollar Day. Usually the merchants in a town vie with each other to see which can offer the best bargains in their line for a dollar, for one day only.

In this way the purchasers have the opportunity to make money by saving it, which the old addage claims is worth two.

Andover merchants have never tried the Dollar Day scheme until now, when two of our enterprising merchants, A. M. Burrows' Sons and Cannon Brothers, are advertising Dollar Day at their stores Saturday of this week March 4th.

Andover buyers should welcome this opportunity as it will be one of the big events of the year, and if their efforts to please the public are appreciated and patronized as they should be, other just such great bargain days are sure to follow. Help yourself by helping Dollar Day.

Money is scarce this year on account of the failure of certain crops last year and it effects us all, it is therefore up to every one to make every cent go just as far as it is possible, and a liberal patronage of Dollar Day will save you many a nickle. Get out next Saturday and help boom Andover's first effort to inaugerate Dollar Day.

If the idea of Dollar Day appeals to the purchasing public in this vicinity, there will certainly be others. Show your appreciation of their efforts by a liberal patronage.

In other columns of this issue of the News the two stores enterprising enough to offer this great advantage to Andover people to save money have large display advertisements showing some of the greatest bargains ever attempted in this village. Read them over, and you will be in Andover bright and early Saturday to pick off some of the bargains offered.

Saturday, March 4th, at Andover, is the time and place to make money, by taking advantage of this opportunity to save dollars.

Be on hand ready to get your share of these great bargains.

ANOTHER PLEASANT EVENING

When Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Proper returned to their home Monday evening, after attending a meeting of the Eastern Star Chapter, they found the house filled with "Stars" in nearly every hiding place. The evening was spent in games, music and a social good time. Refreshments were served. All returned to their homes wishing that they might have "Star-light" evenings very often.

SLEIGHING PARTY AND CLUB MEETING

The Lucy Stone Club enjoyed a sleigh-ride Friday afternoon to the hospitable farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Eggert. Following the regular business meeting a tureen luncheon was served. The long tables laden with tempting food was made most attractive by a large suffrage cake baked by the hostess. The delicious confection was in yellow and white, the Club colors, and decorated with a green wreath, and we believe would have won the admiration of an "anti."

Presbyterian Church Sunday, March 5th

At the Morning Meeting a sermon upon "Out-of-Town" avenues of the church will be given.

At the Federated Meeting the topic will be "Who is a Christian?" a sermon of human lives. Very different.

But the main thing to be considered is that Religion is the big asset of life and community.

Religion is to the character what culture is to the mind. Religion means the Biggest Life. That is demonstrably true. Why not experiment?

Strike a trail!

Anywhere.
