12 YEARS AGO TO-DAY

THE NEW YORK SUBWAY WAS OPENED TO THE PUBLIC.

The avenues of approach to the business and financial sections of Manhattan Island had become so congested with the ever increasing population of Greater New York that the building of this underground railway became a necessity. The cost of its construction was enormous, yet some men had to save and accumulate money to make such a project a possibility.

Do likewise, save that in time you can take some part in the betterment of your town's condition.

PAULINE FREDERICK SURPASES HERSELF

Gives Great Characterizations in Famous Players "The Spider" Auditorium, Wednesday Evening.

It is no violation of screen secrets to tell the fact that the scenes in the Famous Players production, "The Spider," in which Pauline Frederick is starred were not taken in the sequence in which they appear in the play. Nor is it an aspersion upon the superb ability of Miss Frederick to say that the photographic arrangement was due to the star's own request.

The solution of the fact lies in Miss Frederick's playing two totally different roles in the production, the one a Parisian beauty the other her little daughter. So great is the sincerity and the power which Miss Frederick puts into her acting, and so lasting is the spell of her own imagination upon the star that, when she worked herself up to the psychological point at which she portrays the heart-sore woman it is hours before she can assume the happy, light-hearted, ingenuousness of the younger and less sophisticated girl.

A PROGRESSIVE FAMILY NEWSPAPER, FOR ALLEGANY COUNTY PEOPLE, IN POLITICS INDEPENDENT, BUT NEVER NEUTRAL

VOL. NO. 44. FOR WEEK ENDING OCTOBER 3, 1916. TERMS $1.50 the Year Five Cents

Progressive Policies Enacted Into Law

Wilson and the Democratic Party Have Made Better Record for Progressive Legislation Than Could Have Been Possible Had the Progressive Party Been Successful in 1912.

Theodore Roosevelt characterized the Progressive platform of 1912 as the greatest political document written since the days of Abraham Lincoln.

The Progressives who agreed with him in that characterization have difficulty in voting against Woodrow Wilson; just as they will have difficulty in voting for Mr. Hughes, who has opposed all of those principles.

If the Progressive party had won in 1912, if it had elected the President and gained control of both houses of Congress, would it have been justified in going before the country for an endorsement and have been able to say: "Here is the platform we adopted in 1912. Here is the record of our performance in obtaining our promises, and here is the legislation and administrative work we have done, which redeems ninety percent of our platform promises?"

Could not every Progressive proudly demand the recognition and reward of such a work of performance

The Progressives did not win in 1912, but the Democrats did. And not only have they carried out the pledges of their own platform but they have done something more of great interest to the Progressive. THEY HAVE CARRIED OUT MOST OF THE PLEDGES OF THE PROGRESSIVE PLATFORM AS WELL.

The Progressives demanded the downward revision of the tariff, the Aldrich tariff act, and the establishment of a non-partisan tariff commission. THE DEMOCRATS HAVE GIVEN THEM WHAT THEY WANTED.

The Progressives demanded the defeat of the Aldrich currency bill and the establishment of a new currency system under government control. THE DEMOCRATS HAVE GIVEN THEM WHAT THEY WANTED.

The Progressives demanded the creation of a Federal Trade Commission; AND THE DEMOCRATS HAVE GIVEN IT TO THEM.

The Progressives demanded that the Interstate Commerce Commission be given the power to examine the physical property of railroads and that the Commerce Court be abolished. THE DEMOCRATS HAVE DONE BOTH THINGS.

The Progressives demanded an income tax. THE DEMOCRATS HAVE GIVEN THEM AN INCOME TAX.

The Progressives demanded an inheritance tax, and the DEMOCRATS, IN THE REVENUE BILL, ESTABLISHED AN INHERITANCE TAX.

The Progressives demanded the construction of a government-owned railroad in Alaska, AND THE DEMOCRATS ARE BUILDING IT.

The Progressives demanded Federal aid for the building of roads. PRESIDENT WILSON HAS SIGNED A LAW FOR THAT PURPOSE PASSED BY A DEMOCRATIC CONGRESS.

The Progressives demanded a stronger anti-trust law and Federal regulation of interstate corporations. THE WILSON ADMINISTRATION HAS CARRIED OUT THIS PROGRESSIVE DEMAND.

The business interests of the country will testify that the Wilson going platform of the Department of Commerce of the Wilson administration carries out in great detail and with marked ability the following Progressive demand: "The time has come when the Federal government should co-operate with manufacturers and producers in extending our foreign commerce. To this end we demand adequate appropriations by Congress and its appointment of diplomatic and consular officers solely with a view to special fitness."

The Progressive program of two battleships a year, the DEMOCRATIC NAVAL MEASURE LARGELY EXPANDS.

Finally, the Progressives of 1912, in protest against the "barbarism of warfare among nations," favored an international court as a peaceful means of settling international differences. In 1916 they have the opportunity to support Woodrow Wilson in his program to carry that Progressive thought into action in the interests of humanity around the world.

In short, approximately 90 per cent. of the Progressive program of 1912, President Wilson's administration and a Democratic Congress have completed or are now hastening toward completion. Against this progressive record of Woodrow Wilson, there are six years of silence on public questions in the case of the Republican nominee, ex-Justice Hughes.

When Mr. Hughes stumped for President Taft in the 1908 campaign, he attacked many of the Progressive ideas—such as the income tax, initiative and referendum, public ownership, etc., as the quack nostrums of "Dr. Bryan."

As governor Mr. Hughes disclaimed against the income tax and vetoed the 2-cent fare bill.

As candidate for president his campaign was worked up by the standpat element of the Republican party, and those who formed at the 1912 Progressive policies of the Progressive party, Frank Hitchcock, Taft's postmaster general, was active field manager, and Wickersham, Taft's attorney general, is to-day the principal advisor of Candidate Hughes.

All that is known of Candidate Hughes, therefore, stamps him as a standpatter and opposed in the main to Progressive principles. While the Wilson program has been a Democratic-Progressive program throughout.

When this record is studied in the clear light of disinterested devotion to the future of the Republic, what Progressive who believes in the platform of 1912 can now repudiate the administration of Woodrow Wilson, who, although not a candidate upon that platform, has translated it into the law of the land?

Democratic Rally

AUDITORIUM, Andover, N. Y.

Saturday Evening, EIGHT O'CLOCK NOV. 4

SPEAKERS:

HON. W. F. STARR
OF NEW YORK CITY

REV. L. H. BUISCH
OF WELLSVILLE, N. Y.

All of these gentlemen are men of ability and power as orators, and will present the issues of this campaign in a forceful and pleasing manner.

Do not fail to attend. Miss Hearing Them. They are the very best type of American manhood.

Watch Out for Roorbacks!

With this issue of The News the last Democratic paper for the campaign in Allegany County will have been published--unless our political opponents make necessary a special edition of The News by springing a last minute roorback

Therefore pay no attention to anything sprung at the last moment to try to influence your vote. Remember that if there was any truthful argument to be advanced it would have been issued before now, when the other side would have had an opportunity to answer it.

You cannot find a single instance, while President Wilson was governor of this state or since he has been president, where he opposed a single measure that was in the interest of the common people, and you cannot find one that Mr. Hughes failed to veto when governor that was for the working people. It is just as impossible for Hughes to be for the people as a whole as it is for President Wilson to be against them.
