

Rockwell Bros.

Our store is fast filling up with new spring goods. We are taxed to find place for everything.

Not the least among the many present attractions is our cloak department. Old things have passed away. New ones have taken their place.

Butterfly Capes with ruffled collars. Plain and fancy Jackets $2.75 each and upwards. Three piece cape effects, plaited and strap backs, full sleeves with leather trimmed cuffs.

Also the Columbus Jacket, Navy, Myrtle and Tan shades. Velvet Zouaves with iridescent trimmings.

Children's Jacket $1.25, $1.50 and $2 each.

Ladies' police cape Mackintoshes $3.75, $6 and $10 each. New, fresh, guaranteed goods.

As house cleaning time approaches, please remember we are in a position to supply every want in the line of Carpetings, Oil Cloths, Matting, Lace Curtains and Draperies. Big display of these goods and a saving of about 10 per cent.

Spring shades in Serges, whipcord Bengalines and Poplins. Also the best values in medium and low priced dress goods.

Look out for our Millinery Announcement.

THE ANDOVER NEWS.

At a meeting of the Allegany County Publishers' Association, held at Bolivar, April 29, 1892, the following rules were unanimously adopted to take effect the week beginning May 9, 1892:

RULE 1.—That not less than 5 cents per line be charged for resolutions of respect, and local notices of entertainments from which revenue is to be derived.

RULE 2.—Cards of thanks to be charged $1.

RULE 3.—Obituary notices, except such as are published as a matter of news, and lists of wedding presents to be charged for at not less than 5 cents per line.

Mrs. W. W. Miller visited in Wellsville Tuesday.

Mrs. Joanna Corts visited friends in this place last week.

W. C. T. U. column, correspondence, etc., on eighth page.

Mr. R. A. Pease is able to be out again, after a long illness.

Emma Conn returned Saturday from a three weeks' visit in Buffalo, Gowanda and Dunkirk.

The annual New England supper will occur the first week in April. Further particulars next week.

Misses Emma Kortz, Lotta Lee, Verda Bartholomew, Linda Mead, Edith Marshall, Frances Arnold, and Messrs. Guy Wood, and Fred Fassett of Wellsville, attended a party at Sidney Green's Friday evening.

There is something new under the sun. It is E. Smith & Co's. egg lemonade, the finest drink ever served. Stop into the bakery and try a glass. It is a ten cent drink and they sell it for five cents.

Attorney Geo. H. Blackman of Wellsville was in town Monday.

Mr. Alonzo Slocum has moved to Spring Mills, with his family. They left the latter part of last week.

Mr. J. A. Robinson is enlarging his residence on Greenwood street, by raising the rear portion to two stories, and making other improvements.

Miss Agnes Miller of West Greenwood returned last Thursday from Angelica, where she has been for some time with her brother, Rev. James A. Miller.

Last week's issue of the Cuba Patriot was a souvenir number of 12 pages, containing a large amount of interesting matter, well gotten up and handsomely printed.

A few days ago a building in Alfred Centre, known as the Satterlee Block, owned by O. E. Vars of Andover, was burned. It is understood the loss was nearly covered by insurance.

Mr. J. C. Ross leaves to-day for LeRoy to settle up his affairs there and remove his family to Andover. He will be absent about a week. In the meantime the store is running as usual.

Alvin Richardson and wife of Friendship, Wm. J. Richardson and wife of Belmont, Walter G. Richardson and wife and Floyd Richardson and wife of Richburg, visited at J. W. Richardson's Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Robinson were called to West Almond last week on account of the serious illness of Mrs. Robinson's mother, Mrs. G. W. Watson. Mr. Robinson returned Monday, his wife remaining at the bedside of her mother, whose condition is critical.

The Allegany County Editors Association are to meet in this village April first "all fools day." We hope to assemble with our brethren on that auspicious day.—Belmont Dispatch. The Editorial Association does not meet on Saturday, brother Smith. The first Friday in April (the 7th) is the date.

The C. L. S. will meet next week as usual. Program as follows: (Class song of '87; quotations, miscellaneous; the usual lesson in the Chautauquan; question 13 in the 4 page memoranda; 25 and 26 in the 12 page, and 74 under U. S. and F. Powers; those not answering these, describe the Grecian games.

A lawsuit was begun on Tuesday at Prest's opera house, before M. H. Harman, J. P., and a jury, which attracts considerable attention. Dr. F. E. Comstock brought suit against Benjamin Green, of the town of Alfred, for medical services rendered to the deceased wife of the defendant. L. C. Van Fleet represented the doctor, and O. A. Fuller of Wellsville appeared for Mr. Green. The defendant admits the rendering of the services, but claims that as his wife did not live at home (on account of certain domestic troubles) he is not liable for the expense incurred. A great number of witnesses are in attendance, and the case is sharply contested on both sides. Later—the trial was concluded last evening, and the jury rendered a verdict giving the plaintiff $71.90.

J. C. Ross, successor to T. McTigue, opened his store last Thursday evening, in a blaze of gas-light and splendor. The interior of the store has been newly repaired, and the elegant display of bright, new goods made a pretty sight. The new proprietor had plenty of visitors, and the way the oranges, cigars and other things disappeared betokened a lively trade, which, however, didn't put much money into Mr. Ross' till. He was simply getting acquainted with the people, and if he can remember the names and faces of all who visited him that evening he will do well. Mr. Ross has come to Andover to do business. From the appearance of his store we judge he has about all of the necessities and luxuries in his line of goods. If anything should be found lacking it will be promptly supplied. Mr. Ross has taken advertising space in the News, and we invite the attention of our readers to his announcements from week to week. The readers of this paper have learned that the reading matter in the advertisements is never stale, and oftentimes is the most interesting part of the paper. Besides, the "pointers" they get enable them to save money in the purchase of goods.
