Analysts Break Up a Catholic Meeting at Roubaix.

ORING GERMAN MARTYRS

Police Prevent Anarchistic Trouble at Roubaix. A Great Loss of Life in a Spanish Arrangements for Ferry's Funeral.

March 20.—Socialists at Roubaix held a private meeting. When the door was broken in the doors several tried to bar their progress into the meeting.

Others threw them down and threw them to the platform, where they had raised an altar and placed a crucifix on the crucifix, broke it in fragments, and tossed the pieces to the ground. The priests, pieces by the excitement, began to intone anarchy only aggravated the ugliness of the mob. The priests were all knocked down, carried to the door, and thrown into the street. Some of the rioters drove out the women and children of the congregation, smashed the furniture in the church, and several men were injured by being knocked down and trampled upon while the rioters were in the church.

Police did not arrive in sufficient numbers to control the mob until the hall had been emptied of the Catholics and all the furniture had been destroyed. Numerous arrests have been made, and more are expected.

IN MEMORY OF '48.

Orderly Celebration Held in Berlin—Red Pamphlets Suppressed.

BERLIN, March 20.—The celebration in memory of the patriots who fell in the revolution of 1848 was quiet beyond expectation. The police had made preparations to quell any disturbance, but found no need of interfering with the small and orderly groups that gathered on the graves of the revolutionary martyrs.

Outdoor meetings for which arrangements had been made were rendered impossible by the weather, which was windy and bitterly cold.

Most of the men who observed the day were workmen, the vendors of flowers and red roses did little business. The red socialist pamphlets and posters which were to have been scattered throughout the city, did not appear as the police had seized them all in the week. No disorder whatever attended in any part of the city. The social democrats have decided not to observe next May Day. They give as reason for abandoning their plan for a day of demonstration the impoverished condition of the workmen throughout the empire. The men, they have no money to spend on celebrations, they need all they can get to save and their families from starvation.

TERRIBLE FIRE IN PARIS.

Twenty-one Known to Have Perished and Many Others Missing.

MADRID, March 20.—At 3 o'clock in the morning fire broke out in a pastry cook's shop in Saint Sebastian. A keg of spirits exploded, spreading the fire to the adjoining houses, which were densely tenanted. The occupants were sleeping, and the flames were around them before they could be warned. Two families on the top floor of a four-story house were suffocated in their beds. Several persons jumped from windows, and others were killed, and three received fatal injuries.

Twenty persons are known to have perished, and several others, whose fate is known, are believed to have been burned or crushed in the ruins.

Protestants Not to be Persecuted. LONDON, March 20.—John Dillon, National member of Parliament for East York, in speaking to a Glasgow audience last evening, scouted the idea of the persecution of Protestants by Catholics in Ireland. Nevertheless, he said, the Irish were willing to submit to the humiliation of giving clauses for the protection of Protestants in Ireland inserted in the Home Rule bill.

Welter, who has been ordered by the examining magistrate in the Panama case during the latter's vacation. These documents were taken by Baron de Reinach's brother to M. Bert, liquidator of the Panama Canal

MYSTERY NOT CLEARED.

The Crouse Murder Inquest Throws No Light on the Problem.

FORT PLAIN, N. Y., March 18.—After examining two important witnesses at the inquest in the Crouse murder case, Coroner Jackson adjourned the investigation until March 23, when, it is thought, Mrs. Crouse will be well enough to testify.

Frank Marsh, who was arrested a week ago charged with the crime, and who was discharged by Justice Fikes, was examined. He was sober and told a straightforward story, which satisfied the jury that he was not connected in any manner with the murder.

Several persons who had been employed at the Crouse farm testified that Mr. and Mrs. Crouse frequently quarreled. Mrs. Flagg, a neighbor, to whose house Mrs. Crouse went immediately after her husband was murdered, testified that she considered Mrs. Crouse's behavior that night as strange, as she did not exhibit any grief and talked but little about the crime. She simply wanted the news carried to Fort Plain.

Witness did not think that Mrs. Crouse was insane last night, and never had considered her so.

The mystery surrounding the case is as dense as ever, and public opinion is about equally divided as to the guilt or innocence of Mrs. Crouse.

The bottle of ink found in the tracks leading from the house, supposed to have been made by the fleeing murderer, gives rise to the theory that it was his intention to force Crouse to sign notes, but frustrated his own plans by committing the murder.

This may explain why he fled without plundering the house.

AN ARMY OF IMMIGRANTS.

Said to be About 68,000 Europeans Already Booked for This Country.

NEW YORK, March 18.—The Ellis Island officers are looking for a big influx of immigrants within the next three months. They say immigration to this port this spring will exceed that of last spring by many thousands, and were it not for the outbreak of cholera the immigration of last year would have surpassed that of any previous year.

Steamship agents say there are between 64,000 and 68,000 people in Europe waiting to come here in the second cabin and steerage.

Over 20,000 Italians, it is said, will arrive here within the next month. Many of these left this country last fall to spend the winter in Italy. Each one will bring over three to six of their friends to try their fortune here.

Large numbers of immigrants are arriving daily, and their numbers are gradually increasing.

THE ISABELLA SOUVENIR COINS.

The Design Has Been Completed by the Lady Managers of the World's Fair.

CHICAGO, March 18.—The design for the Isabella silver souvenir coins, granted by Congress to the Board of Lady Managers, and of which 40,000 are to be minted, has been completed.

It bears the portrait of Isabella, of Spain, and is to be of the denomination of 25 cents. It is the first coin minted by the authority of the United States in recognition of the power and influence of the women citizens.

It is probable that the coins will command a high premium, the officers of the board having already declined to consider an offer of $1 each for the entire issue.

PROLONGED DROUGHT IN AFRICA.

No Rainfall in Five Months—Sickness and Death Prevail.

CAIRO, March 18.—Prolonged drought is causing much damage in the North of Africa. There has been no rain fall in the vilayet of Barca for five months, and Tripoli has suffered almost as badly.

Famine and sickness is rife and the plague prevails everywhere. Due to the poisonous emanations from putrefying carcasses.

The Italian Consul and the rest of the rich Europeans have fled to Egypt or Malta.

Canadians Fooled by a Yankee.

MONTREAL, March 18.—A smart Yankee speculator has just played a sharp trick on the Canadian firms dealing in hair cloth. He came over to St. Catherine, Ont., and purchased the stock and output for some weeks to come of the only mill in the Dominion engaged in the manufacture of hair cloth. He then bought up all the hair cloth in Toronto, Hamilton and Montreal, some of the dealers selling in excess of their stock for future delivery. When these dealers placed their orders with the mill they were informed that the output was sold, and that the price had gone up 25 per cent., so they had to settle with the speculator at the difference.

TO PREVENT A BOYCOTT

Ann Arbor Officials Get Out an Injunction.

CHIEF ARTHUR SUED FOR DAMAGES

The Fight Now on Between the Toledo & Ann Arbor Road and Its Engineers Becoming More Serious Engineers on Other Roads Threaten to Strike All Roads Except Freight.

TOLEDO, March 18.—After long days of arbitration for the adjustment of the differences between the management of the Ann Arbor railroad and the Brotherhood of Engineers and Firemen, the strike continues. The situation now is one of great gravity. The powers of the United States Court have again been called into exercise in the trouble.

At Detroit Judge Taft, on the application of H. W. Ashley, manager of the Ann Arbor road, granted a temporary injunction restraining Chief Arthur and Sargeant from ordering a general strike of railroad employees, or in any way inciting a boycott against the Ann Arbor.

This order has been served on the Brotherhood leaders, and created no small surprise among the strikers. It is made returnable on March 27, when Arthur and Sargeant will be obliged to appear before the Federal Court in this city and show cause why they should not be so restrained permanently.

A second surprise was sprung upon Chief Arthur when he was served with the papers in a suit filed by the Ann Arbor company, wherein it seeks to recover in the sum of $300,000 damages alleged to have been sustained by certain alleged acts of his. When Chief Arthur had only this to say:

"I propose to obey the laws."

The commercial feature of the strike is unchanged. Freight was offered by the Ann Arbor to the Pennsylvania and Wheeling and Erie roads, the former taking 65 cars without any objection on the part of its employees.

The Wheeling has not yet moved any of its consignment, and it is reported that the engineers on that road will refuse to handle it.

Chief Arthur and Sargeant have left the city, leaving the management of the strike in the hands of a local committee. The officials of the Ann Arbor are assuming the aggressive, and the other roads are in sympathy with them. It is reasonable to suppose that Toledo's 21 roads will experience great trouble within the next five days.

The situation is critical for railroad men, as a general World's Fair strike all over the country may ensue.

Murder on Board a Coal Barge.

ELIZABETH, N. J., March 18.—Jacob K. Dundore, captain of the coal barge Allen town, shot and killed John Cross, a boat man, on board of the Allentown late Thursday night. Dundore says that Cross boarded the barge at 8 o'clock, and was allowed to sleep on the floor. Near midnight he saw Cross trying to break open a trunk. A struggle ensued, and Cross, he says, was shot in self defense.

Fair Contractor Wants $148,000 Extra.

CHICAGO, March 18.—Contractor Frank Agnew has astonished the World's Fair directors by putting in a bill for $148,000 for extras in the construction of the big Manufacturers' building. The directors are now considering the bill and will probably refuse to grant any portion of the bill. The extras are for damages to the walls by winds, an advance in the price of lumber and extra work not in the contract.

The tombs of other Confederates were visited.

QUIET AT TOLEDO.

Much Discussion Going on About Judge Rick's Late Decisions.

TOLEDO, O., March 20.—The Ann Arbor strike situation has been quiet after the stirring events of Saturday. The Brotherhood of Engineers held several meetings yesterday at which the order issued by Judge Rick, compelling the Brotherhood to bring its by-laws and constitution into court, was the sole topic of discussion.

The men who were seen said that the proceedings of Judge Rick were unusual. They asserted that he had read his views on their opinions before one scrap of evidence had been heard, that there was nothing but the affidavits of the railroad company's men to guide him in forming the belief that the men were guilty as charged. They feel that the proper time for him to have expressed his views would have been after hearing the case.

The Ann Arbor has had a full quota of freight trains yesterday and to-day, and General Manager Ashley says there is no danger of a blockade.

It is stated that the company is arranging to place 10 new locomotives and 1,000 cars in service within the next few weeks.

It is given out this morning that all the engineers on the Wabash will go on strike within the next 24 hours in sympathy with the Ann Arbor men.

You may comply with the Brotherhood rules at once." The notice is signed by the chairman of the committee, and it is understood that none of the Ann Arbor coal will be received.

BOTH SAID MASS.

Fathers Treacy and Leahy Still Keeping Up the Siege at Swedesboro.

SWEDESBORO, N. J., March 20.—Mass was said by both Father Treacy and Father Leahy yesterday. Father Treacy's hearers gathered in the house of Edward Monaghan, while the home of James Crews sheltered the followers of Father Leahy.

Both sides are resting awaiting developments. At present a deputy sheriff is in absolute possession of the church and all its contents, while Father Treacy is in actual possession of the parish house.

If anything is removed from either building, or Father Treacy's comforts in the parish house are abridged in any way, his attorney's will compel Father Leahy to remove without delay everything in the two buildings, and Father Treacy will say mass in the church regardless of the consequences, which are sure to be serious.

Bishop O'Farrell will appear on the scene on next Sunday and will attempt to reason the church for Father Leahy. That he will be successful, even to a small degree, is very doubtful.

WILKESBARRE, March 20.—A. B. Schooley, a prominent resident of Edwinstown, while in company with his brother yesterday, jumped from the North street bridge into the Susquehanna below, a distance of nearly 100 feet.

The leap was made without a moment's hesitation, and was witnessed by nearly 1,000 people who were enjoying a Sunday outing.

The body floated down the river a quarter of a mile or more before it was recovered. The suicide was 32 years old, and leaves a widow.

Twenty years ago an uncle of his hanged himself in a barn.

It is claimed by those who knew Schooley that he lost heavily in the defunct bank of Rockefeller & Co.

STILL ANOTHER BIG ONE

Tremont Temple in Boston Destroyed by Fire.

HOTELS THROWN INTO A PANIC

The Blaze Started in the Temple and by Desperate Efforts Was Kept from Spreading to Other Buildings Its Third Destruction Since It Was Changed to a Church from a Theatre Two Men Hurt.

Boston, March 20.—Another big fire visited this unfortunate city yesterday. It broke out about 7 a. m. in Tremont Temple, on Tremont street, opposite the Tremont House, and in a few hours the entire structure where Wendell Phillips made his anti-slavery speeches was gutted, entailing a loss of about $375,000.

Fireman Patrick Dunn, of Engine 36, had a leg broken, and an unknown man is reported to have been seriously injured.

The fire was first discovered by a guest on the fourth floor of the Parker House. He thought it was in the hotel and smashed the glass on one of the signal boxes on his floor sent in the first alarm. When the number was rung in an employee of the Parker House sounded the gong of the different floors to arouse the guests, and quickly the occupants of the rooms hurried out in great excitement.

When it was seen that there was no immediate danger of the fire reaching the hotel, the guests proceeded to remove their trunks. The damage to the Parker House by water is believed to have reached $50,000. No mishaps are reported to the guests.

Tremont Temple, which has been one of the most conspicuous public buildings of Boston in the present generation, stood on Tremont street adjoining the Parker House and opposite the Tremont House. Originally the structure was widely known as the Tremont theatre, an old time resort of dramatic entertainment for a by-gone generation.

Since 1843 it had been celebrated all over the country as the largest Baptist church in New England, if not in America, and the local headquarters of that denomination. It was burned March 31, 1852, and again on Aug. 14, 1879.

The auditorium was one of the largest in the country being 122 feet in length, 72 feet in width, and 60 feet in height. The seating capacity was equal to an audience of 2,000 persons. Beneath this great hall was the M-tonia, with a seating capacity of 1,000.

He then dispatched a boy to town to spread the report that Shaw had been kicked to death by the horse.

Mrs. Shaw has been twice divorced, Shaw being her third husband. She had been married but a few months. Gallin, immediately after Shaw's death, assumed his place in his house.

His Disappearance Accounted For.

SANDWICH, Mass., March 20.—The mystery attending the whereabouts of Herbert Smith, of Cedarville, has been solved by the finding of his body in the ice in Great Herring pond. On the afternoon of Jan. 7 Smith left his home to go to the home of his brother in Bourdale, and attempted to skate across the pond. A driving snow storm prevailed at the time, and it is supposed that he skated into an open place. He was 17 years old.
