Andover High School TIDBITS

The boys have started to practice for track, altho they have not so many conveniences, it is starting in with a good spirit. Robert Common is the best jumper but maybe some of the rest will prove to be as proficient in a few practices. They will enter three meets.

The Seniors have had two very successful practices on their play, "Apple Blossom Time," which will be given in a few weeks.

Seventh Grade

The Seventh Grade entertained the High School assembly last Friday morning. The program consisted of a minstrel show given by 12 pupils, also a monologue by Paul Alderson and a dialogue by Willard DeRemer and Raymond Lehman.

Eighth Grade

Our history class has made an "Immigrant Hall of Fame." We have more than 40 persons who have become famous Americans, in our booklet at present.

MORE DISCUSSION OVER TELEPHONE

of incorporation, said stockholders constituted approximately one-third of the entire number. There are now two-sevenths of the directors on the Alfred line, and they are men large enough to see the interest of the Allegany Mutual Telephone Co., in the village of Andover as well as their own interests. It is too bad if they can control the other five directors and have them vote any way they want them to. Anybody with a fair mind would see at a glance that they are entitled to all the rights and privileges the same as any shareholder in the village of Andover and that they have to pay their proportionate share of the general expense in the village of Andover.

Things are now at a standstill and have been for a period extending over six years. That we admit.

The line to Alfred is not being extended but simply repaired, the same as the lines in the village of Andover, but even tho the Alfred line should be put in condition, of what value will it be unless the lines in Andover are also put in condition in order to give them full connective service with the farmer owned lines connecting with our central.

Mr. B. S. Brundage has been the manager for six years. He has never had his hands tied in any way. In fact, it has been, since he assumed control, nothing but a one man telephone company. The Board has always done just as he asked them to in every way except one, and for years at a time he has never called the Board of Directors together for consultation and it has been only within the last year that he has admitted that he did not know anything about the business, and there has never been any time since he was manager that he did not have a perfect right to call the Board together, put in his resignation and quit, if he didn't like the job. So long as the stockholders stay away from the annual meeting of the Allegany Mutual Telephone Co., having due notice of the same, they have no kick coming about who are elected directors. It is almost impossible to get any shareholder in the village of Andover to come to an annual meeting. In fact, the last annual meeting there were just enough for directors. So it is up to the shareholders.

Regardless of who is elected on the Board of Directors of the Allegany Mutual Telephone Co., the minute they sever any line connected with the share of stock of any stockholder who has paid his dues, assessments, etc., they are in for a lawsuit right off the reel, according to the rules of the company. You cannot discriminate between shareholders.

For the last six years, if a break in the line has occurred within the village or outside, it took about one man to stand on the ground and one up a pole to repair it, and no ladder—and today on the streets of Andover, if there are any repairs to be done, you see the repair man riding up and down the streets in a car to and from his work.

Upon investigation it has been learned that under the present management we have been paying a right of way across one piece of property in the town of Alfred where we did not even have a pole on said property nor lines across it. Instead of our paying a franchise tax for poles and wires in the streets of the village of Andover, why not put them in the shareholders' door yards? They ought to be perfectly willing to do that.

It doesn't make any difference whether a shareholder is a farmer, banker, lawyer, or just an everyday man, or where he lives, he cannot be assessed for extending any lines anywhere outside the village of Andover.

As to how many shareholders in the village of Andover would be willing to have their stock increased in order to maintain this Alfred line as an Allegany Mutual Telephone Co. line. There are from 25 to 30 telephones on the Alfred line instead of four or five, which number could probably be increased under proper management.

After we have put the lines in good working order for a select few, we should make a sufficient assessment to make the service agreeable and satisfactory to them only, raise the rates on the balance until the income equals the disbursements and provides for a reasonable sinking fund. Then how many will be pleased to be a part of the system?

This process of letting the tail wag the dog should cease. That is very true, but under the present management the system has depreciated to such an extent that the dog is so weak that he cannot wag his tail. Until such a time as there is a change for the better, there is no help for the dog.

There is no question but what the Allegany Mutual Telephone Co., if rightly managed, could be made to take care of itself with very little expense.

Edwin Scott Recovering

Edwin Scott, 17 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd L. Scott, is in St. James Mercy hospital, Hornell, where he was taken last Thursday suffering from blood poisoning which physicians say was contracted Tuesday of last week thru pricking at his right hand with a comb while playing with his little nephew, Bruce Henning.

The young man was taken sick Friday night, but got better until Monday, when he became worse. He was taken to the Hornell hospital last Thursday where his case was seen to be serious. Dr. O. K. Stewart operated on the arm above the elbow and inserted drainage tubes, some of them into the bone. His life was despaired of for a time, but more favorable conditions were reported Saturday evening.

Mrs. Scott has been in Hornell since Edwin was taken to the hospital and Mr. Scott made daily visits there until the young man showed decided improvement. Reports of daily betterment continue to reach Cuba, friends of the family are pleased to know.—Cuba Patriot.

Republican Birthplace

The Republican party is in a way to at last know its birthplace, after considerable time and printers' ink have been consumed in locating the exact spot. Guy W. Seem of Chicago, member of the Republican Diamond Jubilee Committee has announced that Ripon, Wis., has been decided upon and the anniversary celebration will be held there June 8th. We would suggest an entry be made in the political bible family records as to the exact spot and date of the birth and "those officiating."

Perry Breese Hurt

While engaged in repairing the roof of the J. E. Brown residence, in Wellsville, Monday afternoon at about 3 o'clock, Perry Breese, a carpenter, suffered serious injuries to his head, arms and back, when he slipped and fell from the roof to the ground, a distance of about 18 feet. The injured man was taken to the Jones Memorial hospital where his injuries were found to be of such a nature as to require an x-ray examination.

Let's Keep Our Village Pretty

It is to be hoped that no bill boards will be permitted to disfigure our beautiful road thru town.

The village, tucked in a bend of the road, is one of the most beautiful of the beauty spots along the Liberty Highway, noted for being the scenic route of Western New York.

Lack of bill boards does not lessen its charm.

Please, let's keep them away.

A Splendid Report

With the compliments of Rob Roy MacLeod, manager of publicity for Buffalo, Niagara and Eastern Power Corporation, sends the News a copy of a beautiful book containing the report to the stockholders of that company, and attached a unique map portraying the "most amazing and interesting" reasources that abound in Western and Central New York.

The consolidated balance sheet for 1928 is very interesting. The gross earnings of the associated companies aggregated $34,339,215.16; an increase of over two and a half million over 1927.

The entire publication is most interesting and is a complete report of the activities of the companies.
