HOME GROWN

On my town lot an apple grew,
who planted it I never knew, a cow perhaps the way they do; for all the Bryant Tract, you know, was farm land no so long ago. Well anyhow the little tree was standing pretty as could be. But ere its sour wild fruiting came I set to work to graft the same. I brought my scions from Yankeeland, for orchard rows my grandsire planned. They were the old and well tried things, were mostly Baldwins, Spies and Kings. I made my grafting wax too thick, it wouldn't spread, it wouldn't stick'm and so when grafts were fitted in I covered them with paraffin. And now, behold, two little the fruits are clinging lightly to the shoots. Ye apple worms, go other where and let those five be round and fair. Go easy bugs, go easy blight, and Oh June drop, be light, be light that fruit may ripen on my land from apple rows my grandsire planned. I'm going to get when these I pick what modern language calls a kick.—BOB ADAMS.

POPULAR YOUNG PEOPLE ARE WED

Brilliant Church Wedding For Miss Sara Jeanette Bettinger and Richard V. Harder, Saturday Evening

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the first Presbyterian Church of Andover, New York, Saturday, June the 29th, 1929, at six o'clock, when Miss Sara Jeanette Bettinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arling R. Baker, and Richard Vern Harder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Harder, were united in marriage by the Rev. Charles Parsons, pastor of the church.

The bride was attended by Miss Ruth Parker of Andover, and Miss Christine Lehley of Brant, N. Y., who acted as Maids of Honor.

The brides maids were Mrs. Wilber Trisman of New York City, and Miss Elvira Harder of Wellsville.

The groom chose as his best man, his cousin, Lee Harder of Wellsville, N. Y., and as ushers Mr. John Lemler of Angola, N. Y. and Mr. Linford Hortons of Detroit, Mich. Mr. Wilber Trisman, of New York City, presided at the pipe organ.

To the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin, the bridal party came down the center aisle of the church, first the ushers in informal blue serge suits followed by the bridesmaids who were dressed in green georgette, wearing green picture hats and carrying arm bouquets of columbia roses and gypsophilia. They were followed by the maids of honor who were gowned in orchid point d' esprit, wearing orchid hats and their bouquets were pink ophelia roses and gypsophilia. Preceding the bride was little Nancy Jane Snyder dressed in white and carrying an orchid basket of American beauty roses. The bride was daintily gowned in white satin robe de style and carried a shower bouquet of ophelia roses, gypsophelia and orchid sweet peas. Her veil of lace net which covered her face was becomingly draped in cap effect with a coronet of orange blossoms.

The short ritual of the Presbyterian Church was used in the service.

Following the church ceremony a reception and supper was held at the home of the bride's parents on Center street, where one hundred guests were entertained. The supper was prepared by Mrs. Hopkins of Hornell and served by the Misses Dorothy Ludden, Adelaide Baker, Marguret Folsing, Ruby Robinson, Florence Parker, Dorothea Snyder, Cecelia and Gertrude O'Connell.

The decorations at the church and home were supervised by Mrs. Guy S. Wood an aunt of the bride, and were very artistic. The altar was banked with peonies and palms with bouquets.

Both of the principals at the wedding were graduated from the local High School in 1924, after which Mrs. Harder attended Elmira College, graduating with honor and for the past year she has taught in the Home Economic department of the high school in the city of Hornell. Mr. Harder attended New York University and Mechanics Institute in Rochester. At present he is employed by the Empire Gas & Fuel Co., at Andover.

Early in the evening the happy couple left by motor for a two weeks' trip thru the Adirondacks, the New England States and Canada. On their return they will be at their home on Pleasant Avenue, which is furnished ready for occupancy.

The best wishes of their many friends will go with them thru the years to come.

Pre-Nuptial Functions

During the past week many social functions were held for Miss Sara Bettinger in honor of her approaching marriage. On Wednesday evening, June 26, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Ludden of Wellsville gave a dinner and bridge at their home for the bridal couple.

On June 27, a variety shower luncheon bridge was given by Miss Vira Harder at the home of her parents on North Main street, Wellsville; on the 28th Mr. and Mrs. Lee Harder of Wellsville entertained the bridal party at dinner at their home.

Saturday, the 29th, at one o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Guy S. Wood were hosts to the bridal party at a luncheon, given in Miss Bettinger's honor.

Elect Officers

At the annual meeting of the Allegany County Ministers' Association, held recently, Rev. M. Hayett Sangree of Wellsville was elected president; Rev. Frank Smith, Birdsall, vice president; S. F. CLEANING UP THE TOWN

Officer Kilbane and Deputy Sheriff Kemp Get Out the Big Mop Over the Week-end.

Every good housewife has a spell once in a while when she designates as housecleaning, wherein she turns things upside down and makes life a burden to all the inmates for a fortnight or so. It is evident that Andover village officials have struck just such a phrase in our village life. They begun housecleaning last week-end in earnest. They didn't start in the parlor either, but in the back part of the house—some say the pig pen.

As a result of this "clean-up" campaign the local lockup the first of this week was "full to overflowing."

Officers Kilbane and Deputy Sheriff Harry Kemp have been on the job daily with their big mop and have found no trouble filling all vacancies in the rooming quarters at Village Hall. The "register" at "Hotel de Bunk" contains the following people, who been entertained in comfortable during the housecleaning operations.

For a long time the joint conducted by Paul Blank down on Maple street has given all law-abiding and law-respecting citizens of Andover a pain. Blank was arrested a few months ago and fined $50 and given a jail sentence of three months, the sentence being suspended under good behavior. Police officers have been watching the place and made an unexpected call Monday. They did not find Blank there but they did find three men and a woman well under the influence of liquor. They were all conducted to the lock-up where they passed the night to await Judge Mullen's disposition of their case Tuesday morning.

The suspension of Paul Blank's three months' sentence was revoked by Judge Mullen and papers given to the officers for his immediate confinement.

The notables began to arrive early Saturday afternoon, Ezra Slocum having the honor of being first and therefore entitled to the best room in the house. He was apprehended for driving a car while intoxicated and was given the usual $50 fine and had his driving license suspended.

In rapid succession and in the order indicated, the following guests were booked: William Vass of Wellsville, pled guilty to a charge of intoxication and paid a fine Monday morning of $10.

Earl Beyea of Wellsville for driving a car while intoxicated, paid a fine of $50. At the conclusion of his case on this charge, action was brought against Beyea Monday for driving without a license and judge Mullen assessed him another $5.00 as a reminder that they sell driving licenses down at the county seat.

Thomas Kilbane was fined $10 for public intoxication and disorderly conduct, and placed under parol to report to Deputy Sheriff Kemp for three months.

William Gallagher and Ben Updyke also walked up to the head clerk and deposited their bill for the night's lodging.

Mrs. Shirley MacKay of Hornell pled guilty to a charge of public intoxication and paid a fine of $10. She was also given a suspended sentence of three months.

Just to make the party complete and to show that there wasn't any hard feelings, Eddie Joyce applied for a room for the night and paid the regular lodging rate of $10 for his accommodations Tuesday morning.

Besides the fines, Kilbane, Joyce, Updyke and Gallagher were placed on parol to report weekly for three months to Deputy Sheriff Harry Kemp.

District Attorney Walter N. Renwick of Cuba came down to Andover Tuesday morning to be in at the finish, superintend the proceedings and "see that none passed or repassed" without proper credentials and that each and every guest got what was coming to him.

This action of Andover officials is very commendable, provided they go on with the work of housecleaning. Now we have got all mussed up, why not finish the job? There are other "dirty places" that should receive their attention and they are not all "down in the Patch" either. They do say that there is one or two joints up on "Pitch Avenue" that it would be well to look into.

$30,000 For Cuba Lake

At its meeting at Buffalo recently the State Council of Parks, considering the distribution of recent appropriations of the legislature, recommended the use of $30,000 for recreational betterments for public use at Cuba Lake.

MARIE WALSH WEDS VINCENT CONNERS

Married Tuesday Morning at the Blessed Sacrament Church. After Trip Will Establish Home at Utica.

One of the prettiest of the early summer weddings was that of Miss Marie Burnadette Walsh to Vincent C. Conners of Mechanicville, N. Y.

The marriage was solemnized at 9:30 o'clock Tuesday morning at the Blessed Sacrament church, the Rev. Charles E. McHugh performing the ceremony.

The bride's only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Ellen Walsh Dagon, while James J. Dagon acted as best man.

The bride was becomingly attired in a peach colored chiffon dress with large hat to match. Her bridal boquet was of butterfly roses, forget-me-nots and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Dagon was dressed in pale green chiffon dress with hat to match and carried pink tea roses.

After the ceremony a breakfast was served at the Brundage Tavern to about 30 relatives and friends.

Following the breakfast a reception was held at the home of the bride's brother, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Walsh.

The bride is a graduate of the local high school, of the Fredonia State Normal and is a member of the Kemble School Faculty, Utica, N. Y.

Mr. Conners is a graduate of the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute and at present is superintendent of the gas manufacturing department of the Utica Gas and Electric Co.

After an extended motor trip, Mr. and Mrs. Conners will return to Utica, where they will make their home.

Those from out-of-town attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Conners, Mechanicville; Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Wade and Bernard F. Wade, Jr., of Potsdam, N. Y.; Walter Heenan of Utica; Mrs. Earl F. Burbach, Syracuse; Mrs. J. B. Dagon, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Roberts and son, John and Mr. and Mrs. James J. Dagon of Hornell.

Best wishes and congratulations are extended by the News and all Andover people.

TARIFF'S FARM AID ILLUSORY

New Tariff Rate Will Increase, Not Relieve Agricultural Depression, Says Georgia Senator.

Washington, June 30.—The new tariff bill, instead of helping the farmers, will add materially to the agriculture depression, Sen. George (D.), of Georgia, a member of the finance sub-committee on textiles, declared today.

Senator George said:

"If the American farmer, in whose interest chiefly the tariff now is supposed to be in process of revision, is expecting benefits of any kind, he is the innocent victim of just another illusion.

Up to Hoover

"If President Hoover desires to confine tariff revision within the limits initiated in his message to Congress it is clear he must assume the responsibility of leadership.

"Certain agricultural products heretofore on the free list were placed on the dutiable list by the House bill, and duties upon many farm products were increased. Farm products in the raw or advanced state constitute in large measure the raw material of manufactures. Compensatory duties are the offspring of protection to raw material.

"It is obvious if the compensatory duty is to be effective, it must be at the expense of the producer of the raw material, the American farmer. Since the effort is to extend protection to all farm products it is obvious the increased burden to the farmer, measured by the so-called compensatory duty to the manufacturer, will more than absorb his benefits and will leave him in exactly the same position, if indeed not in a worse position, than he was before.

Must Pay More

"Practically all the farmer will get out of the scramble will be the privilege of paying more for everything he consumes. In many instances he will only enjoy only paper rates which cannot be made effective but the compensatory rates and the greatly increased protective rates given to the manufacturers will be found to be very tangible and real when the farmer is called upon to pay his bills."

More growers each year find that to thin overloaded trees increases their profits.

Rodgers — Jenson

A quiet home wedding was solemnized by Rev. Walter Dynes, pastor of the local Methodist church at 6:30 Saturday evening, June 29, when Miss Martha C. Rodgers and Carl H. Jensen, of Wellsville, were united in marriage at the residence of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Rollins.

The ceremony was performed in presence of a number of the relatives of both bride and groom.

At the conclusion of the ceremony a wedding dinner was enjoyed by the present.

After a brief wedding trip the new home will be established on First street, Andover.

FARM BUREAU PEOPLE PICNIC

Committeemen and Families Enjoy Day Together. Basket Lunch, Horseshoes and Address Enjoyed.

Thirty committeemen and their families of the Allegany County Farm Bureau held their third annual picnic at the Friendship Island Park, Thursday, June 27. This event was first started three years ago, when it was held at the county Y. M. C. A. camp on the Genesee River and was started for the purpose of bringing the Farm Bureau leaders from all parts of the county together for a good time and to get acquainted with each other. At the same time it provided an opportunity for the officers of the organization to express their appreciation to the leaders for the large amount of work which they do gratis for the general advancement of the agriculture of the county. This third annual picnic proved by far the most successful of the three, and showed an increasing good fellowship and healty condition of the Farm Bureau organization.

Before dinner the preliminaries for the horseshoe tournament were held. At noon everyone gathered around the table for a basket lunch, ice cream and watermelon. At 1:30 the program of the day started. Frank Mason, president of the Friendship Chamber of Commerce, delivered an address of welcome to the group. President A. F. Randolph of the Farm Bureau related a few of the outstanding results which have been accomplished by extension work thru the Farm Bureau in this county. He also pointed out that the Farm Bureau is in the most healthy condition that it has been since its organization. Ward M. Hopkins, prominent attorney of the county gave an excellent address on the state legislation of the past winter and its effect upon the farmers of Allegany county. He brought further figures relative to the financial condition of the county and showed how savings to the county have been brought about by this legislation. It appears that this is really the first form of farm relief, which has been experienced. Mr. Hopkins pointed out quite clearly that tax relief is now entirely in the hands of the Board of Supervisors and it is up to the people of the county to stand back of this group of leaders and to help them in this program of tax relief.

Petrolia Joint Pulled

Deputy Sheriffs Harry Kemp of Andover and Dan Witter of Wellsville, accompanied federal officers Tuesday, to a little liquor hunt down at Petrolia.

The party raided the place of Will and Elmer Watson and found 50 gallons of cider, 23 two dozen cases of home brew, about 75 gallons of dandellon wine and part of a brand new still not yet set up.

The usual proceedings were enacted and the gentlemen will have to answer before a federal judge for their doings.

Still At It

Not content with their days' work, Officer Kilbane and Deputy Sheriff Kemp started out Tuesday afternoon to look up Paul Blank, to apprehend him. Over at Sand Hill, near Almond, they ran on a place with five bottles of liquor and a quantity of alcohol, being run by one Elmer McKibben.

Maybe prohibition does not prohibit, but it is beginning to make the law violators uncomfortable around Old Allegany County at any rate.

Attending Buffalo Meeting

Mrs. Mattie C. Dellone of Bolivar and a member of the Allegany County Democratic Committee, was in Buffalo last week attending a gathering of the Democrat Club of A Thousand Women. The meeting was held at Crystal Beach.

ATTORNEY LOSES LIFE IN CRASH

Grant E. Niel of Jamestown Instantly Killed in Auto Accident Near Friendship Friday Night.

Friendship, June 30.—Rushing to Belmont where he was scheduled to try four divorce cases before Supreme Court Justice Bernard R. Ackerman in court at Belmont, Saturday morning, Grant E. Niel, a prominent attorney at Jamestown, was instantly killed at about 8 o'clock Friday night when the car in which he was riding went into a ditch on the' Olean-Belmont state highway near Friendship. Mr. Niel, whom it is alleged had his head out of a window of the car at the time was caught between the car and the bank and his head crushed to pulp.

The car, a sedan, was driven by Mr. Niel's chauffeur, Harry McIntyre, and besides Mr. McNiel, was occupied by Mr. Niel's stenographer, May Melrush, and a client, Myra Jensen, all of Jamestown. None of the other occupants of the car sustained injury.

The accident occurred when the Niel car, which is said to have been driven at a high rate of speed, turned out to pass a car driven by H. R. Bergen of Olean. It is said that the driver of Mr. Niel's car attempted to cut back into the road too soon and in so doing hooked into the end of Bergen's rear bumper, causing the Niel car to be thrown to a stop about 300 feet from where the collision took place.

Coroner N. H. Fuller of Friendship and Sheriff Brigham of Belmont were summoned and Mr. Niel's body was removed to the undertaking parlors in Friendship and Mrs. Niel notified at her home in Jamestown, soon arrived in Friendship.

The Inquest

A bottle, partly filled with liquor, is being held in Belmont and may be used as evidence against Harry McIntyre of Jamestown, driver of the car in which Grant Earl Niel lost his life. McIntyre is being held for the grand jury in September, charged with manslaughter, second degree. The booze was found in a pocket of the car by Coroner N. H. Fuller and was turned over to Sheriff Edson Brigham.

The manslaughter charge was brought against McIntyre following an inquest held Saturday afternoon into Niel's death, in Friendship town hall. The charge was that the driver was guilty of "Negligence in handling a machine on the highway."

McIntyre was taken to Belmont, where his fingerprints were recorded, after which he was released under $2,000 bail, posted by Mrs. Neil, wife of the dead attorney.

A number of witnesses were called in the inquest, including Harold R. Bergen, of Olean, driver of the machine which collided with the Jamestown car; Sheriff Edson Brigham, among the first at the scene of the accident; Dr. E. Stanley Webster of Friendship, who assisted Dr. Fuller in his examination; Mrs. May Melhush and Mrs. Myra Jensen of Jamestown, occupants of the death car, and a Mr. Hall, who resides near where the accident occurred. McIntyre was not placed on the stand.

Testimony of most of the witnesses was that McIntyre was driving recklessly.

Wanted, A Home

Six little babies, a good half dozen, charges of the Allegany County Public Health and Welfare Association, are waiting for free homes. These tiny tots are being cared for in licensed boarding homes under the supervision of the Welfare Association. Their board is being paid by Allegany County as these little waifs have neither father nor mother to be responsible for them. Since the funds of the county are limited to some extent if other babies are to be received the present ones must be placed in free homes. This does not necessarily mean adoption, but they may be adopted.

The office of the Allegany County Public Health and Welfare Association can give you any information you desire about the babies' heritage. If you are interested, will you not get in touch with them at the court house at Belmont between the hours of 9 and 5 or phone 153, Belmont.
