SOUND REASONING

The only correct method of fitting oversize pistons to a motor is to have the cylinder re-bored or re-ground first.

The most wear in a cylinder requiring an oversize piston, occurs only where the rings slide, leaving the top and bottom of the bore smaller. This necessitates dressing the piston to fit the smallest part of the cylinder with the result it will be too loose in the larger part and the job will be short lived.

Our price for trueing up a block is $2.00 per cylinder. This does not include dismantling as that can be done wherever you prefer.

We have the only shop in Andover completely equipped for doing this work on any make of car and we welcome work from the other garages.

We guarantee the job to stop oil pumping and piston slap when finished according to our instructions and you will be surprised at the "new" feeling your motor has.

Harvest Home August 15

The first meeting of the general committee of the Annual Harvest Home of the Andover Presbyterian church met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Baker, Monday evening and fixed the date for the 1929 Harvest Home for Thursday, August 15th. They also appointed the usual committees and set in motion the activities that will make the gathering one that will compare favorably with the preceeding events for which the Harvest Home has been known for over 75 years.

MAY LOSE CUBAN POTATO MARKET

Retaliation Threatened For Raise of U. S. Tariff on Sugar.—You Pinch Me—I'll Pinch You.

A gesture that will have deep significance for American firms exporting to Cuba is seen in the recent increase in Cuba's import duty on potatoes from 90.7 cents to $2-268 per 100 pounds if imported from November 1 to June 30 and from 45.4 cents to 68 cents per 100 pounds if imported from July 1 to October 31.

This increase is obviously intended to make the Republic more self-sustaining. Cuba is practically a one-crop country, and that crop, sugar, is threatened with destruction thru high tariff barriers on the part of the United States. As a means of self-preservation, the Cubans seem to be inaugurating a program of agricultural diversification with a view to greater self-reliance. It is a natural proceeding, but the consequences in this country will likely prove serious.

United States exports of potatoes to Cuba amounted to 111,113,700 pounds in 1922. That year the Fordney-McCumber Tariff Act with its increase in sugar tariff was passed, and potato exports have fallen off since until they reached a level of 74,565,540 pounds in 1928. With the stimulation of Cuba potato production that will inevitably follow the new duty, our Cuban market for potatoes will rapidly disappear. Furthermore, the United States is granted a 20 per cent. preferential in the duty on potatoes, a fact that makes the Cuban market especially valuable to us. Only last month a financial journal reported that Norfolk, Virginia would handle approximately 200,000 barrels of potatoes for export to Cuba during the following 60 days, and that the Cuban demand was caring for part of the troublesome crop surplus.

FARMERS' PICNIC AUGUST 15TH

Peter G. Ten Eyck of Albany Speaker of Day.—Horseshoe Pitching Contest Features Program.

The annual picnic for all Allegany County residents will be held Thursday, August 15, at the Y.M.C.A. camp grounds near Angelica. This big event is yearly growing in interest, fun and numbers. Between three and four thousand people are being planned for. The organizations in charge are the Dairymen's League, the Granges of Allegany county and the Allegany County Farm and Home Bureau Association.

Some of the attractions making the county championship horseshoe pitching contest, the winner of which will compete at the State Fair in Syracuse, for state championship. The Fillmore band will furnish the musical side of the program. There will also be many other games and sports for men, women and children for which prizes are offered.

Peter G. Ten Eyck, of Albany, will be the principle speaker of the day. Mr. Ten Eyck is well known in New York State, and was former president of the Farm Bureau Federation of this state.

—Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Halsey and daughters, Betty and Jean, attended the minstrel show in Wellsville Saturday evening, also called on Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Spicer.

BUREAU EXPLAINS NEW STATE LAW

Measure is Not Compulsory Insurance Statute, But Does Require Proof of Ability to Pay.

Albany, N. Y.—Altho the new Safety Responsibility Law (Chapter 695 of the Laws of 1929) does not become effective until September 1, it is immediately effective as to future accidents upon which future judgments may be rendered, the New York State Automobile Association point out thru a booklet just issued entitled "The ABC of the Safety Responsibility Law."

For instance, in the case of any accident happening at this time, there would be small possibility of a judgment being rendered until after September 1st, in which case failure to pay such judgment would bring about suspension of the judgment debtor's license and registration certificates.

Under this new law, when a motorist fails to pay a final judgment for damages sustained in an automobile accident within 15 days, and where no appeal has been taken, his operator's license and registration certificates are suspended until the judgment is satisfied.

In the case of property damage judgments, this section governs only when the amount of judgment is in excess of $100. In all cases, the provisions of the law are satisfied when the judgment debtor has paid $5,000 for injuries for one person and $10,000 for two, or $1,000 for property damage. However, such judgment debtor must give proof of financial responsibility before his license will be restored.

The entire operation of this new law is explained in language that any person can understand in "The ABC of the Safety Responsibility Law." This booklet will be distributed by local Automobile Clubs affiliated with the New York State Automobile Association.

"This is not a Compulsory Insurance Law," the booklet points out. "Therefore, an applicant need not prove his financial responsibility in order to obtain an operator's license or register a car."

Nevertheless, from now on "the inability of any operator or owner to prove financial responsibility may bring serious consequences under certain conditions."

Altho the motorist who is financially responsible, or is protected by insurance or otherwise, will not be aversely affected by this new law, he will still be subject to all the provisions of the old law, it is pointed out.

This new law has been enacted as a safety measure to enforce safe driving and careful use of the roads and to fix the responsibility upon the motorist:

1. To avoid accidents.

2. To establish his ability to pay, within reasonable limits, the damages assessed against him for any accidents in which he may unfortunately become involved, without making the innocent pay for the sins of the guilty.

Reckless driving, where injury to person or property results, is one of the principal offenses which may result in suspension of license and registration. This new booklet explains exactly what reckless driving is.

Other offenses which bring the motorist within the provisions of the law are excessive speed, as applied not only to passenger cars but to trucks and other vehicles, disobeying traffic rules on the grounds of a state institution, operating without a license, driving while intoxicated and going away without stopping after an accident.

In all such cases, where a motorist has been convicted of the crime by final order or judgment, or has pled guilty to, or has forfeited bail bond or collateral given for such offenses, his license is suspended until he gives proof of his ability to compensate financially those whom he may injure in the future.

Proof, where required under this law, must be given in the amounts of $5,000 for injury or death of one person thru operation of an automobile, $10,000 for two or more persons injured or killed and $1,000 for property damage.

Security required by this law may be the certificate of an insurance company, the bond of a surety company, the bond of individual sureties owning real estate, when approved by the judge of a court of record, or a satisfactory deposit with the Department of Taxation and Finance.

This law was sponsored by the New York State Automobile Association thru its law and legislative committee of which Owen B. Augspurger, President of the New York Automobile Club, is chairman. Mr. Augspurger is also vice president of the New York State Automobile Association.

The law is modeled along the lines of the American Automobile Association's Safety Responsibility Bill. Six other states besides New York have already passed similar bills and it is believed that a majority of the remaining states will adopt such a measure next year, thus establishing the principles of the Safety Responsibility Bill throughout the country.

OLD LOG CABIN AT STATE FAIR

Old-Time Activities in the Farm Home Will be Illustrated in Connection With Ancient Building.

A reflection of pioneer farm life in this country will be found in the log cabin in the Agricultural Museum building at the State Fair this year. In the cabin will be shown the old time activities of the farm home, an almost complete picture of the way a pioneer family lived when almost all of the wants were supplied from the farm.

Commissioner Berne A. Pyrke of the Department of Agriculture and Markets approved the plans for transferring the cabin from Schoharie county to the State fair grounds and for making it a part of the permanent agricultural museum exhibit at the fair. Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt has accepted an invitation extended by the commissioner to speak at the unveiling of tablets which will show the purpose of the agricultural museum building which is to permanently reflect the early farm life of the country.

The log cabin, which was probably built a century ago, was located at Breakabeen, in the town of Fulton, in Schoharie county, on the Walter Kaiser farm. Under the direction of Charles H. Baldwin, of the department, who has carried out plans for the establishment of the museum, the cabin was taken down log by log and board by board, each one being numbered so that it can be restored in the museum exactly as it was a mile and a half up the mountain from Breakabeen.

Information was not available as to the original settler who cleared the land and built the cabin. The place, of course, has not been occupied for many years but the record of Baldwins, Northern Spies, and Greenings indicated that the early settler was interested in fruit.

When it takes its original form in the museum building, a part of the siding will not be replaced, so that visitors at the fair may view the scene within. Assemblyman D. P. Witter of Tioga, whose name is given to the agricultural museum building, is making arrangements for furnishing the cabin, and among some of the old time utensils will be iron candlesticks, sperm-oil lamps, candle molds, butter prints, bread box, coffee mill, sausage stuffer, roaster, foot stove, iron and brass kettles, iron skillet, spinning wheel and bootjack. There will also be old time furnishings. The old fireplace in the cabin will be reconstructed and kettles will be simmering over it while candles are being dipped, and an old time cobbler is making shoes.

Commissioner Pyrke will preside at the ceremony at the placing of the tablets showing the purpose of the museum building and will introduce Governor Roosevelt. The tablets will be placed in what is known as the "Audience Room" in the building and in this are also to be hung pictures of all the past presidents of the New York State Agricultural Society, which will have charge at the exercises at the unveiling.

Andover Wins Third Game

The Andover boys took the third game of a series of ball games from the Wellsville aggregation here Sunday, by a score of 9 to 8. Thus winning two of the three games.

The game was a good one for the spectators as it was nobody's game right up to the last inning when the local boys won it by three hits in succession which scored two runs in the last half of the ninth.

Next Sunday the Hornell Aces will cross bats with the home boys on the Silk Mill diamond. Some contemplated changes in the line-up and the addition of McNulty, the popular left hander from Wellsville to the local team will strengthen up some weak spots on the team.

Score by innings of Wellsville game:

Wellsville 0 1 2 0 1 4 0 0 0
Eight runs; five hits; one error.
Andover 0 0 1 0 2 2 0 2 2
Nine runs; nine hits; five errors.

DEALERS MUST OBTAIN LICENSE

All Those Purchasing Milk From Producers Come Under the License Requirement, Sept. 1st.

Blanks are being sent out to 1,100 purchasers of milk for the submission of applications to the Department of Agriculture and Markets for licenses for the year beginning September 1, according to Commissioner Berne A. Pyrke. As a result of a Supreme Court decision in Buffalo it will be required that all dealers purchasing milk from producers must obtain a license from the department.

Commissioner Pyrke stated that under the law up to September 1, 1927, those shipping milk to a city for consumption within the city or for manufacture were required to obtain licenses. Under this law fluid milk dealers within cities were not required to obtain licenses from the department as they did not ship milk to a city and did not engage in the manufacture of dairy products. In one case there were three dealers within a city who, under the old law, were not required to obtain licenses, while three dealers just outside of the city were required to do so.

The law was changed effective September 1, 1927, so that all dealers or shippers were required to obtain licenses. Under the old law about 250 dealers were licensed and since the change the number has increased to 850. It is anticipated that the number licensed for the coming year will show a large increase. Under the existing law anyone purchasing milk from a producer has to have a license as a purchaser.

Action was brought by the state against a Buffalo purchaser who failed to obtain a license, and the case was argued before Supreme Court Justice Noonan. Judge Noonan's decision supports the contention of the department that all those purchasing milk from producers must obtain a license from the Department of Agriculture and Markets.

The next license year will begin September 1, and Kenneth F. Fee, director of the Dairy and Food Bureau of the department, is sending blanks to dealers so that they may forward their applications to the department. The law requires that applications must be filed on or before August 1, for the license year beginning September 1. This is to give the department an opportunity to examine the applications.

O. E. S. Allegany District Picnic

The Allegany District Order of Eastern Star picnic will be held at Cuba Lake, Tuesday p. m., August 6th. Basket picnic at 6 o'clock. Each chapter will look after their own eats.

Honor Birthdays

Members of Edward-Seaman Relief Corps gathered at the home of Mrs. Jennie Flint, Tuesday afternoon to celebrate the July birthdays at which there were five honor guests. During the afternoon a vocal solo by Mrs. Elmer Bixby and readings given by her neice from New York City, a guest at the Bixby home, were greatly enjoyed. A delicious dinner was served at 5 o'clock.

Ripe Tomatoes in July

R. E. Shaff brought to the News office Tuesday, and left it on display, a perfectly ripe tomato raised in his garden this year. It was of the Earliana variety. Shaff may go to the head of the class so far as we know in the culture of early tomatoes this year. Ripe tomatoes in July in Allegany county is a feat in garden culture.

KENNETH ALVORD'S CAR SIDESWIPED

Sam Hoffman of Wellsville Crowded Alvord Car Into Ditch Two Miles East of Wellsville.

When Kenneth Alvord was driving his Chevrolet coupe toward Wellsville, Thursday evening, August 1, driving along at about 30 miles an hour on the right side of a perfectly clear road about two miles east of Wellsville, a large Nash sedan driven by Sam Hoffman of Wellsville ran him into a four foot ditch.

Hoffman tried to pass the Alvord car, saw a car approaching and dropped back. He then reconsidered and thought he could get by, and again started to drive up. When directly opposite the Chevrolet he began to fear he would hit the approaching car and turned sharply to the right, sideswiping the Alvord car, his wheels climbing on the running board and forcing the lighter car into a four-foot ditch. The Hoffman car kept on over a four-foot embankment into the ditch, up the side of a bank and struck an Elm tree, crushing in the front of his car, which turned over on its left side.

Mr. Hoffman is 56 years old, and has a wooden leg. He claims to have been trying out a new brake arrangement. He was accompanied by his wife and a daughter, with an 18-months' old babe.

Mr. Hoffman was seriously injured in the smash-up. He had an eight inch cut in the head, and bled profusely. His wife was badly cut, her nose being nearly severed from her face.

The Nash sedan was badly damaged and the little Chevrolet had both fenders and runningboard demolished and the body jammed.

NEW DOG LAW HAS TEETH IN IT

Get "Bingo" a New License Tag or You Will Have to Pay a Fine of $10 to the State.

Have you bought your dog a new license tag yet? If you have not the News would advise you to let no grass grow under your feet until they carry you to Town Clerk Cheesman and you procure a license. This is meant for every dog-owner in Andover who has not already procured a license.

The new dog law, it appears, has teeth in it. If you own or harbor a dog August 1, that has not got a license and tag, the State of New York—not the Town of Andover, as heretofore—will take care of your case. They are already making arrangements to sue every unlicensed dog owner in Andover. The fine is $10 and costs and after paying that you will have to procure the license just the same. There is no dodging it this year or procrastination possible, or telling the dog-catcher to shoot the dogs. No dogs will be shot unless the owner does the shooting.

Town officials have been ordered to enumerate the dogs in Andover. This has been done. The News is informed that there are between 40 and 50 unlicensed dogs here now. That means that the state will collect between four and five hundred dollars from Andover dog owners in fines.

Better get "Bingo" a new license tag today and save yourself around $15.00. If you get bit by this new dog law, just blame yourself. Don't say you didn't know for we are telling you.

Blessed Sacrament Church Lawn Fete

The chicken dinner and Lawn Fete put on Wednesday evening, by the Blessed Sacrament church, was a big success in every way. Ideal weather, large attendance and a fine social time.

Guests were present from Hornell, Wellsville, Bolivar and other towns in the vicinity. Over 500 were served at dinner.

The lawn presented a fine appearance with its attractive booths and electric lighting.

Dancing was enjoyed in the hall in the evening.
