MRS. ELMIRA HATCH.

HEART DISEASE 20 YEARS.

Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.
DEAR SIR: For 20 years I was troubled with heart disease. I would frequently have falling spells and smothering at night. Had to sit up or get out of bed to breathe. Had pain in my left side and back most of the time; at last I became dropsical. I was very nervous and nearly worn out. The least excitement would cause me to faint. I was also much troubled with fluttering. For the last fifteen years I could not sleep on my left side or back until I began taking your Dr. Miles' Heart Cure. I had not taken it very long until I felt much better and I can now sleep on either side or back without the least discomfort. I have no pain, smothering, dropsy, no wind on stomach or other disagreeable symptoms. I am able to do all my own housework without any trouble and consider myself cured.

Elkhart, Ind., 1888. MRS. ELMIRA HATCH.
It is now four years since I have taken any medicine. Am in better health than I have been in 40 years. I honestly believe that Dr. Miles' Heart Cure saved my life and made me a well woman. I am now 62 years of age, and am able to do a good day's work.
May 29th, 1892. MRS. ELMIRA HATCH.

A Few Things That Have Happened Within One or Two Hundred Miles of Here.

A company of Friendship capitalists, including Judge Norton and Herman Rice, have invested in a natural gas plant in Seneca Falls.

Hiram Hurty, who was for many years a conductor on the Western Division of the Erie, died last week in Jersey City and was brought to Cuba for burial.

The annual convention of the county W. C. T. U. will be held in Belfast, Wednesday and Thursday, June 28 and 29. Mrs. Meriwether, of Tenn., will deliver the address Wednesday evening.

A political equality circle will be formed in Belmont soon. The ladies are getting ready to commence business and arouse public sentiment in favor of woman suffrage in Allegany county.

Much excitement now prevails in the village of Campbell, over the finding of a body of a human being, terribly burned, in the recent fire at that place. It is impossible to tell whether the body is that of a man or of a woman so badly is it burned.

Trainmen are authority for the statement that a new timetable will go into effect on the Erie May 1st. Train one will be a fast train making only three stops between Hornellsville and Salamanca. A "pick-up" train will go ahead of train one in the evening to collect the through passengers and do the way work.

The Standard Oil company will soon erect a large warehouse in Hornellsville at a cost of several thousand dollars, in which the company's oils will be received and done up in packages for distribution to dealers in this section of the state. The oil, which includes both illuminating and lubricating, will be brought from the Jamestown and Olean refineries in tank cars, and switches will be run from both tracks to the warehouse.

Fifteen post-offices have been robbed in Western New York during the past month. The authorities are inclined to believe that the same parties are responsible in all cases, the methods used having been the same. It is estimated that the burglaries have netted the thieves about $8,000. The robbers got about $1,000 in money and stamps at Hammondsport. The latest attempt to burglarize a post-office was Thursday night at Romulus. The thieves had nearly opened the burglar proof safe in the post-office, when they became frightened and fled. Government detectives are at work on the case, but the thieves are said to have left no clues.

A new situation has been developed in the Miner will case. No matter how the case is decided, Mrs. Wellman, Mrs. Corbin and Mrs. Lockwood will get one-half of $510,000, the amount of valuation by the appraisers. If the will does not stand, Mrs. Miner, (wife of A. W. Miner deceased) became entitled to one-half the personal estate. She in her will by a residuary clause, gave it all to the three ladies named. Consequently if Mr. Miner's will is held good, they get the whole $510,000, if not they have one-half under Mrs. Miner's will. The Olean Times says that by this turn the half will immediately be withdrawn from the pending litigation over the residuary clause of that will.

Mrs. E. C. Martindale wishes to call the attention of the ladies of Andover and the surrounding towns to her new stock of Spring Millinery, to which will be added the latest styles as they appear during the coming summer. Thanking them for past favors she solicits a continuance of the same.

My wife was confined to her bed for over two months with a very severe attack of rheumatism. We could get nothing that would afford her any relief, and as a last resort gave Chamberlain's Pain Balm a trial. To our great surprise she began to improve after the first application, and by using it regularly she was soon able to get up and attend to her house work. E. H. Johnson, of C. L. Persons who are subject to attacks of bilious colic can almost invariably tell, by their feelings, when to expect an attack. If Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is taken as soon as these symptoms appear, they can ward off the disease. Such persons should always keep the Remedy at hand, ready for immediate use when needed. Two or three doses of it at the right time will save them much suffering. For sale by L. A. Burrows.

HOW TO IMPROVE OUR ROADS.

The Prize Essay Written For The Farmers' Club by Uriah Davis of Andover.

Taking it for granted that the subject before us means the improvement of dirt roads as we see them all over our broad land, no one can say but that we have made great strides in that direction for a nation so young, but a little over a century old, and a good deal of it thinly settled till within the last quarter of a century. The settlers as they emigrated westward had the primitive forests to chop and clear for our roadways and it took years for the stumps and roots to rot out before they could do anything in the line of grading. As the stumps and roots were cleared away, the farmers began to grade our road beds the best they could with the clumsy tools they had to work with. In this day and age of American inventions we have the road machine and the stone crusher to aid us in the improvement of good dirt roads which is good enough for all practical purposes if properly built and kept in repair. Four men with three good teams and road machine can grade one-half mile per day of ten hours and do it in good shape. On the most of our land in this country the road should not be graded too high but a nice oval with good side ditches and side sluices at short intervals where there is much surface water liable to stand on the sides of the road bed. Where it is necessary to carry the water across the road, the sluices should be built under the road bed of good stone laid in lime and sand and covered with large flat stones. After the road bed is graded go over it with a good heavy roller. Also follow the road scraper with the roller every time there is occasion to smooth up the road bed which should be done several times on a good many roads in the course of the spring and summer. I am of the opinion that under our present system of districts and pathmasters a great deal of the labor is never or very poorly done in a good many localities. I would recommend that each town elect two or three men of good judgment as road commissioners to plan and to see that such labor is performed in good shape and time and do away with the pathmaster system. A good share of them are too easy with the work themselves on the road.

There is nothing in my mind that would be any better than every three or four districts to buy a road machine. It would be a great saving of hard labor and time and is money well invested and for towns that have more or less marshy land through which their roads run that is not susceptible of good drainage to own a good stone crusher which would be indispensable in making a good road bed on such land. If these suggestions are well carried out we will have but little to fear for good roads except a few days in the spring when the frosts are going out of the ground and if the drainage is kept good it will not last but a few days.

The road craze that has been going on all over the land for the last year or two to help the farmer out of the mud a few days in the spring mostly originated from the millionaire bicycle manufacturers and the millionaire money lenders and the newspaper fraternity in our land. The farmer has had but little to say about it. They have tried to make us believe that the wear and tear on our horse flesh and the extra keep and the extra amount of horses we would have to keep in order to get our produce to market would nearly make paved roads all over the United States. While we could draw larger loads on a paved road they have forgotten to tell us that we would have to use heavy cumbersome wagons to hold up such heavy loads that would be too heavy for all practical purposes. They also forgot to tell us that horses stave up a good deal faster on paved roads than they do on dirt roads. Where the young American drives his fast stepper and fine carriage, our wagons and carriages are shorter lived there being no give as there is to a dirt road. The constant jar will take the gimp all out of iron and steel in a little while when in constant use.

It is quite a common thing to see loads of two or three tons weight in some localities hauled on common tired wagons over our team on our dirt roads. What more need we ask. Go slow on bonding for better roads. It will create a new line of high salaried officers and put a tax on our children and grandchildren to shoulder that would be a heavy burden to them.

One who is for better roads.

URIAH DAVIS.

Died.

At his home in this town, this (Wednesday) morning, Thomas McGrath, aged 65 years. Mr. McGrath was born in Ireland and came to this country forty-three years ago. He was a respected citizen and was well known in this vicinity. The funeral will be held at the Church of the Blessed Sacrament in this village Saturday.

Equipped Just Like Andover.

The village of Vincent, in the town of Bristol, Ontario county, was almost totally destroyed by fire Saturday morning. About 6 o'clock the barn of Orestes Case was discovered on fire, and before a bucket brigade could be formed, the flames had not only consumed the building, but had spread to adjoining property. The origin of the fire is unknown, but is believed to have been the work of an incendiary.

Public Discussion.

A public session of the Columbian Society of Andover Union School will be held at the school house next Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock, to which everybody is invited. There will be a discussion of the question, "Resolved, that the Elective Franchise Should be Granted to Women," and those who attend, whether members of the Association or not, will have the privilege of expressing their views upon the subject. As this question is just now agitating the minds of all classes of people, there should be a large attendance at this meeting, and a full discussion of the question.

Of Interest to Masons.

Official notice is given by the grand secretary that the 112th annual communication of the grand lodge of free and accepted masons in the state of New York will open in masonic hall, New York city, at 2 p. m., on the sixth day of next June. In addition to the routine business, which is of near importance to the craft, the election of officers for the year 1893-94 will take place, probably on the second day of the communication. This will interest the "country representatives" especially, as in the ordinary course of events a junior grand warden will be elected from the floor, and that officer, by the terms of the constitution, must be selected from outside of the "metropolitan district."

Wellsville M. E. Church Dedicated.

From the Wellsville Reporter.

Sunday was a great day for the Methodist Episcopal Society of Wellsville. It witnessed the dedication of their beautiful new church, the pledging of $800, and three very interesting services.

At 10 a. m. the morning services commenced. Fully 900 people were seated in the main room, the prayer room, back and in chairs in the aisles, and a hundred more were standing.

There were present Bishop J. H. Vincent and the following former and visiting clergymen: Revs. E. P. Hubbell, of Buffalo; C. G. Stevens, of Bergen; Wm. Brady, of Portville; D. Leisenring, of Rochester; E. A. Rice, A. W. Cummings, E. A. Leeper, M. W. Covell and Mr. Kleeberger of Wellsville. The other churches in the city had given up their services in order to permit all to attend the dedication.

Bishop Vincent preached the sermon, after the opening exercises, from the text "He made known his ways unto Moses, his acts unto the children of Israel," Psalms 103:7. It was an able and instructive discourse, as are all the reverend gentleman's efforts.

Rev. E. P. Hubbell conducted the financial part of the services, and so well was this done that $5,000 was pledged, the amount needed to leave the new church free of debt. Then $2,000 more was subscribed for an organ.

Following this Bishop Vincent read the ritual of dedication, and the magnificent edifice was consecrated to God's work. The morning service closed at 1:30 p. m.

At 3:30 p. m., the church was well filled to listen to Rev. E. H. Latimer, of Olean. His address was excellent. Bishop Vincent followed describing a trip to Europe and showing easily how a party of young men could enjoy such a treat. It was a talk that should have been heard by every young man in Wellsville.

In the evening the church was again crowded. A platform meeting was held and the pastors of this city, and former pastors spoke.

The exercises of the day were very interesting to all, and particularly so to the good people of the Methodist Society who have labored so long and faithfully to build their beautiful house of worship. The happy result is likewise a pleasure to every citizen of Wellsville.
