MACHINE AGE FUSION

We have heard much in recent years on how the machine is taking jobs away from the people. Improving the product more with fewer men than they did even a few years ago.

And now behold. One of the oldest and most highly honored of professions is endangered by the machine age. A lie detector can be used in the courts, it is said, to determine whether the defendant is telling the truth or prevaricating, a good case for himself.

"Now where," any man may ask, "does the attorney fit into the new age of mechanical jurisprudence? Why, a lie detector can be easily set up in a mechanical jury box, and the machine can do the rest."

WHO IS TO BLAME? FARMER OR MERCHANT

This is a true story that happened in a town in Iowa.

A man entered a store and made a small purchase. As the merchant was wrapping it up for him the customer occasionally glanced under his arm and wonder if you would mind wrapping this up a little better for me. It is a little out of my way and I would like to have it look presentable."

The merchant was pleased to announce to the customer that they had just got in a new line of wrapping paper and that they would be glad to try it out for something new. It was done and the customer went away.

A week later the merchant was surprised to see the same man come into the store and ask for the same thing again. The customer told him that he was very much pleased with the wrapping paper and that he would like to have some more of it. The merchant told him that he was very much pleased to have the customer like the paper and that he would be glad to have him come in and get more of it.
