"NEXT PRESIDENT" POLL IS BOOMING

Field Widens as American Press Invites Subscribing Papers to Join in Nation-Wide Balloting.

The nation-wide non-partisan poll on Presidential candidates for 1936 looms larger and of more importance each week, as the balloting gets under full swing.

Whereas the Andover News, together with some 2,000 other newspapers thruout the country, originally agreed to conduct the "Our Next President Poll," the idea has caught on in a big way, and the field has been widened until the final nation-wide tabulation of the vote gives promise of being the most representative small-town and rural America expression of political preference ever compiled preceding major party conventions and the final election of a President.

The American Press magazine, speaking to its newspaper publisher subscribers, in the October issue just released, has invited all of them to join in the poll with their newspapers, their ballots to be tabulated and included in the final nation-wide count.

Inasmuch as the idea for the nation-wide poll received the overwhelming approval of the original 2,000 newspapers now conducting the "Our Next President Poll," it is not amiss to estimate that between 4,000 and 5,000 newspapers will be included and help conduct the poll before its completion.

Voting Open To All

The "Our Next President Poll" is non-partisan and does not, in any manner, politically commit the voter. To vote is only to register an expression of the political preference of the individual voter. The voter does not have to sign his name. He only indicates, by vote, whom he would like to have nominated as presidential candidate in 1936, and on which party ticket he would like to see him make the race.

In effect this, "Our Next President Poll," is a nation-wide direct primary of the presidential preferences of the individual voters. Its value may easily be more far-reaching than imagined, in that the poll is rapidly developing such extensive nation wide scope that party leaders might well take heed and see to it that convention nominations are in line with the voters' choices.

Have you cast your ballot yet, Mr. Reader? If not, why not join in this poll by clipping, voting and mailing the ballot printed in another column of this paper? It will take but a moment of your time and the vote will help the Andover News tell other voters thruout the country who we here in New York State want as our presidential candidates next year.

National Returns Soon

The Publishers Autocaster News Service of New York has agreed to officiate as a national headquarters for the poll. The Andover News will first report to you how the local voting is going and then mail the ballots on to New York for national tabulation.

Autocaster News Service, which serves the Andover News and the 2,000 papers, the original sponsors of this "Next President Poll," has agreed to supply us each week with carefully tabulated nation-wide returns, state by state, thruout the duration of the poll.

Again, may we suggest, that you clip, vote and mail the "Our Next President" ballot below, to this newspaper today. It costs you nothing to vote. You do not have to sign your name. And, you will assist greatly in indicating to party leaders who you would like to see nominated for the Presidency at that party's national convention next year.

Clip, vote and mail the ballot today. Let's all help make it 100 per cent nation-wide.

OUR NEXT PRESIDENT - POLL

This newspaper is cooperating with 2000 other newspapers in making this nation-wide poll.

Surrogate Court Items

Mabel Rogers, widow, and Marion R. Theetge, daughter, both of Andover, were named administrators of the $3,300 personality and $4,000 real estate of E. Park Rogers, Andover, who died September 7th. They are the only heirs.

Erwin Jordan, Bolivar, brother, will administer the $1,000 personal and $2,000 real property estate of LeRoy E. Jordan of Andover, who died September 7th, leaving his widow, Kate Jordan, Andover; his son, Randall, Olean, and a daughter, Grace Alexander, Buffalo.

Arling R. Baker, Andover, executor, Carolyn Hincher, Andover, $6,000 estate, made judicial settlement.

For the first time in some years two Allegany county residents have been declared judicially dead. Patrick W. Cooney, once resident of Andover was left $216.12 from the estate of his father, James Cooney of the town of Andover. It is more than 50 years since the son was heard from. He was in Omaha, Nebraska, engaged in railroad work in 1884 and communications ceased to come from him in that year, the proprietor of his boarding house writing that his whereabouts were unknown. The sum mentioned was later placed in the county treasurer's hands and kept there for 20 years and then sent to the state comptroller's office where it was proposed Now a brother, Edward M. Cooney of Rochester, and Herbert B. Ackerman of Belmont, have been made administrators of the estate of Patrick Cooney to which the brother, a niece, a nephew, a grandnephew and two grandnieces are heirs.

Nothing has been heard from Leland Woodard, formerly of the town of Wirt, missing since June 22, 1923 leaving an estate estimated at $325. A brother, Edgar Woodard, Friendship, has been named administrator of this supposedly dead man's estate. A second brother, Henry Woodard of Conneaut, Pa., is also an heir. The funds are in the county treasurer's hands.

Sounds difficult, doesn't it? But not with electricity at today's bargain rates! Mrs. Newlywed can have seven, nine, or nineteen quick efficient electric servants for a few pennies a day apiece!

What a "break" low cost electricity gives the modern woman. It does her washing and ironing, cooks and sews and mixes her cakes, keeps her house neat as a pin — yet remains one of the smallest items in her budget.

Not only have electric rates dropped from time to time, but here's another saving — the more you use the less each kilowatt hour costs. Like buying doughnuts by the dozen instead of a few at a time!

Wet Feet.

If your leather shoes wet thru, give them a generous dressing with Neatslene and it will soften the leather and make them waterproof—25c box.

Frosty Mornings

The time of year when the weather is hard on your hands. A cold rain, a snow storm, and raw winds causes chapped and sore hands. A pair of Gloves or Mittens will go a long way toward preventing this condition. Even a pair of Jersey or Canvas Gloves are a great protection.

These range in price from 15 to 25 cents. Besides these you will find a good horseshide front with a canvas back for 50 cents and an all leather horsehide with a short or gauntlet wrist whichever suits you best for 75c.

Pumpkin Time

What looks or tastes better at this time of year than a good pumpkin pie?

In order to produce the best results it takes good equipment. Kettles to cook in, collanders or sieves, basins or bowls for mixing and last but not least a good deep tin for baking. If any of these are lacking in your kitchen equipment, we can supply your needs at moderate price. Tin pie tins from 5 to 10c; enamel ones from 15 to 40c and glass ones at 45c.

Squirrels and Partridges

The hunting season on squirrels and partridges opens Oct. 15.

The hunters will be going to the woods early that morning. The first thing that comes to your mind is ammunition.

For several years we have sold Remington shells and as they are made by one of the largest and most reliable of all the shell makers we feel we have as good a shell as can be made.

All Kleanbore Shells and these only are corrugated.

This improvement alone insures—Non-skid handling; faster feeding; easier extraction; smoother ejection; stiffer, stronger and tougher shells.

The lines we carry are Nitro Express and Shur Shot.

Shur Shot is the popular low price shell for all ordinary game. We have them in 12 and 16 gauge in the size loads most commonly used. Priced at 79c for 16 gauge and 89c for 12 gauge make them a real buy.

Grass Seeds

Timothy and Clover are both on a declining market so don't buy too early.

Prospects are that it will be cheaper later during the winter.

Morning Worship, 10:30. Sermon subject, "Progressive Christianity."

Evening worship, 7:30. Text: "Let no one despise thy Youth."

This is a time for every member to work for the honor of our church by meeting all our obligations on a high plane of duty and honor. When the minister receives his salary which was fully agreed upon in quarterly conference, he will in turn be able to meet his obligations of same for a family of eight. We have served, preached the Gospel of Christ and lived in a manner for which before God we are humble but before man we are not ashamed We of the parsonage believe that the two following portions of God's Word were never more fitting:

1. "I am not ashamed of the Gospel, for it is the power of God unto Salvation to every one that believeth."

2. "The workman is worthy of his hire."

A Service of Memory

No one thing unites the hearts of Christian people so quickly as do the memories connected with the "little church in the vale;" the sweet voices of loved ones, now gone, lifted in tuneful praise, the old hymns, the Book of our fathers. Enjoy a few hours of fellowship with your neighbors, friends and family at this service of the "yesteryears." The morning has been planned to suit the spirit of these thoughts and the music especially. The service will begin at the usual time, 10:30 o'clock, Sunday morning.

Sermon title: "Out Our Way." (A sermon for those who remember.) Sermon text: II Kings XX:15 "What have they seen in thy house?"

Remember, the fellowship dinner will be served immediately after the conclusion of the morning service. Bring enough sandwiches for yourself and family and a covered dish of food. This dinner is no less important than the first service, for about the tables worship will continue in the form of fellowship with our friends. A special musical number has been arranged for this fellowship hour. Plan to come, bring your family, your friends, and invite those who have no church home to join us.

Young People will meet at 6:30 p. m., Sunday evening in the Sunday School rooms. "Looking Ahead" will be the thought of the evening. Everyone is invited.

All those young people interested in helping out on Project No. 1 will meet at the church Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Sir:

We are wondering why Andover High School is not having a football team this fall, inasmuch as they have sufficient equipment purchased last year. The teams in the surrounding vicinity are unusually weak, while Andover has a good number of experienced players.

We would greatly appreciate a sufficient, intelligent reason for the termination of this major fall sport in Andover High School.

Yours till Andover has a soccer team.

Signed SPORT FANS.
