VICINITY NEWS.

A Few Things That Have Happened With-

in One or Two Hundred Miles of Here.

The Allegany farmers' picnic will be held at the Cuba camp grounds on June 6th. The principal speakers will be the Hon. F. A. Converse of Woodville, Judge S. M. Norton of Friendship and the Rev. Dr. Wilson of Olean.

Last Thursday sparks from a locomotive set fire to another building in Scio—the farm house of Albert Babcock, just east of the village, which was consumed. Loss $500. The Erie locomotives need spark arresters when they pass through Scio.

The grand jury was in session last week at Belmont, and an effort was made to indict J. N. Middaugh for cruelty to animals in debauching cattle.

Evidence was taken but the grand jury failed to find an indictment, and it is supposed this will be the last of the matter.

The citizens of Trumansburg, N. Y., were treated to a ghastly sight the other day. It was nothing less than a dog dragging the remains of an infant through the street.

An investigation of the surroundings was made when it was discovered the child had been dug up from under a cellar on an adjoining lot west of the one occupied by Mr. Ludlow.

A portion of one leg and one arm of the child were gone. There are suspicions of foul play in regard to the child's death and the matter is being investigated.

Samuel M. McBride, one of the best known men in the Pennsylvania oil fields, died Monday evening. It is thought he was poisoned. Mr. McBride was a sufferer from a nervous disease caused by the morphine habit, and had accompanied his physician, Dr. Rae, to Kane, Pa., a mountain resort, to take treatment. Dr. Rae says McBride was feeling well all day up to about 8:15 p. m., at which time he took a powder made to him in an anonymous letter from Bradford. A few moments after taking the powder, which he supposed was morphine, he was attacked by violent cramps. He died in about 20 minutes.

An attempt was made to burglarize the Little Valley postoffice Monday night. An entrance was gained and the safe drilled in the same manner as at the Cuba office three weeks ago. It is unquestionably the work of the same gang. A press dispatch says: The postoffice at Little Valley was broken into by burglars Monday night and an entrance was effected through the front door by means of chisels, with which the lock was pried open. A half inch hole three inches deep was drilled in the safe near the knob, with the evident purpose of blowing the lock to pieces, but before they had completed the job the burglars were evidently alarmed and hastily fled, leaving a complete set of new drills, bit-stock, chisels and mallet. The mallet and chisels were taken from a tool chest at the new house of Dr. Barnes. The burglars were undoubtedly professionals. The safe contained about $400 worth of stamps, but no money of account.

Death of B. W. Deming.

Mr. Burr W. Deming, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Deming of this town, died at the residence of his father-in-law, Mr. O. Rosebush, in this village, Tuesday morning at about one o'clock, of disease of the lungs and bronchial tubes. His age was twenty-four years. Mr. Deming had been afflicted for some time. He was compelled to return a few months ago from Brockport, where he held a good position, and he and his wife took up their residence with her parents. Since that time Mr. Deming has grown gradually worse, although his death was perhaps not expected at this time by his friends, who hoped from the first that he might recover. Mr. Deming was a young man of much ability. He was highly respected, and his untimely death is mourned by a wide circle of friends. His parents, wife, and other relatives have the sincere sympathy of the entire community.

The funeral services were held this afternoon at the home of Mr. Rosebush.

MEMORIAL DAY.

It is Observed in an Appropriate Manner in Andover.

Memorial Day was appropriately observed yesterday in Andover. All of the business places and many private residences were decorated with flags and bunting, and the people of the village and town laid aside their usual duties to honor the memory of the heroes of the war. The program published in the News last week was carried out successfully, and the exercises were conducted and witnessed in a manner befitting the occasion. A long procession followed the national colors to the cemetery, and flowers and flags were placed upon the graves of the soldier dead, and the usual services were held. The assemblage then repaired to the opera house, which was tastefully decorated. After the usual prefatory exercises Rev. C. W. Stevens of Wallace, N. Y., addressed the audience. Mr. Wallace is an earnest speaker, and his ideas and opinions were those of a true-blue, loyal American citizen. The singing was especially well rendered and was one of the notable features of the occasion. The martial and cornet bands furnished plenty of good music and the exercises from first to last were a grand success.

The Memorial Address.

The annual Memorial Address was delivered last Sunday morning at the Church of the Blessed Sacrament by Rev. J. D. Biden. Seaman Post G. A. R., Lincoln Camp S. V. and the Womans' Relief Corps attended in a body, and the large edifice was none too large to accommodate the audience, every seat being occupied, as also were chairs placed in the aisles. The usual mass was held, after which Rev. Father Biden delivered a most interesting, instructive and eloquent address. His cordial words of welcome in behalf of himself and congregation were duly appreciated by the audience, as also was the effort made by members of the church and the ushers to make every possible arrangement for the convenience of those who attended. The Rev. Father's patriotic words found a ready echo in the hearts of all present, and the address from first to last was listened to with the strictest attention. Increased affection and honor for the heroes of the war, living and dead, and an augmented desire for peace among men and nations, must be the result in the hearts of those who were so fortunate as to be present. The interior of the church, including the altar, was handsomely decorated with flowers and flags, and the stars and stripes occupied a prominent position at the entrance to the vestibule.

Sunday School Institute at Andover.

A Sunday School Institute for a part of the Olean District, including Allentown, Andover, Angelica, Belmont, Friendship, Scio, Stannards Corners, Ulysses, Wellsville and Whitesville, will be held at Andover June 12 and 13. Rev. F. H. Cowman of Wellsville will be the conductor. The Institute will convene Monday evening, June 12 and continue until five o'clock Tuesday, June 13. Monday evening there will be an address by Rev. Ward Platt, of Hornellsville; subject, "Christ the Great Teacher." Tuesday's program will consist of ten minute papers upon topics of interest to Sunday School workers. Each paper will be followed by a discussion upon the subject thereof. Prominent ministers, Sunday School Superintendents and teachers will be present from each of the places named above, and it is hoped there will be a large attendance of all interested in Sunday School work. Without hesitation we declare that the people of Andover will cordially welcome all who may come.

Last Week's Court.

But little business was done at the County Court last week until Wednesday, when the case of the people vs. Ed. Bacon was called for trial. Bacon was indicted for perjury. The case lasted two days and the defendant was found guilty and sentenced to State's prison for four and one-half years.

In the case of Mrs. Ella Rumpff, who was indicted for criminal libel, her attorney, Fred A. Robins, moved for a dismissal of the indictment on the ground that illegal means were used to secure the same. The motion was granted and the indictment dismissed.

Married.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Z. Cook in this town, Saturday evening, May 27, 1893, occurred the marriage of Mr. Arthur Moland and Mrs. Ella Seaman. The bride is a sister of Mrs. Cook and a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Wood of this place. A large number of relatives and friends were present to witness the ceremony and offer congratulations to the worthy couple. Every part of the program was successfully carried out, and not the least enjoyable feature was the wedding supper. The bride received many handsome and useful presents. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. W. Gibson.

Mrs. Amanda Baker.

Amanda wife of Geo. M. Baker, died at her home in the town of Andover, N. Y., May 29, 1893, aged 50 years. Mrs. Baker had been an invalid, confined to the bed since July last, a sufferer with consumption. Every thing was done for her that could be done, with but little hope of her recovery. She was a faithful and devoted christian, a kind and indulgent mother, and a faithful wife. She was loved by all who knew her. She endured her pain and suffering with perfect christian grace, without murmur or complaint. Her last words were "Jesus, I come." Mrs. Baker was the daughter of John B. and Abigail Harris; she was born in the town of Italy, Yates Co., N. Y., November 20, 1833. She leaves a husband, five daughters and two sons, also a large circle of friends to mourn their loss. The funeral services were held at the house Wednesday afternoon, Rev. G. W. Gibson officiating. The deceased was buried Thursday afternoon in the Friends cemetery in the town of Jerusalem, Yates Co., N. Y., where her father, mother and nearly all the members of the family are laid at rest.

Here disease invades our frames,
We wither, droop and die;
But there, eternal youth shall bloom,
And bright shall beam each eye.

Here we meet and part again,
As round and round we roam;
But there we'll meet and part no more,
And sweetly rest at Home.

We desire to return our sincere thanks to all the kind friends who so generously and untriflingly rendered all necessary aid and assistance to us in the recent heavy affliction that has fallen upon us in the death of our beloved wife and mother.
