St. Valentine's Day

SAINT VALENTINE'S DAY is tomorrow, February 14th, the day to send messages of love and hope; the custom of paying homage to Cupid and one's own true love dates back to the early Roman days. The legend has it that Valentino, a handsome, dashing youth, while awaiting execution, formed a friendship with the blind daughter of his jailer and in a message of farewell, written to her on the eve of his death, signed it, "From Your Valentine."

Thru the centuries many quaint customs prevailed. England leads with its fine examples of lace paper work and embossing with beautifully applied motifs of rare delicacy. As the actual form of the Valentine with its greeting, there is doubt of its origin, but as early as Pepys time the custom of exchanging mottos became fashionable and also an expensive one, as his diary of 1667 relates of his expensive jewel gift to Mrs. Pepys, also the Duke of York gave to the Lady Arabella Stuart of jewel of about £800.

Of course, these Valentine's with their fine lace work, inserts of satin, chiffon and decorative motifs came to America and to date we have the modern charming Valentine. The day is much feted here with Valentines, flowers, sweets and telegrams. Western Union sent out 600,000 Valentine messages last year.

Let us always observe this quaint old custom with its messages of sentiment.

Curing a Cold

AT THIS time of year millions of people are suffering from the disease called the common cold, which in many cases runs into grippe or influenza or perhaps something far worse. Millions of people are sneezing and coughing, trying in vain to scare the bugs out of their noses and throats. Many of them go to their jobs with heads so stuffy that they can hardly think or do a real day's work.

All kinds of remedies are offered. The doctors say one of the best is the plan of going to bed and staying there until the cold is better, or at least until there is no temperature. Whatever the American people's faults are, they do hate lying inactive in bed. They will often spend weeks there, because they weren't willing to rest there for 24 hours at the start of their trouble.

And if you are one who has not yet said: "Ah-h-h choo-o," and have not had the flu, we assure you there still is time to catch it 'ere you go gathering wild flowers.

We've enjoyed courtesy and willing service so much that we sort of hate to see the depression end.

Does anybody really like to be read to?

More For Our Money

IT IS not so long ago that a person doing the daily shopping had to be a shrewd trader without coming out on the very short end. For many years the United States Government has been trying to prevent the subtlest form of cheating the public—misleading labeling and advertising. Up to now the Congress has passed laws making it mandatory that articles sold bear a label stating its true nature, cause contents in packaged foods, drugs and merchandise. Under merchandise, wool is in the spotlight. After July, manufacturers will be required to tell exactly what kind of wool is in the merchandise. Few people seem to realize that two items, both labeled "100 per cent wool," are not necessarily the same. One may be made entirely of new wool, while the other may contain a mixture of new and old, or re-processed wool. Altho both of these garments are "all wool," one is inferior to the other. New wool or virgin wool is wool that has never been used. Each fiber is long and resilient. Shoddy wool or reclaimed wool is wool that has been previously used but ground to a fibrous mass then respun and rewoven. The old woolen coat which was sold to the junkman for a dime has been used in the manufacture of a new coat.

This new law does not prohibit the use of reclaimed wool, but it does make it mandatory that the consumer know the grade of wool that is being purchased; what can be expected for our money. The average man's suit uses about three and one-half pounds of virgin wool. Reclaimed wool, it is said, averages about one-third the cost of new wool. In comparison with the new wool there is "very little difference in price, but a vast difference in wearing quality" as costs for production are about the same. The passing of this law will give us more for our money.

Cheer Up!

IT IS NOT too late for a resolution for the year. Why not cheer up and smile. It's never so bad but it might be worse. No frown ever made a heart glad. No complaint ever made a dark day bright. No bitter word ever lightened a burden or made a rough road smooth.

SMILE every time you get a chance—it's the smile that wins.

SMILE if you're thin—laugh if you're fat. If you are neither, just grin.

SMILE at hard luck—the fates may think you like it and quit.

SMILE at the past and you can grin at the future.

SMILE when you're awake and you will laugh in your sleep.

SMILE when you fail and you'll die laughing at your success.

SMILE at a dime and it will look like a dollar.

SMILE every time you think of it and you'll soon have the habit.

Never let the sun set on your troubles—set on them yourself.

What's become of the old-fashioned doctor who used to sit at the bedside for an hour and talk things over?

After the first 15 minutes, what do women say to each other by telephone in the next 15 minutes.

About the only people who seem to have any fear of the police or the courts are the law-abiding citizens who never get into trouble.
