How's Your Liver?

Is the Oriental salutation, knowing that good health cannot exist without a healthy liver. When the liver is torpid the bowels are sluggish and constipated, the food lies in the stomach undigested, poisoning the blood; frequent headache ensues; a feeling of lassitude, despondency and nervousness indicate how the whole system is deranged. Simmons Liver Regulator has been the means of restoring more people to health and happiness by giving them a healthy liver than any agency known on earth. It acts with extraordinary power and efficacy.

NEVER BEEN DISAPPOINTED.

As a general family remedy for dyspepsia, Torpid liver, Constipation, etc., I hardly ever see anything else, and have never been disappointed in the effect produced; it seems to be almost a perfect cure for all diseases of the stomach and bowels.

NOW FOR OIL.

This Field To Be Developed—Connection With The Standard Lines.

GAS FOR WHITESVILLE.

The Mutual Company Has Secured the Right of Way and Will Extend Its Lines to that Village.

It has long been a conceded fact among oil men that the Andover oil field is sufficiently extensive and valuable to warrant the expenditure of time and money in its development. The principal drawbacks have been the low price of oil and the lack of facilities for transporting the oil to refineries. Enough has been known to warrant the opinion that moderately productive wells could be found throughout quite an extensive territory. The Mutual Gas Company, the members of which held this opinion, has for many months past been making an effort to provide an outlet for the product of this field. At last the effort has proved successful, and the National Transit company has agreed to take the oil into its pipe lines, which run through this town. For this purpose the company has placed a pump on the lands of Mr. Joseph Crosby, about two miles east of this village on the Greenwood road. The oil will be pumped from the tanks in this field into the lines of this company, and now all that remains to be done here in order to properly develop this field is for those interested to furnish the oil.

The persons likely to profit most by this arrangement, excepting, of course, the owners of the land on which the wells will be drilled, will probably be the members of the Mutual Gas Company. They are likewise the persons most deserving of whatever profit there may be in, as it is they who have made it possible for this great benefit to come to this place. They have been untiring in effort, and unstinted in the expenditure of money. They have given us the best natural gas plant in the United States, and also the lowest rates for fuel. They deserve all they can get in the way of remuneration. They hold leases upon a large portion of available oil and gas territory, and are in a position to use either gas or oil. In this connection we will state that the Mutual Company has secured the right of way to Whitesville, and will extend its gas lines to that place, giving the people of our neighboring village the privilege of using this most desirable fuel.

This company has the rig up for a well on the lands of Redmon Brothers and McBeth, about one-half mile north of the R. A. Pease well, and the work of drilling will be pushed rapidly forward.

The oil produced in this field has been analyzed and found superior to any oil produced in the Allegany field. There is no expectation of finding oil in very large quantities, but it is a fact that an almost unlimited number of moderately productive wells may be drilled here, insuring a sufficient production to make the enterprise very profitable for both the land owner and the producer.

It has also been demonstrated that there is gas enough in this field for Andover, with plenty to spare for supplying adjoining small villages. There is much land in this field not now covered by lease, and it is for the common interest of the owners of the same and the inhabitants of the town for said owners to co-operate with responsible oil men in the development of the territory.

Dr. J. L. Liberman.

The regular visiting optician of Penn Yan, N. Y., will again be in Andover three days only, June 22, 23 and 24, at the American House. All parties wishing to have their eyes fitted with good glasses should not fail to give me a call, as I test each eye separately and guarantee a fit or no sale.

Please remember that I charge nothing for testing your eyes, and all glasses bought of me can be exchanged at any time free of charge if not chipped or broken. Remember your eyes are next to your mother.

Thanking you for past favors, I am respectfully yours,

DR. J. L. LIBERMAN,

Regular visiting optician, Penn Yan, N. Y.

Petition for Vote on Water Works.

We stated last week that a petition had been presented to the Board of Village Trustees, asking that the question of village ownership of a water works plant might again be submitted to a vote. The petition is as follows: To the Board of Trustees of the Village of Andover: The undersigned, voters and tax-payers of said village, request that a meeting of the electors of said village may be called as provided by section 21 of chapter 181 of the laws of 1875, entitled "An act to authorize the villages of the state of New York to furnish pure and wholesome water to the inhabitants thereof," to ascertain whether or not said electors desire that said village shall establish, maintain and own water works for said village as in said act provided.

Mr. B. W. Deming.

The death of Mr. B. W. Deming was announced in last week's issue of this paper, but the character of the young man and the general estimation in which he was held seem to demand a more extended notice.

Mr. Deming was the son of Mr. W. J. Deming and until the last few years his home was in this town. About two years ago he was married to Miss Florence E. Rosebush, removing at once to Brockport, N. Y., where he held a responsible position in the First National Bank. There, as here, he made many friends, and apparently had the brightest of prospects before him. For some time his health has been far from rugged, but his almost invincible determination kept him about his work until symptoms that could not be misunderstood compelled his return to this place a few months ago. Since then he has gradually failed, until early Tuesday morning, May 30, 1893, he quietly breathed his last.

Mr. Deming was a man of whom every one spoke well; of pure and noble character, a kind and tender husband, a dutiful son. More than this, he acknowledged his allegiance to his Maker, and declared his willingness to abide His will.

The funeral was attended from the residence of his father-in-law, Mr. Oliver Rosebush, Rev. G. M. Janes, pastor of the Presbyterian church officiating, assisted by Rev. G. W. Gibson of the Methodist church. The very large number in attendance—far more than could gain admission to the house—testified most emphatically to the general esteem in which he was held. The bereaved wife, parents, and all the relatives have the sincere sympathy of the entire community.

The undersigned return their sincere thanks for the kind offices of neighbors and friends during the sad affliction that has so recently come upon them.

Building Notes.

The foundation is laid for H. Mourness' new store.

M. H. Harman's new building is nearly enclosed.

Mrs. Willis Slocum's new house on Dyke street is enclosed and the work is going rapidly forward.

The cellar has been begun for a new house on Centre street to be built by Mrs. Anna Delaney.

A. C. Frisbey's new house at the south end of Main street is nearing completion. It is one of the finest residences in Andover, and has all the modern improvements. Mr. Frisbey need not wonder if some of his friends "covet their neighbor's house."

C. M. Wood has begun the cellar for a new house on the corner of First St. and Maple avenue. He does not intend to build until later in the season.

J. J. Brown has the cellar dug for a house on Van Fleet's addition.

L. C. Van Fleet will soon build a house on "the hill."

J. L. Chase is preparing to build a new house on his farm in East Valley.

A meeting of those interested in building a parsonage for the Presbyterian pastor was held yesterday, and it was decided to begin work at once upon the plans, etc., and commence the work of building as soon as possible. The house will be built on the lot on East avenue, given to the society by James Owen, of which we have made mention.

Walter Lanphear is making improvements on his dwelling house on Greenwood street.

Wescott & Van Noy's large livery barn is nearly completed.

A Transfer of Rectors.

It was known to many people in Andover that Rev. J. D. Biden, rector of the Church of the Blessed Sacrament in this place, had entered the examination preceding the appointment of an irremovable rector of St. Anne's church in Hornellsville, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late Father O'Laughlin. A class of eighteen priests underwent the examination last week, only two of whom—Rev. Father Barlow of Ellicottville, and Rev. Father Biden of this place—passed, these two standing equally well at the close of the examination, and each being entitled to the appointment by reason of having given satisfactory evidence of his ability. The appointment, however, was given to Father Barlow, for the reason that he has been longer in the priesthood than has Father Biden. This leaves a vacancy at Ellicottville, which Father Biden has been called to fill. But this is not all of the story: Father Biden, having passed the examination will be appointed to the next vacancy that occurs in either of the parishes where the rector is irremovable. There are ten of these rectorships in this Diocese, the parish at Hornellsville being one of the smallest. These ten rectors will elect the next Bishop of this Diocese, and have other duties of a special character to perform.

Father Biden leaves today for his new field of duty. The people of this place do not bid him good by and God-speed without a deep feeling of regret. He has endeared himself to the people of his church, and to the people of the community, to an unprecedented extent. He will carry with him the best wishes of every person in this place, but he will leave in the hearts of the people pleasant memories of his geniality, his ability as a teacher of his people, his good qualities as a citizen, and his good deeds and kind words. He will also leave substantial evidences of his enterprise in the improvements that have been made to the house of worship and its surroundings. Since coming to Andover he has been the means of placing a fine new pipe organ in the church, and has caused the interior of the edifice to be beautified and improved in many respects. As the successor of Father Brown he found much work devolving upon him which, owing to the protracted illness of his lamented and respected predecessor, the latter was obliged to leave for more vigorous hands to do.

Father Biden will be succeeded here by Rev. T. A. Murray of Olean, who stands high in point of ability, and who, we have no doubt, will be cordially welcomed by all.
