OF ANDOVER HISTORY

TAKEN FROM THE FILES OF THE ANDOVER NEWS

FIFTY YEARS AGO

JAN. 20, 1892

H. C. Norris, Editor

Rachael Slocum and a group of her pupils from East Valley arrived at Abram Slocum's Saturday evening for a social time. Candy, popcorn and peanuts were the refreshments.

Word has been received in Andover of the death of G. W. Estabrook of Hovana, N. Y., Sunday a. m. Mr. Estabrook was an old time resident of Andover.

Sleigh rides are the popular fad now. A merry sleigh load of Andover's young people went to Belmont Wednesday evening. They stopped at the Hotel Belmont where they were royally entertained. Those in the party were Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Bundy, Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Burrows, Mr. and Mrs. James Pardon, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Phillips, Misses Lizzie Pardon, Minnie Freeborn, Millie Barney, Henrietta Leonard, Messrs. J. E. Cannon, L. H. Thompson, J. P. Cannon, Robert O'Donnell.

The camp fire at G. A. R. Hall last Saturday night was a very enjoyable affair. The Sons of Veterans and ladies of the W. R. C. did everything in their power to make things pleasant for the "old boys" and a real tin cup supper loosened the memory of those of '61 to '65. Comrade F. M. Bassett and Commander Boyd appeared on the program.

Married, Jan. 12, 1892, by Rev. Jared Kenyon, Floyd Green of Independence and Ora Brown of West Union at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Potter, Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Clark and Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Clark of Independence visited friends in Belmont last week.

The annual meeting of the Andover-Whitesville Telephone Co. was held at Whitesville Monday. The following officers were elected: President, D. E. Livermore; vice president, Ellsworth Clarke; secretary, A. D. Howe; treasurer, Thos. R. Bassett; directors: H. Meurhess, John Green and A. D. Howe.

Charles H. Mosher is home nursing a smashed finger, which he got at the machine shop at Alfred last Monday.

Samuel Clarke of Independence started Thursday for Milton, Wis., where it is said he will take Miss Bessie Clarke of that place, as his bride.

A telephone has been installed in the News office and Mosher & Backus are ready to receive news items or personals.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

J. Harvey Backus, Owner & Editor

Byron Patten, 84, died at his home Jan. 12, 1912. He was of the pioneer residents of this town. He leaves his wife and several children to mourn his loss.

Pastor Williams of the Presbyterian church inaugurated a new idea in presenting an editorial upon the leading thought of the week and drawing from it a lesson. Each week his "Uproads" will be published in the News.

About 1 o'clock Wednesday fire was discovered in one of the boys' dormitory houses known as the "White House," on the edge of the university campus at Alfred. The building was formerly the residence of President Allen of Alfred University and stood near the Steinheim.

Reports from Hornell are to the effect that residents of that city have actually suffered the past week on account of the low gas pressure. Gas is taken from this area.

Mrs. Sidney Crandall is caring for Mrs. Hiram Boyd who is recovering from an illness caused by inhaling burned gas at their home a few days ago. Her daughters, the Misses Maud and Helen Wildman were also affected by the gas fumes.

The weather has been very cold the past few days with the thermometer 20 degrees below zero, accompanied by a wind blowing gale.

Miss Angie Davis of Davis Hill left Saturday for Pulaski, N. Y., where she expects to remain a year in school.

Rev. W. H. Randall of the Baptist church and Rev. W. H. Adams of the M. E. Church have been confined to their homes by illness the past week.

Jan. 16.—The names of Selective Service registrants who have been, or are about to be, inducted may be published, Brigadier General Ames T. Brown, New York State Director of Selective Service, announced today, adding that the local boards have been instructed to give such information to the press and permit the making of press pictures at the time of induction.

It was explained by General Brown that while information in connection with quotas and calls is still restricted, local boards have been definitely authorized to post the names of men for induction and furnish lists of the men to the press. They are also authorized to facilitate the making of press pictures of the men to be inducted. Restricted information not definitely covered by these instructions will continue to be withheld.

Earl Burdick Drowns At Belmont

Earl L. Burdick, 48, prominent Belmont business man, drowned in the Genesee river below that village Wednesday afternoon.

Motorists traveling the back road from Belmont to Angelica observed his car near the river with tracks leading toward the water. Following the tracks they found they led into the river after which they immediately sounded an alarm. Searching parties worked diligently until some hours after darkness, when the body was found by Chief Leilous of the Belmont fire department, some distance farther down the river.

The only answer that can be given for his rash act is the continual suffering he endured from wounds received in World War 1 and continued brooding over present day world conditions.

Mr. Burdick had for years been very prominent in Belmont and county affairs, especially in the Belmont Chamber of Commerce, American Legion and firemen circles in which he has held high offices and rendered very efficient service.

His wife, Ina Withey Burdick and three daughters survive.

Services will be held at the home in Belmont at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon.
