Is Life Worth Living?

That depends upon the Liver. If the Liver is inactive the whole system is out of order—the breath is bad, digestion poor, head dull or aching, energy and hopefulness gone, the spirit is depressed, a heavy weight exists after eating, with general dependency and the blues. The Liver is the housekeeper of the health; and a harmless, simple remedy that acts like Nature, does not constipate afterwards or require constant taking, does not interfere with business or pleasure during its use, makes Simmons Liver Regulator a medical perfection.

I have tested its virtues personally, and know that for Dyspepsia, Biliousness and Throbbing Headache, it is the best medicine the world ever saw. Have tried forty other remedies before Simmons Liver Regulator, and none of them gave more than temporary relief, but the Regulator not only relieved but cured.

W. C. T. U.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Andover meets the first and third Thursday in each month.

Multitudes starve in Great Britain because their food is made into strong drink.

"Licenses are blinkers on the eyes of the public." For missions, $10,000,000; for saloons, $1,200,000,000.

In Great Britain and Ireland 3,004 women were murdered by drunken husbands from Jan. 1, 1889, to Jan. 1, 1891.

Twenty superintendents of inebriate asylums in America declare that the drink habit is acquired under conditions of comfort and that destitution follows as a consequence.

The statement was recently made in the German Reichstag that there are 11,000 persons in hospitals in Germany who are suffering with delirium tremens.

Four hundred thousand men are reported as under the influence of the railway mission, where they are being taught the principles of total abstinence.

A certain saloon-keeper was boasting that he had made $1000 in three months. A listener assured him he had made more than that, for he had made drunkards out of his two sons and a broken-hearted mother in the bargain.

At the graduating exercises of the Brooklyn Training School for Nurses, Dr. A. J. F. Behrends gave an address, in which he said: "A great deal has been said, about woman's sphere. Now there is no person who can find out what woman's sphere really is except the women themselves. And they cannot find out except by trying what they think they would like to do. There is no need of losing your sleep, night after night, because you are afraid the roses in your garden will become thorn-bushes. You need not be afraid. The rose is a rose because it has to be."

Farewell Entertainment for Rev. Father Murray.

Olean Herald, June 10.

Rev. Father Thomas A. Murray, who for the past three years has served as assistant rector of St. Mary's Catholic church, leaves this evening for Andover, N. Y., where he has been appointed as rector by Bishop Ryan.

During Father Murray's residence here he has made a host of friends not only in his duties as a pastor but also as a citizen and advisor, and in leaving he is assured of the best wishes of a large circle of friends to prosper his coming years.

Last evening the young ladies of St. Mary's church tendered Rev. Father Murray a farewell reception at the Catholic school. A pleasing program was presented as follows: Chorus, Society; Instrumental duet, Misses McNeill and Sheridan; Vocal solo, Julia Butnovice; Recitation, Miss T. Holleran; Vocal solo, Maggie Barry.

The next number on the program was a surprise to Rev. Father Murray, being presented with a handsome lace surplice. Miss Alice Nelson made the presentation address which was fitting and becoming, and deserving of commendation. Father Murray made a brief response, fitting in every word, and here.

The young ladies deserve to be complimented upon the successful affair.

Dr. J. L. Liberman.

The regular visiting optician of Penn Yan, N. Y., will again be in Andover three days only, June 23, 24 and 25, at the American House. All parties wishing to have their eyes fitted with good glasses should not fail to give me a call, as I test each eye separately and guarantee a fit or no sale.

Please remember that I charge nothing for testing your eyes, and all glasses bought of me can be exchanged at any time free of charge if not chipped or broken. Remember your eyes are next to your mother.

Thanking you for past favors, I am respectfully yours,

DR. J. L. LIBERMAN, Regular visiting optician, Penn Yan, N. Y.

Attention, Republican League.

A meeting of the Andover Republican League will be held at Prest's opera house Friday evening, June 23, at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of electing delegates to attend the State League convention to be held at Saratoga June 27 and 28. A full attendance is desired.

By ORDER PRESIDENT.

The Chapin Reunion.

June 15, 1893, the thirteenth annual Chapin reunion was held at the home of Dell Chapin of Harrison Valley, Pa. The commodious residence was filled with smiling faces, and cousins who had not met since our last gathering exchanged greetings. We missed the familiar faces of cousin C. S. Lee and wife, D. Forsythe and wife, Siberna Lamore, and others who met with us last year. At 12:30 the company, numbering nearly 60, wended their way to the two hotels for dinner, which was bountiful. We missed the music of the North Hill band, which has met with us for the past four years. After returning to the house the President pro tem, Alvin C. Barney, called to order to listen to the program: Singing; then an address of welcome by Dell Chapin; reading letters of regret from Mrs. Fidelia Johnson of Minnesota; Sobeiska Chapin of Virginia, and Mrs. Mary Barney, who is at the World's Fair; one was received from Mrs. Forsythe too late to be read; recitations, Beattie Chapin, Giles Hober, D. D. Chapin; instrumental music, Katie Chapin; Bass solo, S. Jacobs, duet, Almeta Woodcock, Aleen Richardson; poem, Mrs. Orpha Chapin; crumbs gathered in, W. C. Chapin; music, May and Aleen Richardson; impromptu speeches; committee on program Mrs. C. C. Richardson, Mrs. D. Hober, Mrs. G. M. and Miss Millie Barney. Election of officers: President, Dell Chapin; secretary, J. Richardson. Adjourned to meet at the home of Granville M. Barney, Andover, N. Y., June 15, 1894. L. R. Sec.

Justifiable Action.

Mr. C. M. Wood of South Andover was arrested one day last week for an alleged assault on Andrew McLease, one of his neighbors. Deputy Sheriff Noble served the papers and the examination was held in Wellsville, lasting several days. It ended Monday, with a complete victory for Mr. Wood. Our understanding of the case is this, briefly: Mr. McLease went to Mr. Wood's house and, to put it mildly, used his tongue in a manner not pleasant to well-disposed persons. Mr. Wood listened for awhile and finally told McLease to clear out, which request was not complied with; on the contrary the language and manner of the visitor became more violent, until at last Mr. Wood compelled him to quit the premises, using his fist as a persuader, just as twelve persons out of a dozen would have done under the same circumstances. Wood struck but one blow, as two or three eye-witnesses swore. After hearing the evidence, some of which was not very complimentary to the complainant, the Justice dismissed the action. To those who know Mr. Wood, the fact of his being arrested for "assault" would seem decidedly ludicrous were it not for the fact that these annoyances are troublesome and expensive. As one of his neighbors expressed it in the News office yesterday, "The man who couldn't live peacefully with Cal. Wood for a neighbor must be pretty hard to suit."

Probably the annoyance occasioned by the affair is balanced by the satisfaction received by Mr. Wood from the fact that the residents of his portion of the town were so ready to give evidence in his behalf. Last week's Wellsville Democrat, in its eagerness to work up a sensation, published an erroneous account of the affair, with big headlines, "Prison in Prospect" etc. which was entirely uncalled for. The evidence given on the examination shows an entirely different state of affairs than was described by the Democrat. Mr. Wood, although having been "under fire" from his neighbor McLease and the editor of the Democrat, has returned to his home without losing any of his self-respect or the esteem of his neighbors and acquaintances. The Democrat should not be so anxious for a sensation as to do injustice to a good citizen, and it would seem that an apology is in order.

The Prisoners of War Association.

The ex-Prisoners of War Association of Allegany County will hold its annual reunion at G. A. R. headquarters, Friendship, on June 28, 1893. All are requested to come prepared for a basket picnic. A. B. BRADLEY, Pres. L. BURDICK, Actg. Sec.

Professional Menders Wanted.

Why do not impecunious gentlewomen who desire employment become professional menders? There is a wide field for such industry and the labor is not heavy, while the remuneration would be considerable. Just so long as we conform to the prejudices of civilization in the matter of raiment will garments and gloves, laces, underwear, stockings and linen be eternally in need of the thrifty "stitch in time," and idle women, busy women and men would thankfully pay some one to take it for them if only such a person could be found.

If somebody would establish a bureau of menders the concern would flourish and be a blessing to the community. There women desiring such employment could register and secure employment by the day or the hour even. And just think of the comfort of being able to hand over your keys to a nice, ladylike, reliable woman, who would repair your frocks, put on fresh facings and new braid; sew trimmings and tuckings that have come loose, fasten buttons and tapes, darn laces, attend to all the rips and buttons on your gloves, and go after the dropped stitches that are making "ladders" in your best silk vests and stockings. The work wouldn't be nearly as tiring as giving lessons or doing fancy work at starvation prices, standing behind a counter or running a sewing machine.—New York World.

A Specific Against Cholera.

M. Paul Balma, of Certe, is confident he has found a specific against cholera. Everybody, it appears, should sit for so many hours in a shirt saturated with paraffin. By such means those who are attacked by cholera will be cured; and as for those who are sound, why prevention, we all know, is better than cure. Nor does M. Balma preach what he does not practice, for he had actually experimented upon himself with the happiest results.

He admits that his specific has its drawbacks. The contact of the oil with the skin produces intense irritation, which he is ready to account for on scientific principles. The manifestation is due, it appears, to certain microbes which object to being dispossessed, and which maintain what French writers call a "struggle-for-life." The governments of England, France and Spain have been made acquainted with M. Balma's discovery, but up to the present Lord Salisbury alone has condescended to acknowledge receipt of the intimation. Our foreign secretary did not commit himself, however, so far as to approve of M. Balma's suggestion that the wearing of the paraffin shirt should be made compulsory on the Arabs.—London News.

Music with a Twenty-five Cent Dinner.

It is interesting to watch the development of the cheap restaurant in this city. Although there are hundreds of Italian and French restaurants here, where a table d'hôte dinner can be procured for fifty cents, yet the mass of the people do not know of the existence of such places and probably care less.

In the restaurants of the class alluded to the food is prepared in a different way to that which the majority of the clerks have been accustomed, and is consequently distasteful to them. Laying aside this objection, however, the chief reason for the large patronage of the cheap restaurant is the matter of the expense involved. Very few mechanics or clerks can afford to pay fifty cents for a meal. The average meal check comes nearer to twenty-five cents.

Within the last year or two there have sprung up a class of restaurants where a perfectly satisfactory meal can be procured for a quarter of a dollar, with an evening paper and a toothpick thrown in. One of these adds music to the menu. It is decidedly pleasant to chew away on a chunk of Texas steer while your jaws are wagging with the delicious strains of the "Schubert Serenade" or "The Palma," played by the orchestra, or to gulp down your coffee or tea to the rhythmic measures of the ode to the lamented McGinty.—Ernest Jarrold in New York Journal.

Republican League meeting Friday evening.
