SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

MISSION OF THE SEVENTY

International Sunday School Lesson for April 12, 1942.

Golden Text: "The harvest indeed is plenteous, but the laborers are few; pray ye therefore, the Lord of the harvest, that he send forth laborers into his harvest."—Luke 10:2

(Lesson Text: Luke 10:1-24.

The active ministry of Jesus lasted only about three years. It was confined, geographically, to a limited area. In point of spiritual preparation comparatively few men were ready and able to comprehend his revolutionary revelation. Yet, Jesus planned his mission so as to reach after all men eventually, everywhere in every age.

How then, did he expect to overcome the physical limitations of his presence and overcome the restrictions of time? The answer is revealed in our lesson. Jesus set the perfect example, holding up truth and love in its infinity of reach but making it concrete and actual in a model life. These about him, after their own conversion, were to multiply the extent of his own contact. That is how the Kingdom of Heaven has been spread thru successive ages.

First, Jesus sent out his 12 apostles on what might be termed an experimental missionary tour. Upon these men, primarily, would soon fall the entire responsibility of proclaiming the gospel. It was necessary, therefore, for them to initiate themselves in their great work of representing him while he was yet alive and active so that they could better do the same when he had passed beyond the earthly stage. His brief instructions for their task are repeated for us by Luke.

Constantly by his own life, Jesus was teaching truth to his followers. Unlimited resources were revealed in feeding the 5,000 and the cure of the demoniac boy emphasized their dependence upon spiritual power. The transfiguration confirmed the glory of Jesus and Peter's confession furnished a specific example of personal testimony.

In rebuking the ambitions of the 12, Jesus illustrated what true greatness was and in foretelling his own atonement sought to picture the unchecked response of divine love to human need. Thru such a course of training, based on a single, perfect life, Jesus demontrated how other peoples and other ages were to be won for the Kingdom.

Subsequently Jesus sent seventy other followers to proclaim his good tidings, "70" was a symbolic number—Moses appointed 70 elders, the Sanhedrin had 70 members; "70" represented in mystical philosophy all of mankind.

The gospel of Jesus was not restricted for a few. The 70 sent out were not confined to any race—the injunction to "eat such things as are set before you" showed that they were to associate with Gentiles who might serve unceremonial food. Unarmed, with no purse (either to keep money of their own or so as not to collect from new converts), no material resources, and with no part in social entertainment, these men were sent to their tasks.

How shall Christianity be spread today? Churches fail when they depend on vast material resources—the greatest successes have followed the preparatory work of sincere, earnest missionaries, who acted solely and often alone, in the hope of transforming heathen darkness with Christian light.

As Paul proclaimed the gospel of peace in hostile regions, as Paton's unselfish devotion won the South Sea cannibals, as Livingstone went into "Darkest Africa" with no resources but love and faith, so have great results been inaugurated.

The example of the individual's life outweighs all mechanical repetitions and sacrificial service is more potent than any sermon. Those professing Christianity must live it sincerely to win others in this or any other land.

"There is but one thing you have to fear in heaven or earth — being untrue to your best selves and therefore, untrue to God." wrote Chas. Kingsley.

Europe was not only evangelized but civilized by Christian missionaries," says Dean George Hodge, who adds: "The same work can be done again in Africa and Asia. What is needed is that strong men, of courage and patience, of wisdom to plan and will to execute, of large views and long vision, filled with the spirit of Christian consecration, shall go in the name of Jesus Christ as the disciples went in the beginning, and win for him the empire of China, the empire of Japan, and the empire of India, as they won the empire of Rome. It waits only for the men to do it."

Andover Boys In Service Appreciate Easter Boxes

Local Committee Receives Many Notes of Appreciation From Boys in Camp for Easter Boxes Sent Them. Maple Sugar "Hits the Spot" They Claim.

Camp Croft, S. C.,

Dear Friends:

I received the nice box of things that you folks sent and they arrived here in the best of shape, and I wish to think all or any of the people who took part. It was very thoughtful of you folks back home to remember us boys here in these army camps. Boy, that good old fashioned maple sugar sure tasted good to me and many thanks for the Dr. West tooth brush and powder and the other articles. I didn't know who to send this card of thanks to so please see that it gets into the proper channels.

Our weather here is made to order now, just like our summer up in Andover. We are busy as beavers most of the time, working on machine guns etc. Today we got shots for yellow fever.

Thanks again for the nice box.

Pvt. Clifford Bixby,
Co. C, 30 Inf., Tng. Bn.
Camp Croft, S. C.

MD, 209 CA (AA)
Camp Stewart, Ga.

Dear Mrs. Baker:

Thanks loads for the lovely package. It was most complete in every respect with nothing forgotten. It does a soldier's heart good when you send a package so complete with nothing left out.

The weather is real balmy here now. It's almost uncomfortably hot. Yesterday I went to Savannah and the parks were beautiful with many varieties of flowers in bloom—and I do mean full bloom. Many shades of red flowers of the Southern variety were in prominent evidence. It seemed so very peaceful in the parks.

We may move sometime, possibly north. Time alone will tell.

Our mail is sent postage free now (that is first class mail.) Monday is Army Day with a big parade in Savnanah.

There's not much new to write about, that's partly reason for my not having written sooner.

Our food is really tops. Living conditions are OK and recreational—entertaining facilities are the best you could expect. USO is functioning very well for our entire camp—dances, parties, movies, shows, etc.

Thanks again for the package and the grand thought and remembrances behind it.

PFC. Stuart J. Cody.

Camp Edwards, Mass.

Dear Friends:

I received your Easter box today and was more than glad to get it. You have no idea what a feeling it gives a fellow to receive something from home. It's good to know that the folks back there are thinking of us.

The maple sugar was a real treat as it's the first I have had. Also the home-made cookies. We certainly have a craving for home-cooked food.

You'll get a kick out of this, as I did:

There is a fellow in the battery here from the hill country of Kentucky. Just the other day we were discussing things to eat and he said: "We-uns git good eats here, but it ain't as like home-cooked vittles, be it?"

He reminds me of "Lil Abner" in the funnies, but I agree with him on the food.

So thanks ever so much for everything and thank everybody who helped for me.

Sincerely,
Francis E. Cable.

Quantico, Virginia

I have heard from the people of Andover in a most pleasant way—namely the very nice package of goodies that arrived recently. I would like to convey my thanks to those responsible and tell them that it was greatly appreciated.

We shall all be very happy when peace returns, but, unfortunately, all the best things come the hard way.

Please tell my friends in Andover that I think of them often but have little time in which to write. I would enjoy hearing from any of them

Please pardon the shortness of this letter, and I will try to write a more complete one later. Thank you all for the package.

Dear Friends:

I received your package, and I want to thank all of you. It sure makes a fellow feel good to know that the folks back home are thinking of him.

P.S.—That maple sugar sure tasted good.

Dear Friends in Andover:

I received your package in good condition. I am enjoying all of its contents as there was nothing more appropriate for a Northerner in boot camp. Thanks loads.

Dear Otto, Mildred and Family:

Just received a package containing very useful and highly appreciated gifts from my "Andover friends." Have no letter as yet explaining who it is definitely from but am going to write a letter of thanks. "If the shoe fits" put 'er on. Ha. Haven't had much letter-writing time so far, but do love to receive them. It doesn't really seem as tho I'm so far from home because all the fellows here are from New York. Don't know why they send us so far, but it seems that that's what they do. Fellows from here are sent to New York, etc.

The Army isn't too bad (could be worse) so far, but it does seem funny for me to be training to fight.

I'm getting some pictures to send to you folks. They'll give you an idea how the camp looks I hope and also show you what a good looking soldier brother you have, Ha. I have to close now. Love to hear from you.

Dear Claire:

Inasmuch as I do not know whom to thank personally for the very nice gift box that I received from the people of Andover, I am writing to you to express my thanks to all of them for doing it. It sure was a nice gesture on the part of the good people of Andover, and as you know from your past experiences of World War No. 1 that the boys always like to receive things from home.

I receive the Andover paper every Friday regularly and enjoy reading and keeping posted on things that are happening there.

Expressing my thanks again to all of the people who contributed, I remain,

Sincerely yours

Gowen Field,
Boise, Idaho, April 6

Dear Mr. Baker:

I'm writing this to you because I'm sure you had something to do with the very nice box that was sent me. It made me feel very good to think that I was not entirely forgotten in Andover.

The few months that I've been in the Air Corps have been very interesting and educational in more ways than one. My stay here at Gowen Field has been pleasant and I doubt if my surroundings in any other camp could be as friendly and pleasant.

At the present I'm in the radio section of my squadron (360th). I'm putting in a lot of my time studying and learning what I can about radio and how it's used in regard to aircraft. I do plenty of flying as assistant operator and hope, before too long, to be on as first operator. You can get a good idea of what we do by looking at the photos in this month's Life magazine. Nearly all our ships here are the type shown (B17E).

The base here is located about three miles out of Boise. It's a very nice small city and the people here are good to us soldiers. We enjoy many privileges that other soldiers in other camps do not, and the natives and merchants make it a point to be friendly.

I guess this Army life agrees with me. I'm feeling fine and expect to stay that way.

Give my best to all, and I hope to see everyone in the near future.

Sincerely,
Emilio Yannie, Jr.

Mrs. Jennie Flint

Andover friends were grieved when the news came of the passing of Mrs. Jennie Flint, at the Strong Memorial hospital in Pontiac, Mich., Friday morning, April 10, 1942. Mrs. Flint had been in ill health several months suffering from the affects of a stroke of paralysis.

Jennie Witter Flint was born in Alfred, August 7, 1862 and on July 5, 1877 was united in marriage with Olin Emerson, also of Alfred. Two daughters, Mrs. Edgar Clair of Almond and Mrs. Edward Whitney of Royal Oak, Mich., and a son Harrison Emerson of Lake Orion, Mich., were born to them, and with four grandchildren, one great-grandchild and two great-great-grandchildren survive. Mr. Emerson died in 1897 and some years later she was married to Philip Flint, also deceased.

Before coming to Andover about 20 years ago, Mrs. Flint resided some time in Hornell.

Mrs. Flint was a very kind hearted woman and a loyal friend, whose fine character and pleasing personality won for her a host of friends in Andover who regret her passing.

She was a member of the Andover Seventh Day Baptist church, Edward Seaman Relief Corps of Andover, Andover Rebekah Lodge and the Andover W. C. T. U.

Services were held at the home of her grandson, Leon E. Clair, on the Almond-Hornell road, Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock, Rev. Walter L. Greene, pastor of the Andover Seventh Day Baptist church officiating with interment in Alfred Rural cemetery.

Reisman—Gabriele

Miss Mary Lucy Gabriele, daughter of Anthony Gabriele of Fulton, N. Y., and Corporal Daniel M. Reisman of Fort Ontario at Oswego, son of Mrs. Mary Reisman of Andover were united in marriage at a High Mass celebrated in Immaculate Conception church at Fulton, Saturday, April 11. Two priests, Father Cardon and Father Carien officiated at the ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attired in a long trained white slipper satin gown with a sweetheart neckline trimmed in seed pearls, wore a fingertip veil and carried a bouquet of white roses and gardenias.

Her maid of honor, Miss Genevieve Dzieziel, wore a gown of white net and carried white roses. The bridesmaids, Mrs. Josephine Pulvere and Miss Lena Safrato wore yellow gowns and carried matching roses.

Best man was Private Theodore Schafer of Olean and the ushers were Sergeant Robert Sothern and Private William Mullins, both of Syracuse.

The men of the wedding party were in uniform.

A wedding dinner was held for the immediate family and friends at the Amelia Tea Room in Liverpool, N. Y., and a reception was held at 6:30 o'clock in the bride's home.

Corporal and Mrs. Reisman left for a wedding trip which will include visits in Buffalo and New York City.

The bride's going away outfit was a light blue suit with darker blue accessories.

Showers were given for Mrs. Reisman by Miss Genevieve Dzieziel and Miss Josephine Pulvere.
