County Bible School Convention Next Thursday

Church school workers, leaders in the church and all those who are interested in the spiritual uplift of our county are reminded of the County Bible School Convention to be held at Belmont, Thursday, May 14th.

The program this year will emphasize the "Christian Education Advance" which is a co-operative effort by 40 Protestant denominations to reach the following goal: "To reach every person with religious teaching." Dr. Ross W. Sanderson of Buffalo who has organized the churches of Western New York for the "Advance," will explain what it is, and how to organize the church and church school for the program. He will appear on the afternoon and evening program of the convention.

Leaders of youth are asked to promote attendance for the "Youth Fellowship Supper" which will be served at the library hall in Belmont at 6:30. After the meal there will be an interesting program for the young people.

Leaders of children will want to see the movies of work in the children's department which will be shown at the 7:30 p. m. conference for leaders of this age group. There will also be a conference for this group at 5 p. m.

Martz Snyder of Friendship will conduct two periods of conference for the adults. At the 7:30 p. m. conference two laymen will present short talks on the "Advance" which will be followed by discussion.

"The world at its worst demands that the church be at its best," is the challenge given by an outstanding leader and this convention is designed to furnish the spiritual enthusiasm and practical suggestions which will help the churches meet this challenge.

Potato Seed Treating Schedule Changed

Because of unforseen circumstances, the potato seed treating schedule has been changed. The following dates will be effective in this locality:

Saturday, May 9, Wellsville, Borden plant.

Monday, May 11, Wellsville, Borden plant.

Tuesday, May 12, Andover, Dairymen's League plant.

Wednesday, May 13, Independence, parish house.

Thursday, May 14, Independence, parish house.

The service will be conducted as in past years with the exception that an eight-cent charge will be made for potatoes treated in burlap bags, instead of the five cents charged for potatoes in crates.

The hot corrosive sublimate treatment is used for control of Rhizoctonia and surface borne scab. It insures a better and quicker come-up and a better stand in the field. Potato growers are urged to take advantage of this service.

Notice to Bicycle Owners

The attention of all bicyclists is called to the following Village ordinance:

"No person shall ride any bicycle upon the sidewalks between the north and south bridges on Main street in the Village of Andover. Any person violating this ordinance shall be liable to a penalty of not less than $3.00 nor more than $5.00 for each and every violation thereof."

Attention is also called to the fact that bicycle licenses should be renewed at this time.

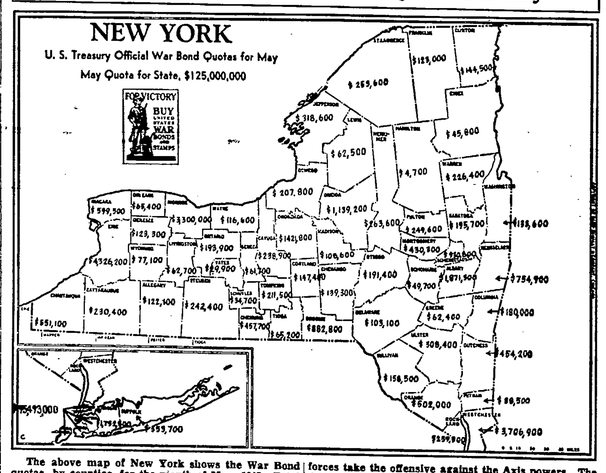
Official U. S. Treasury War Bond Quotas For May



The above map of New York shows the War Bond quotas, by counties, for the month of May, 1942. Total War Bond quota for the State is $125,000,000. Every income earner in the State is expected to step-up War Bond purchase: on a basis of ten per cent or more of income. This is necessary to help America's armed forces take the offensive against the Axis powers. The American voluntary method of War Bond purchases must be successful in reaching the quotas set by the Treasury Department for every county in the nation. The job of every American now is to stop spending and save dollars to help win the War.

WANDERING WITH WILLIE

BEFORE the summer is over a lot of folks (as evidenced by Monday night's crowd) will learn that softball if not the itty-bitty kiddie game that they thought it was, but a game of great dexterity and skill (We know, we tried it.)

After the game, we were in about a half dozen different groups of players and from the schemings and stuff that we heard some of these teams will be ringing in players from MacArthur's hard-fighting boys if they can get them loose.

But no fooling we predict that before tater diggin' time Andover athletic field will be the busiest place it has been since it was laid out.

PROBABLY many of you have heard the little incident of the fellow who made a batch of wine and had 12 bottles in the cellar when the better half told him he would have to get rid of it, or else. Anyhow, this is the procedure he followed (as far as possible). We get groggy ourselves when we recite it. Here is what he did:

He withdrew the cork from the first bottle and poured the contents down the sink, with the exception of one glass, which he drank. He extracted the cork from the second bottle and did likewise, with the exception of one glass, which he drank. He then withdrew the cork from the third bottle of wine and emptied it down the sink, except a glass which he drank. He pulled the bottle from the cork of the next and drank one, sink out of it, and poured the rest down the glass. He pulled the sink out of the next glass and poured the cork down the bottle and drank the glass—then he corked the sink with the glass, bottled the drink and drank the pour. When he had everything emptied, he steadied the house with one hand and then counted the bottles and glasses with the other, which were 29. To be sure, he counted them again when they came by and had 74. And as the house came by, he counted them again and finally had the houses, bottles, corks and glasses counted, except one house and one bottle which he drank.

THE other night we had a horrible dream (verging on nightmare). We dreamed that the fire whistle blew and the firemen ran every which way and finally ended up at a local residence to find the place a mass of flames. They started their job of getting the fire out and realizing that the place was doomed began carrying out the furniture, etc., when lo, two of the men came staggering out each with a 100-pound bag of sugar on his shoulder (the owner's ration card plainly stated that he had seven pounds in hiding.) Well, you know, we could see that owner's face turning red clear up to his eyebrows and it wasn't fire reflection either. Anyhow we could see the officers arriving, and the judge on his way and then court and—we woke up all a-sweat. No more sandwiches for us on retiring.

But that couldn't happen here, now, could it? It was just a dream!

NEWS ITEM—The annual dinner and entertainment of the school bus drivers was held recently in Wellsville with a fine dinner and entertainment enjoyed by all. Refreshments were served and cards enjoyed after the dinner with K. D. (Flash) Bostwick receiving high honors for the evening and Walter (Mike) Gath consolation winner.
