SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

THE DISCIPLE'S TASK

International Sunday School Lesson for June 21, 1942.

Golden Text: "Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to the whole creation."—Mark 16:15.

Lesson Text: Matthew 28: 16-20; Mark 16: 14-20; Luke 24: 40-53.

With this lesson we bring to a close our study of the life of Jesus as recorded in the Synoptic Gospels, Matthew, Mark and Luke — using as the basis for our consideration the closing words of each of these gospels. Matthew ends with the command of Jesus that we have come to know of as "The Great Commission;" Mark ends with a picture of the apostles carrying out the commission given them, with the Lord working with them." Luke shows the apostles in the temple praising and blessing God, content to leave them waiting there, until he records at length their story in the Acts of the Apostles.

Today, on the ridge of the Mount of Olives is the Chapel of the Ascension, octagonal in form, which was built by the Crusaders centuries ago. Here, tradition has it, was the place from which Jesus ascended into Heaven after his last appearance to his disciples and his giving to them the words which have been the marching orders of the Christian church since that time, "All authority hath been given unto me in heaven and on earth, Go ye therefore, and make disciples of all the nations, baptizing them into the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit: teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I commanded you: and lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world."

It is worthwhile for all of us to pause a moment and realize that Christianity is a voluntary religion; that not one of its adherents is forced to do anything. Everything accomplished in the name of and for the sake of Jesus Christ is a spontaneous act of love and devotion.

All of the progress that has been made by Christianity since the time of Christ has been accomplished thru the voluntary service of those who have accepted Jesus Christ. They are His witnesses and upon them depends the success of the spread of Christianity thruout the world.

Few Christians can go all over the world, carrying out the explicit commands contained in the "Great Commission," but every Christian can do his or her part by living a life of active service, by contributing to the organized work of his or her church, in order that his funds, along with those of thousands of others, may be pooled together to finance those who find it possible to actually follow His command to "Go."

Never, in the history of the world have Christians been more convinced of the effects of their failure to more conscientiously carry out the commands of Jesus. Had we been more zealous in giving the gospel of Jesus Christ to the world, more unselfish in our individual and national life, setting a more worthy example of the teachings of Jesus in our relations with others we might have been able to avoid the terrible conditions which prevail in the world today.

The world stands in great need of Jesus today. It needs what he has to give—a more adequate knowledge of God, of pardon for sins, of comfort from sorrow and of hope for a better world. It needs what he does to the human heart, cleansing the life of sin and replacing sin with love—for God and for man.

What can you do about it? In the words of Charles Wesley Flint, in "Follow Me," we'll answer: "We are his ambassadors; we represent him; he is seen in us. We are his witnesses. We witness by what we say; yes, but even more by what we are—by just the way we live. What a responsibility! But what a privilege

"A boy can play the game so hard and clean; a girl can be so kind and considerate among her friends; a man can be so square and diligent in his business; a woman can be so patient, poised, and unselfish in her home; that other boys and girls, other men and women, will say—'I wish I could be like him—like her."

ANDOVER CENTRAL SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT THIS WEEK

Class of 20 Complete High School Course

Junior High Commencement Saturday; Baccalaureate Service Sunday; Alumni Banquet Monday; Commencement Tuesday.

Commencement week activities of the Andover Central School have been in full swing during the past week, beginning with the Eighth Grade Exercises on Saturday evening and reaching a fitting culmination in the High School Commencement held Tuesday evening, when 29 members of the Class of 1942 were presented with their diplomas, this marking for them a successful completion of their high school course. Sunday evening the Baccalaureate service was held and on Monday evening the Alumni met for their annual banquet.

This Commencement, which is the fifth to be held in Andover and the third to be held in the new building, not only marks the close of a successful year for the high school graduates, but also terminates for the year the fine program of education that is being provided for all the young people of Andover.

Eighth Grade Commencement Held Saturday

Forty-seven members of the 8th grade of the Andover Central School received promotion certificates admitting them to the high school department at the Junior High School exercises held Saturday evening, June 20.

The program opened with the Salutatory by Virginia Loring, after which the Class Prophecy was given by Lewis Wintemberg and the Class Will by Jeanne Jaekle. Presentation of the Key of Success to the seventh grade was made by Victor Clark with a response by James Smith, a seventh grade member. Patricia Joyce gave a poem, "Charge of the Test Brigade," and Janice Walton, high ranking scholar of the class, gave the Valedictory address. Music was furnished by the junior high school chorus and by William Dougherty who gave a piano solo.

The promotion certificates were presented by Principal Glenn E. Bretsch who also spoke briefly to the graduates, reminding them that opportunity alone does not insure success; that opportunity requires much of those to whom it comes.

Perfect attendance lists and those who had been promoted with honors in the various grades were also read by Mr. Bretsch. These lists may be found on the Hi Herald page.

Five cash awards of $1.00 each were presented on behalf of the Allegany County Co-operative Fire Insurance Co. to grade pupils who had done meritorious work in an essay contest on "Fire Prevention." The awards went to Phyllis Nye, Bruce Nye, Rosemary Mead, Lila Ann Childs and John Connor.

The eighth grade class roll is as follows:

Elfreida Allen	Donald Baker
James Backus	Gilbert Barrett
Carrie Beil	Clarabelle Boyce
Howard Burrows	Barbara Childs
Ronald Clark	Victor Clark
Beatrice Dean	Dolores Dean
Florence Dodge	William Dougherty
Basil Dunham	Ray Fairbanks
Ruth Hardy	Pearl Henry
John Horan	Robert Jackson
Jeanne Jaekle	Charles Joyce
James Joyce	Patricia Joyce
Jean Kemp	Jean Lawrence
Earl Leon	Virginia Loring
Genevieve Loucks	Jean Lynch
Thomas Lynch	Martha McDonough
Lois Jean Matison	Donald Northrup
Mareta Perry	Meta Rice
Betty Jean Spicer	Norma Steadman
Clarence Stearns	Patricia Temple
Janice Walton	Lewis Wintemberg
	James Witter

Promoted to high school in January, 1942: Jeanne Halsey, Harold Joyce, Eldon Kaple, Weslie Lehman.

Rev. Helena L. Champlin Gives Baccalaureate Sermon

"Tomorrow is Another Day" was the theme of a very inspiring sermon given by Rev. Helena L. Champlin of the First Methodist Church at the annual Baccalaureate service held Sunday evening in the Central School auditorium.

Rev. Champlin touched a definite note of optimism by saying that although the world of today looks pretty black as the nations are waging war against each other, there will be a tomorrow, a tomorrow whose destinies will be guided by our young people who are now just going out from high school. Miss Champlin expressed great confidence in the ability of the new generation with its youth, its strength and determination to make a better world. She urged them to read the signs of the times and center their vision more and more on the Christ who is the only way to this brighter tomorrow. She said, "Everywhere, in every country, even as bombs destroy and guns lay waste, people are thinking and dreaming about the shape of things to come. It is to be your priceless privelege to help shape a new world order. Tomorrow is yours, to shape it into bright forms of truth. Tomorrow is God's to guard you and direct you and bring His purposes to pass."

Rev. Champlin was assisted in the service by Rev. Walter L. Greene who gave the invocation, Rev. E. D. VanHorn who read the scripture, and Rev. Lloyd L. Tebo who offered prayer. Special music for the service included "Ava Maria," by Mrs. Alice Baker, a splendidly executed violin solo, and a number by the high school girls' chorus directed by Miss Marian Hanneman. Miss Hanneman also was pianist and accompanist for the service.

Alumni Banquet Held

The annual Alumni banquet was held Monday evening, June 23, and proved to be a very enjoyable, friendly gathering of past graduates their friends, the Class of 1942 and their parents. One hundred and fifteen alumni and guests sat down to a fine dinner served at the I. O. O. F. hall by the ladies of the Rebekah Lodge, who were assisted in serving by girls from the junior class.

The program was opened with a brief but appropriate address of welcome by the president of the Alumni Association, Everett N. Clair, who introduced the toastmistress, Mrs. Lillie Sutton of the Class of 1880. In her usual sincere and entertaining manner, Mrs. Sutton spoke briefly to the assembled group and very ably conducted the remaining events of the prorgam. Mr. Carl Fribolin, teacher of agriculture, spoke on behalf of the faculty and Stanley Ruger, president of the Class of 1942, responded for his class. Mrs. Sutton then introduced as the principal speaker her son, Dr. Willard J. Sutton of Alfred, who for several years was professor in the Fouchow University in Fouchow, China.

Dr. Sutton gave a very interesting and informative talk on China and her relation to present events of history, including a pedagogically sound "geography lesson" on the country of China in comparison to the United States. From his many years experience in China, Dr. Sutton expressed his belief in the greatness of the Chinese people and his faith that China will come into her own after playing an important part in the outcome of the present conflict.

Following Dr. Sutton's address, Mrs. Sutton called on several alumni and guests for impromptu talks. Among these were Dr. Ben Crandall, Dr. Benjamin Barney, Frank W. Burrows and Principal Glenn E. Bretsch.

Election of officers for the coming year were held as follows:

President, Mrs. John Nobles.
Vice President, George Joyce.
Secretary, Mary Monica Smith.
Treasurer, John C. Lever.

Notice of Aid Raid Siren Test Friday Noon

This Friday noon, at the regular time when the fire siren blows denoting 12 o'clock, an air raid siren test will be held instead.

Air raid sirens should sound for a period of not less than two minutes and residents will get a better idea of what the siren and condensory whistle will sound like in event of future air raid tests, blackouts or actual raids.

The blowing of the siren Friday noon DOES NOT mean an air raid but simply a trial siren test to find any deficiencies in our alarm system.

State Committeeman—Dr. S. B. Scott, Andover.

The committee also adopted a resolution directing the secretary to write informal letters of sympathy to the families of three prominent county Democrats, who have died in the past year, namely, Mark Graves, former president of the New York State Tax Commission; Dr. F. E. McCarty, Wellsville supervisor and former county chairman and George Hallock, former justice of the peace in Wellsville and active Democrat for many years.

How About Your Scrap Rubber?

"Chuck" Holt still has room for a lot more scrap rubber in his garage and the drive closes next Tuesday, June 30th, so bring in your scrap rubber or phone Holt's Garage, No. 112, and it will be picked up.

To win this war America must overcome its rubber shortage. Old tires, tubes, rubber soles or heels, rubber gloves, bathing caps, rubber boots, garden hose, overshoes or any article that contains rubbers will only disintegrate and do no one any good laying around in the basement, attic, garage or barn—so dig it out and turn it in as your bit toward winning this war, and perhaps getting yourself a re-cap job on your own sick auto tire.

The quota set for every man, woman and child in New York State is at least five pounds of scrap rubber each, which will mean that a lot of us will have to turn in much more than that to go over the top.

Arrangements are being made to have the Boy Scouts with a truck canvas Andover streets Saturday morning, so if you have any scrap rubber kindly get it out on the curb so it can be picked up.

Thelma Lewis Bride of Raymond Rogers

The home of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Lewis was the scene of a pretty summer wedding Saturday evening, June 20th when their daughter, Thelma Marie Lewis, became the bride of Raymond Harvey Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Rogers of Stannards.

Before the ceremony Mrs. Harry Seaver played "Oh Promise Me," "I Love You Truly," and "Because." The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Guy M. Ovenshire.

To the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, the bride came down the stairs on the arm of her father. She was gowned in white celanese voile, with a finger tip veil which fell from a tiara of seed pearls. She wore a pearl necklace and bracelet, a gift of the groom. The bride carried an arm bouquet of mock orange and pink astilbe. She was preceded by her bridesmaid, Miss Audrey Cary, gowned in pastel pink celanese voile, with a flowered tiara of pink and blue. She carried an arm bouquet of mock orange and blue bachelor buttons.

The bride and her attendant were met at the arch by the groom and his attendant, Dorr Lewis of Rexville.

The vows were taken before an arch of ferns and roses, with a background of baskets of pastel shades of mixed garden flowers.

Following the ceremony refreshments were served to 50 guests. The wedding cake, a tiered angel food, was beautifully decorated by Mrs. H. B. Adams.

The bride is a graduate of Wellsville High School and Brockport Normal. The groom is a graduate of Wellsville High School and operates an apiary near Stannards, where they will reside.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Fred Greenough of Brockport; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Smith of Spencerport; Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Pope and Mr. and Mrs. Everett Clark and daughter Mary Lou of Andover; Mrs. Jessie Lewis and Doris, Dorr and Raymon of Rexville; Mr. and Mrs. Cleland Hall of Harrison Valley; Mr. and Mrs. John Lewis and family of Independence; John Jarvis Lewis of Buffalo.

Volunteers Wanted For Listening Post

Ralph E. Temple, commander of Thomas M. Lynch Post American Legion and chief observer of Andover's observation post announces that he is still in need of volunteers to man the post.

While the post has been in continuous operation since 8 o'clock Monday morning, a few more volunteers are needed so that the same men will not be required to work a trick each day. The post is being operated on a two-hour schedule.

Fifth Registration, next Tuesday, June 30th.
