"Handle With Care"

The phrase "Handle With Care" might apply to a box of dynamite. The term may be just as aptly applied to a book. Both the dynamite and the book are valuable. One is priceless to the soldier, the other to a student. Books are more valuable to us because they build up civilization, but the dynamite protects and preserves the democracy.

So, books are valuable and they should be handled very carefully.

There are a few rules we should observe when we are using a book.

1—Never handle a book when your hands are dirty or sticky.

2—Do not turn down corners on pages to mark your place when you stop reading.

3—Do not put bulky objects inside a book.

4—Do not expose books to the weather. When carrying them outdoors, protect them as much as possible.

Perhaps there are other rules by which you should abide, but there is no necessity to quote them. Just treat the book as you would your best friend. It will stand by you thruout thick and thin. JB

Pupils Taking Five Subjects Have Study Hall

There is a supervised study hall held in Room 222 from 3:10 to 3:45 every afternoon to enable pupils who are taking five subjects to keep up their scholastic record in school.

A faculty member is in charge of that study hall for the purpose of aiding the students in any difficulties which might confront them.

If the pupils do satisfactory work within the first five weeks period they will not be compelled to stay the next five weeks. "Satisfactory work" means that each student must maintain an average of 70 per cent in all subjects, with none below 65 per cent. DJS

"The Bells Didn't Ring!"

"For tomorrow's assignment, read chapter two, look up the first fifteen questions, and be prepared for a test. The bell will ring in a minute," stated one teacher.

(Pause).

One minute, two and three, and the bell didn't ring! Confusion reigned for a moment when it didn't sound at said time.

The cause, we later determined, must have been due to the fact that the clocks had stopped, halting the bells. Altho it was a bit bewildering, we very nicely got to and from classes on time, thanks to the timepieces of the faculty. AEM

Introducing Miss Heinzelmann

This year Andover's students welcome a new teacher, Miss Elaine Heinzelmann of Hawthorne, N. Y. Miss Heinzelmann is teaching mathematics in the place of Mr. McGee, who is teaching at Bedford Hills this year.

Miss Heinzelmann went to high school at Briarcliff Manor and attended Columbia University.

Last year Miss Heinzelmann did some student teaching at White Plains, N. Y., and some substitute work at Bedford Hills.

She thinks the school is very nice and mentioned no improvements.

Miss Heinzelmann's favorite sport is horseback riding and swimming and her favorite dish spaghetti. As a hobby, Miss Heinzelmann is interested in photography.

"This Above All" is her favorite movie and "Berlin Diary" her favorite book. As for radio programs, she prefers Jack Benny's orchestra.

We welcome Miss Heinzelmann to our school and wish her much success in her teaching.

With Needle and Spoon

The homemaking department is offering a new course this year. This course is home economics seven, which takes the place in the curricium occupied by home economics six last year, and it includes home management and home nursing.

The girls in this class have been studying a unit on "The Home and the Family." They have been writing stories expressing their ideas on this subject and studying cartoons dealing with this topic.

In Homemaking A the girls have been canning peaches and pears by the open kettle method and carrots and beets by the can cooked method.

In ninth grade homemaking the pupils have also been caninng fruit. FMM

Mr. Maloy Is New Vice Principal

Last Friday morning the students of the Junior-Senior high school gathered in the gymnasium for the first assembly program of the 1942-43 school year.

Mr. Bretsch presented each new faculty member to the group and then introduced the new vice-principal, Mr. Maloy, who spoke briefly on co-operation between the students and faculty. Mr. Maloy then introduced the new presidents of grades 7-12, each of whom gave a short speech which was greatly appreciated by the audience.

The program was finally concluded by Mr. Bretsch, who said a few words as to how students may help carry out the defense program this year by making the utmost of the educational opportunities offered them by the school both for work and play.

Assembly ended with the singing of the alma-mater, led by Miss Hanneman, with Anne McDonough at the piano. MJH

Girl Scouts Meet

A meeting of the Girl Scouts was held last Wednesday evening, Sept. 9, in the homemaking room under the supervision of Miss Marie Mahl and Miss Elizabeth Snyder.

The scouts learned the promise and laws, which are requirements for becoming a Girl Scout.

The older girls made plans for passing their second class requirements in homemaking by planning a tureen supper for the next meeting.

The meeting closed with songs. Ruth Lynch, Scribe.

Faculty Swims, Attends Summer School

While looking over the Hi Herald last week, this reporter thought a goodly share of the students did work this summer. Some of the faculty members spent an industrious summer also. We are informed that:

Miss Anderson attended summer school and "awaited news of Andover."

Miss Jaekle swam and rode a bicycle.

Miss Hussong visited in Albany.

Miss Hanneman vacationed in the Adirondacks. She was present at the wedings of two former faculty members, namely, Paul C. Holmes and Miss Anna Daly.

Miss Colberg swam and traveled across New York State.

Miss Snyder worked at school and for two weeks vacationed. Part of that she spent in a hay field, she added.

Mr. Fribolin visited Ag. students' projects.

Coach Ingerson played baseball and worked at Boys' Club.

Mr. Bretsch attended summer school at New York University.

All in all, the faculty spent a busy and satisfactory summer. AEM

Pupils Try Out For High Herald Staff

A Hi Herald meeting was held Wednesday afternoon at 3:10 in the science room. Elaine Pope, the business manager, called the meeting to order. Instructions were given to those present on what articles they might choose to write and the procedure. Plans were discussed for further meetings, which will be held once or twice a week.

Miss Colberg, Hi Herald adviser, stated that she will give instructions in newspaper writing in the near future to those trying out as reporters for the Hi Herald this year.

Those trying out for the staff are:

Patricia Temple, Virginia Loring, Wilma Goodridge, Susan McAndrew, Doris Mead, Dorothy Baker, Mary Baker, Norma Crowner, Marian Stevens, Anne McDonough, Doris Sick, Barbara Brownell, Florence Mingus, Clara Hann and Miles Gorsuch.

Susan McAndrew, Clara Hann, Doris Mead, Dorothy Baker, Florence Mingus, and Miles Gorsuch were members of the regular Hi Herald staff last year. BB

F. F. A. to Sponsor Fair

A special attraction in the agriculture department will be the annual F. F. A. show which will be held in the high school gym Sept. 24 at 7 o'clock.

The displays will consist of dairy cattle, poultry and pigs which have been raised as projects by the ag classes.

Agriculture students from different schools will be present and they will judge the different exhibits.

There will also be on display various vegetables grown by the students. These vegetables will be auctioned off to the highest bidder at the close of the show.

The admission to this agricultural exhibit is free and everyone is urged to attend. MEB

Seniors to Present Class Play in Fall

Contrary to precedent, the Seniors voted Monday morning to present their class play in the Fall this year. They also voted to choose the cast from the English four class.

This action was taken because the Seniors of past years have found themselves with so much work on their hands in the spring. The cast will have more time to devote to the play if it is given the first term as is being done in neighboring schools. PEP

"PREVIEW ON SPORTS"

Andover Central School will make its greatest sacrifice to the war effort this year when it drops touch-football and starts a fall intramural program.

Andover started playing touch football three years ago and has improved rapidly since then. Last year the locals won the Steuben county touch-football league over Addison and Arkport and also won the trophy. The Purple and White again have nearly the same material as last year and would have had an outstanding year had the sport been continued.

The outlook for a basketball league seems good and the Panthers have back the veteran combination that forced Whitesville into a Class C playoff and turned in an outstanding season with ten wins and only five losses.

Back from last year's varsity is "Slip" Karcanes, "Naze" Dolan, "Jim" Driscoll, "Whitey" Gorsuch, "Chuck" Holt, Clyde Shellman and Arthur Temple, while up from the Junior Varsity comes such material as Harold West, Claude Shellman, Bob Baker and a few other newcomers. All of which points towards an outstanding season.

There seems to be no word on the prospect of a spring sports program and there probably will be no word on it until the second semester.

No matter what sports the Purple and White play this year, you can bet they will be out in front of them all. MG

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

The 75-millimeter gun is a divisional weapon used by the Artillery as an anti-tank gun. It has been replaced to some extent by the more modern "105", known as the heaviest of divisional weapons. The 75-mm gun costs $12,000 and has been converted by our Ordnance into a "blaster" twice as efficient as in the first World War.

This gun gets maximum power for minimum weight and cost, and the American people are providing the finance through the purchase of War Bonds. If you do your share and invest 10 per cent of your income in War Bonds, adequate supply of this efficient gun can be assured our fighting forces. Buy War Bonds every pay day.

"Yes, I've seen a few bad crop years in my time, too. One year our string beans were so poor that the crop didn't even pay for the string."

"That's nothing. In 1914 our corn crop was so bad that my dad, who had a small appetite, ate up 14 acres of corn at a single meal."

Quite a Run

The train was pulling out and the old gentleman was just settling down comfortably. Suddenly the door burst open and a young man tumbled into the coach and seated himself, panting and puffing, opposite. The latter looked on with obvious disapproval.

"You must be very unfit, young man," he said, after a while. "Why, when I was young I never panted like that, after a run."

"Perhaps not," said the other, "but I missed this train at the last station."

The question in the seaman's examination was: "What is the waterline?

The Answer — The mark around a Marine's neck.
