Outdoor Christmas Lighting Banned By WPB

The Village Electric Department has received the following communication from the War Production Board requesting no outdoor Christmas decorative lighting this year. The WPB release follows:

The War Production Board today asked city officials, civic clubs, chambers of commerce, merchants and citizens generally to dispense with outdoor decorative lighting this Christmas.

WPB pointed out that Christmas lighting requires the use of critical materials, electricity, and manpower and is not in line with general conservation programs already under way.

The attitude of WPB toward Christmas lighting was announced because of numerous inquiries that have already been received from officials, chambers of commerce and civic clubs asking what they should do this Christmas in regard to outdoor decorative lighting.

WPB is not asking that indoor Christmas lighting, whether in the home or in stores, be eliminated, but it believes that outdoor lighting, such as festooned store fronts and decorated streets, must be dispensed with in war times.

Although the electricity saving and the resultant fuel saving may appear small, as compared with the total annual usage, nevertheless the elimination of outdoor Christmas lighting is estimated to save 50,000,000 kilowatt hours of electricity, enough to meet the lighting and power requirements of a city of 50,000 for a year.

Large War Bond Quota For November

County Chariman George B. Rooth, Jr., has announced a War Bond quota for Andover of $10,000 for the month of November. This is a larger quota than Andover has previously had but Mr. Rooth states that it is only in keeping with the amounts being raised by other villages of our size thruout the county, so it is up to every patriotic citizen who enjoys the freedom of this country to invest to the utmost in War Bonds this month and every month.

The county quota for November is $209,085, which is somewhat larger than those of the past months. This figure is the amount of cash which must be invested to meet the quota, not the maturity value of the bonds, as has been the case of other quotas.

Unfounded rumors to the effect that War Bonds will be "frozen" by the Government are false according to a recent statement by Daniel W. Bell, Under Secretary of the Treasury, who has just issued a statement which in part follows:

"War Savings Bonds, by their express terms, are payable on specified dates and are redeemable before such dates, at the option of the owners, at fixed redemption values, and there is no doubt that the promise of the United States in such respect will be kept. I might add that in all the 155 years of the nation's existence, and despite the vicissitudes thru which the country has passed during that time, the United States never has defaulted in the payment of obligations when due. The Congress under the Constitution has ample power to make provision for meeting obligations in the future. One month's notice is now required, in writing, of course for redemption of Series F. and G bonds and this has been the case from the time of their first issuance."

The report of Bonds sales in Allegany county for October as released by Chairman Rooth, follows:

Alfred	$40,025.00
Angelica	5,675.00
Andover	3,750.00
Belmont	11,600.00

Blood Donor Unit In Andover Tomorrow

The Mobile Blood Unit will be in Andover this Friday afternoon, November 20th, 1942, from 1:30 to 4:00 p. m., and 5:30 to 6:30 p. m. Cards will be sent out to all those who have agreed to contribute to this blood doner service. However, the response has not been as good as the Red Cross hoped, about 100 have agreed to contribute on Friday afternoon and the Red Cross would like to have somewhere's around 125 to 150, as it is quite an expense to bring this Unit from Buffalo to Andover with a doctor and six or seven nurses, and it does seem that Andover could at least contribute 125 donors to this service which has saved the lives of many of our boys overseas. Andover is well represented in the Armed Forces, there being about 120 boys from Andover and the vicinity who might need your blood some day.

The Exchange Club, Red Cross and the other organizations which are sponsoring this blood donation service strongly urge every citizen who has not already signed up to be at the Methodist church on Friday afternoon between the hours of 1:30 and 4:00 or 5:30 to 6:30 p. m., and we assure you that the Red Cross will take care of your donation. The mere fact that you have not signed up will make no difference since all donations are gratefully accepted.

Those who have received cards and now find that it is absolutely impossible for them to be at the Methodist Church on the hour stated on their card ,should be there at some time in the afternoon between 1:30 and 4:00 or 5:30 to 6:30 p. m., so that they can contribute to this blood doner service, and they do not waive their right to come merely because they cannot be there on the hour stated on their card.

Again we strongly urge every citizen between the ages of 18 and 65 who can at all possibly contribute to this worthy cause to do so on that day and perhaps save the life of some soldier boy.

Service Men's Addresses Wanted

The Christmas committee for Service Men is anxious to have the name and address of every boy from Andover and vicinity who is in the armed services of the United States.

If any reader knows of any one in the service whose name does not appear in the list published in the News, it will be appreciated if they will advise either the Chairman of the Committee or the News office.

Additional funds are also needed and any contribution will be appreciated.

A. D. FULLER, Chairman
Christmas Committee for Service Men.

Letters and News Briefs From Boys In Service

The following letter was received from "Bud" Dolan, now serving in the Marine Corps at Guadalcanal by "Bob" Perry, a fellow-Marine in the Marine base at Parris Island:

Guadalcanal, Solomon Is.
Nov. 1, 1942.

Dear Bob:

I guess you know I was never too hasty about doing anything, but I guess I should have at least got a letter off to you six months ago. Naturally I have to say this to every guy I write to because I'm usually from six to eight months late.

I got a paper from home today and I read about your arriving at Parris Island. By this time you're all thru boot camp, which probably doesn't make you unhappy. If it's the same as it was when I was there and I imagine it is, it's quite rugged physically, especially if you have a punk D. I. (I thought it was rugged but after being here that looks like paradise.)

I can't tell you anything about the setup here except that it's far from dull and you don't worry about what to do in spare time. It's tough but I manage to get along.

Well take care of yourself and have a good time while you're in the States—there's no place like them. Write and let me know what sort of an outfit you're in.

Your pal, BUD.

P. S.—That paper was the first bit of mail I've had since I left the States in July and boy I really read it.

The following letter, written by Lt. E. Clair Greene, and read at the W. C. T. U. party Monday evening, telling of his activities will be of interest to his many Andover friends:

Camp Carson, Colo.,
Nov. 13, 1942.

Dear Andover Friends:

I suppose it is only natural in these distressing days of war that my memories of those happy boyhood days in Andover should return to my mind so frequently. I have so often wondered if we will ever know that happy peaceful existence again, if and when this conflict has ceased.

I know that any account of my life as a non-combatant here at camp cannot be as entertaining as those you will receive from the boys actually in the war zone but there are a few items which may be of interest.

In the first place the battalion for which I am the medical officer is the only one of its type in the U. S. A.—a mule pack field artillery. Instead of hauling their guns (field howitzers they are called) on caissons or trucks they are dismantled and strapped on the backs of mules which makes them accessible to any fighting area no matter how mountainous the terrain. Perhaps you read of the Nazi mountain troops which proved the undoing of the Greeks and the Norwegians by going around and above their well-fortified mountain positions. It was for the purpose of defense against their 14 divisions of such troops that our mule pack artillery unit was established. The Army is going further with the idea this winter by moving us to a point called Camp Hale (Pando, Colo). Combining with infantry engineers, signal corps, etc., and putting us on skiis to form a complete mountain division. Camp Hale is located in the very peaks of the Rockies at 14,000 feet elevation and offers the nearest thing to Norway, Alaska, or Siberia that can be found in this country. For complete details of the training we can expect there I must refer you to the last issue of "Life" picture magazine. It is as accurate in detail as any description I could give you.

You may picture my job as a soft hospital position but I must assure you that that is not the case, for where the troops go I must go also. There is no day of manoeuvres without some casualty—some man is thrown and dragged by a horse or kicked by a mule, and if he avoids this he may be crowded off a narrow mountain trail. You can imagine my physical distress after six to eight years of a sedentary existence to have to stay in the saddle for 20 to 30 miles a day and sleep on the ground at night with only blankets to cushion my slumber. I ached worse than I did the summer I worked for Joe Williams on that street curbing job. However, after I finish the arduous training promised for this winter I should be tougher than I was the summer after I worked for "Pete" Howland on the road gang. Even now we are doing special calesthenics and running a mile every morning in preparation. I have spent the past two weeks weeding out those who have the slightest disability for only those who are absolutely physically fit can be taken to Camp Hale.

All this offers a challenge and gives one a sense of pride to be part of this picked outfit, but I regret leaving Camp Carson very much, for it is ideal as far as climate and beauty of surroundings are concerned. Colorado Springs, a nationaly known resort only six miles away, has been a wonderfully pleasant place for my family to live, but when I read of the torture and privations our boys are enduring in the Pacific war zone I am ashamed of my reluctance to endure anything so trival in comparison. Our possibilities of remaining at home are not too secure either, for several of our officers and afew sections of our battalian have already been sent across. In an outfit composed of regular army troops one never knows when the call will come.

If we survive the rigors of this coming winter's training, we should be in condition to take anything those Nazi demons can dish out and push it back down their throats.

I am indeed pleased that you people in Andover remember me as the home town boy.

Local WRC Sponsoring Blood Donor Funds

The members of Edward Seaman W. R. C., wish to call the attention of the public to the cans placed in the Market Basket and Williams' stores for funds to be used for processing the blood given by donors.

This is the first time the WRC has solicited the public for funds for any purpose and will appreciate your co-operation in furthering the war effort.

Daylight Air Raid Successful

Andover had a daylight air raid Wednesday afternoon which was handled very successfully by local air raid officials, with the general co-operation of residents.

The streets were cleared and all traffic stopped almost instantly after the whistles sounded.

A few people got curious to look up and down the streets from their doorways or porches, but as one official stated, that is human nature. But if "eggs" were falling their curiosity wouldn't bother them a bit.

Fractures Ankle in Fall

Mrs. Minnie Wilson of Independence had the misfortune to fracture her ankle in a fall at her home Wednesday. The fracture was reduced by Dr. S. B. Scott of Andover.

Tin Cans, Silk Hose and Jalopies Are Wanted

Salvage Chairman Holt has received a call this week for tin cans, silk and nylon stockings and jalopies.

The first pick-up of tin cans in Allegany county is scheduled for December 6, so get your cans ready and leave them at your grocery store before that date as the tin is badly needed.

The rules for the salvage of tin cans are:

Wash all cans.
Remove labels.
Cut out top and bottom.
Crush flat.

Don't waste a single can Don't throw them in your garbage can or put them out for rubbish collection.

The W.P.B. has asked Allegany county residents to start salvaging silk and nylon stockings which are vital to the War effort in the making of powder bags for America's big guns. These are very important and badly needed as silk is found to be the only fabric which burns completely in the firing of a gun and leaves no hot embers which might cause the premature explosion of the next charge.

The following types of stekings are wanted and may be left at the Folsing store.

All silk.
All nylon
Silk and nylon
Silk and rayon
Silk and cotton
Nylon and cotton.

Start today and dig out every single stocking of any of these types you can find and take them to the Folsing store.

The "Jalopy Junking Round-up" program has been turned over by the government to the American Legion as a National project, which every Legion Post in the country will co-operate in. The Government states that "A car is either Transportation or Junk". The Legion has been asked to locate all cars not in running order, that are setting all over privately owned places, find out the owner, and whether or not he will junk it, if not report it to the War Production Board.

Every Jolopy junked means:

27 more 20 millimeter aircraft cannon for the Army, or 30 more .50 calibre machine guns for the Army, or one and one-half big 16-inch shells for the Navy, or three 2,000 pound bombs for the Air Corps

You can add greatly in this effort by reporting the whereabouts of a car not in running order to any member of the American Legion.

Richard McAndrew Enlists In Army

Richard B. McAndrew, another popular Andover young man, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward McAndrew went to Buffalo last week and enlisted in the Army. He is now home on a 14-day leave, after being assigned to the 508th Parachute Troop, Infantry.
