SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

THE MISSION OF THE CHURCH

International Sunday School Lesson for Nov. 29, 1942.

Golden Text: "As the Father hath sent me, even so send I you."—John 20:21.

Lesson Text: Matt. 18:15-7; Acts 1:8; 2:42; 6:1-4; 11:27-39; 13:1-3; I John 1:3.

Usually, in a consideration of the church, we think of the subject from the standpoint of the individual's contribution to the church. In this lesson, we will approach the subject from another angle—that of the church's contribution to the individual.

Just what is the mission of the church? We believe that a proper answer to that question is that "the church is an institution composed of believers, banded together to do the will of God."

The church's primary business is to win the unsaved to Christ, thus promoting Christ's comprehensive program. Just before Jesus left his disciples, he gave them, and thru them, to us, what we have come to call "The Great Commission." This is to be found in Matt. 28:18-20. You are probably familiar with this great command of Jesus, but for the practical purpose of this lesson, we will review somewhat.

Where are Christ's disciples to go? They were to go everywhere to all nations. Who was to go? Everyone who heard and accepted the Gospel had the responsibility to be a witness for Christ. What were they to do? (1) They were to make disciples; (2) baptize those won, and (3) teach the new believers to observe and to obey all the commands of Jesus. Why should they go? (1) As Jesus was soon to go away, they were to carry on his work in the world; (2) he had all power; and (3) he would go with them.

Another function of the church is revealed by study of I John 1:3 and Matthew 18:15-17, that is to provide an atmosphere of fellowship which is conducive to spiritual growth. One of the greatest advantages to the individual church member lies in association with other Christian characters. It is the duty of the church to provide for its members an atmosphere in which they can grow more like Christ.

In this connection, one writer declares. "The church may well be compared to a flower garden. The flowers are planted together in an orderly arrangement and often the garden plot is protected by a fence or a walk. Of course, plants may grow on the outside of the plot, but they receive less cultivation and are exposed to greater dangers. One may not be aware of the protection thus found in an active church membership, but it is none the less real."

When we speak of fellowship, it might be interesting to learn its root meaning. Its simple definition is companionship, which comes from two Latin words: con, together, and panis, bread. So that literally a companion is one with whom we eat bread. Thus, it is fitting that we apply this word to our church association, those with whom we eat the bread of the Lord's table.

The church also offers a place for the public worship of God. Thru worship, the individual is brought to a keener sense of the Lord's presence in his life, which will result in a better understanding of God's will for one's life, which, in turn, will inspire the individual worshipper to a life of helpful service.

The church also inspires individuals to mutual sharing. This not only involves the sharing of money, thru financial contributions to the program of the church, but also fosters the spirit of generosity and thoughtfulness for the needs of less fortunate members of the church, the community and the world. The members of the early church set a worthy example for all Christians to follow in their sacrificial sharing of worldly possessions. While it may not be practical in this day to practice communal giving, surely the message of the church, properly given and received, will lead its members to proportionate and purposeful giving of money and talents to the work of spreading the Gospel.

Local Presbyterian Church Calls Pastor

At a congregationaal meeting held Monday evening in the church it was voted unanimously to extend a call to the Rev. Harold Austin of Fairhaven, N. Y. as full time pastor of the Andover Presbyterian church. Rev. W. W. McCall of Hornell was moderator of the meeting.

Rev. Austin comes to Andover with high recommendations from Fairhaven, where he has been pastor of the Fairhaven Presbyterian church for the past eleven years.

While in Andover Saturday and Sunday Rev. Austin was entertained in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Snyder and Mr. and Mrs. Almon Wood.

Progress of the Christmas Seal Sale Campaign

The first nine days of the Christmas Seal Sale of the Allegany Health and Tuberculosis Association which opened last week "once again proves that the people of Allegany County are making every effort to aid in the fight against tuberculosis, a disease that kills more persons between the ages of 15 and 45 than any other disease," says Frank L. Gere, chairman of the campaign committee.

To date, $1,500 have been received by the association. To meet the needs of the 1943 budget, $5,100 must be raised from the Seal Sale, which is the main support of the year-round work of the association.

Christmas Seal funds, according to Mr. Gere, are used for preventative, rehabilitative and educational work thruout the year. One of the most important phases of this work is the tuberculin testing program which is conducted in high schools and colleges. The past two years 2,133 Allegany county high school students and adults were tuberculin tested, of this number there were 177 positive reactors. This indicated that at some time these individuals had been affected with tuberculosis. These reactors and their family contacts were examined and x-rayed in chest clinics. Tuberculosis comes from tuberculosis. It can attack anyone but it need not attack you, because today medical science has advanced to the point where even the earliest stages of tuberculosis can be diagnosed and treated before wholesale infection sets in.

"It is hoped," stated Mr. Gere, "that contributions will be as generous as possible. The drive is conducted only at Christmas time but the work is a year around function."

November Milk Price Estimated at Record Level $3.26

The third straight record-setting milk price was sighted today when Charles J. Blanford, administrator of the New York metropolitan milk marketing area, estimated that dairy farmers of the New York milkshed will collect for their November deliveries at the uniform rate of $3.26 a hundredweight.

The administrator likewise forecast that November receipts will weigh approximately 400,000,000 pounds and will fall below last November's volume by 3.6 per cent.

"Estimates of price and production," Dr. Blanford reported, "indicate that the pool should produce a farm value of at least $13,840,000 counting in the value of the extra butterfat and location payments. The November 1941 pool yielded a return of $12,499,562.75.

Milk received in October at approved plants in Allegany county totalled 5,437,889 pounds, which was valued under the October uniform price of $3.01 per hundred, at $163,680.46.

Deer Take Is Small This Year In This Section

The take of deer this season in this vicinity was much smaller than in previous years. Many hunters closed the season Monday night without their trophy.

A number of reasons have been advanced by hunters for the small deer take, but unfavorable hunting weather seems to be the most logical "good reason" we have heard.

Among the lucky hunters, locally to get their deer we have noted the following:

Appreciation

I wish to thank all those who were so kind to me during my illness in sending gifts, flowers and cards, especially do I thank the Eastern Star, King's Daughters and the Rebekahs.

Whitesville Man Killed in Deer Hunting Accident

Francis L. Watkins, 31, of Whitesville is the only deer hunting casualty reported in Allegany county this year.

Watkins was instantly killed Friday afternoon by a ricocheting slug fired by a hunting companion Charles H. Clark.

According to statements made by members of the hunting party, Watkins and Clark were among a group that were "driving." The two were about a hundred feet apart when a deer jumped up and Clark fired. Watkins was believed to have been standing on a stump at the time of the accident but was not seen by his companion. The slug deflected off a log and struck Watkins in the back of the neck.

Watkins moved to Whitesville last spring from Arcade and was employed at the Borden plant. He is survived by his wife, two small children, his father and four brothers.

Another hunting accident is reported near Shongo when William Callogran of Olean had his right knee cap shot away when the gun of a companion was accidently discharged while unloading it.

He is being treated at Jones Memorial Hospital in Wellsville.

Allegany County Heads List In Bond Purchases

War Savings Staff officials of Group 1, which comprises eight counties in Western New York, announced this week that Allegany county stands at the top in total sales of War Bonds for the six months period ended October 30.

During the six months period, the report stated, Allegany county citizens purchased $1,334,000 worth of War Bonds against a quota of $1,143,000.

On a percentage basis, Allegany county purchased 116 per cent. of the quota against an average of 77 per cent. for the Group 1 area.

Other counties in the area include Cattaraugus, Chautauqua, Erie, Genesee, Niagara, Wyoming and Orleans.

"We give a full measure of credit to the local chairman and their committees for this excellent showing," George B. Booth, Jr., Allegany County War Savings Staff chairman stated.

"The record shows that all have done an excellent job and the citizens of Allegany county have given a whole-hearted response to the work.

"It gives all of us pleasure to look back upon such an excellent record but we must also look ahead to the job which remains to be done month after month until the war is won. The dollars from the home front must be put into action in order that our men on the battle front may have the guns, tanks, planes and supplies needed to prosecute the war to complete victory."

Fire at Silk Mill Does Little Damage

The fire alarm called the firemen to the Steuben Silk Mills Wednesday about noon where a bad fire was averted by the action of the mill hands and Mr. Allen, one of the owners of the mill.

Mr. Allen was using a cutting torch in the boiler room of the building when sparks caught fire to a pile of newspapers collected ready for salvage by local authorities, the flames quickly spreading to the ceiling of the room, working between the floor and ceiling.

The fire was brought under control with minor damage to the interior of the room.

Mr. Allen suffered bad burns on his right arm and burns about the face and neck.

(d) During the continuance of the present war, those who were born on or after January 1, 1925, shall be registered on the day they attain the eighteenth anniversary of the day of their birth; provided, that if such anniversary falls on a Sunday or a legal holiday, their registration shall take place on the day following that is not a Sunday or a legal holiday.

Every male citizen of the United States and every other male person residing in the continental United States or in its territories, other those those excepted by law, is required to and shall during the time or on the day fixed herein for his registration present himself for and submit to registration before a duly designated registration official or selective service local board having jurisdiction in the area in which he has his permanent home or in which he may happen to be during that time or on that day if such male citizen or other male person has not heretofore been registered under the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940, as amended, and the regulations prescribed there under.

A person subject to registration may be registered after the time or day fixed for his registration in case he is prevented from registering during that time or on that day by circumstances beyond his control. If he is unable to present himself for and submit to registration during the time or on the day fixed for his registration, he shall do so as soon as possible after the cause for such inability ceases to exist.

The registration will be held on the days above mentioned between the hours of 9 a. m. and 5 p. m., at the office of the Local Draft Board in Wellsville.

Plans Made for Junior Co-operative Here

At a meeting of the And-Well Producers Co-operative held in Andover Grange hall Wednesday evening plans were made for the organization of a Junior Co-operative in Andover.

Charles DuPont, of the Metropolitan Milk Bargaining Agency in Syracuse was the principal speaker of the evening and gave the co-operative members and members of the Andover Exchange Club, who were invited guests, a very complete picture of the milk marketing situation and its history.

A fine roast pork dinner was served the group by Andover Grange preceding the meeting.

Due to the inclement weather which prevented many co-operative members from attending the meeting. A temporary organization was set up to function until another meeting which will be called in the near future to complete a permanent organization.

Every once in a while a man has the rare good fortune to meet with good fortune.
