AER Aids Dependents of Soldiers

In keeping with the Army tradition that the soldier on the fighting front should not be worried about conditions on the home front, Colonel F. D. Carlock announced today that the Army Emergency Relief office at Fort Niagara, New York is fully prepared to assist dependents of soldiers residing in Andover, New York and vicinity.

Army Emergency Relief was organized to meet the emergency relief needs of the wives, parents, children or close relatives of Army men who previously contributed to their support. After careful investigation shows the case to be worthy, the relief may take the form of cash grants, loans, or other aid.

A few typical cases of Army Emergency Relief assistance are; when induction into the service disrupts the family budget; when a soldier dies and insurance or death benefits have not arrived; when serious medical problems arise in the home. In short, Army Emergency Relief steps in and aids the dependents of a soldier in any financial crisis created by his presence in the Army.

Army Emergency Relief does not, however, compete with or replace the American Red Cross or other worthy welfare agencies with which it works in closest cooperation.

Colonel F. D. Carlock pointed out that the funds used by AER had been raised in large measure by patriotic civilians or by the military personnel through such sums as Irving Berlin's "This is the Army." "Assisting soldiers and their families in this way we do not consider as charity," said Colonel F. D. Carlock, "because the emergencies requiring our assistance are due to the call to service of the nation. We view our aid, therefore, as a friendly act of one neighbor to another, just as happens constantly in every community in the country."

Applicants who write or go to Fort Niagara, New York for aid are required to prove their relationship to the soldier and to furnish his full name, grade, serial number, and last mailing address. Members of the military personnel, who also may be eligible for assistance, should apply to their organization commander.

In mailing your application to Fort Niagara, address the envelope "Commanding Officer, Fort Niagara, New York."

Lest We Forget To Pay For Our Christmas Seals

Have you forgotten somethings? Forgotten to pay for the Christmas Seals you received last month from the Allegany Health & Tuberculosis Association?

If you did forget, it's not too late to send the money now to the association at Belmont. Your money is needed more this year than any year since 1917.

War and tuberculosis work closely together. In the four years, 1937-1940 this deadly disease killed more Americans than died as the result of action in all wars our country fought up to Dec. 7, 1941. In certain overcrowded industrial areas in this country tuberculosis is rising. Tuberculosis will not increase in Allegany county if the association can help it. We must help the association.

Don't think your contribution won't be missed. Practically all of the income from seals is made up of one and two-dollar contributions. It takes a lot of such small contributions to carry on the year-round work of the association.

So, take two dollars out of your pocket. Look at them. What can you do with two dollars? Plenty, of course!

What can the association do with your two dollars? It can carry on its year-round fight to save lives in Allegany county from a disease that kills more persons between 15 and 45 than any other disease—a disease that is increasing in the United States due to wartime conditions.

What are you going to do with your two living-saving dollars?

CHRISTMAS GREETINGS to all OUR FRIENDS

War Rationing Book II Will Use Point System

Basic facts on point rationing which is to be introduced early in 1943 when War Rationing Book two is distributed have been outlined by the office of War Information.

The purpose of point rationing is to guarantee everyone a fair share of scarce but essential goods while at the same time giving everyone a variety of items to choose from.

There are three chief differences between point rationing and the coupon rationing which is now in effect for sugar and coffee.

The first important difference is this: Under straight coupon rationing, one single coupon entitles the consumer to buy a specific amount of a single commodity — such as one sugar coupon entitles you to buy three pounds of sugar.

But in points rationing one set of coupons covers a whole group of commodities. For instance, your week's meat ration coupons would enable you to choose your ration freely between beef, pork, lamb or mutton.

The second important difference is this: The coupons in point rationing are of different denominations. Those to be spent in one week, for example, will include a one-point coupon, a two-point coupon, a five-point coupon and an eight-point coupon.

The third important difference is this — the various rationing items within one group will have different point values. For example, tender loin steak, being relatively scarcer might have a high point value and require a larger number of coupons while hamburger, being available in greater quantities would have a lower point value. Thus, in exchange for a ration coupon worth eight points, the housewife might be able to obtain one pound of tenderloin steak or four of hamburger. Point values have not been set yet. Values used here are for illustration only.)

The government will set the point value of each item within the group or rationed products and issue an official list. Point values will be based on available supplies and will vary as supplies of particular items increase or decrease.

War ration book two will have four pages of blue stamps and four pages of red stamps. The blue stamps will be used for the first group of goods to be rationed by points. The red stamps will be used for the second group of point-rationed goods.

The number on each stamp tells how many points the stamp is worth. The letter on each stamp tells what period it is good for. The government will announce these periods in advance.

Christmas Eve Service

The Presbyterian church choir will sing the cantata "Carols of Christmas" by Ellen Jane Lorenz. This is a collection of many old Christmas carols that everyone loves to hear.

Everyone is invited to attend this service at 10:45 p. m. Christmas Eve.

County Democrats Elect New Officers At Special Meeting

Jerry H. Burdick of Wellsville was elected chairman of the Allegany County Democratic Committee to succeed Frederick S. Buck, and Herbert D. Bliss, publisher of the Allegany County Democrat, was elected Secretary and Treasurer, at a special meeting of the County Democratic Committee held in Belmont Friday afternoon.

Mr. Buck has served the Allegany County Democratic Committee very efficiently for several years, giving much of his time and ability to the work. In his letter of resignation Mr. Buck stated that his resignation was necessary because of the presence of war activities and the fact that he is no longer able to spend much time in the county. "Fritz" has made a fine chairman and his efforts are appreciated by the members of the committee who regret that circumstances made it necessary for him to resign.

Mr. Bliss succeeds Louis Mainte of Wellsville as secretary and treasurer. Mr. Minte's resignation was necessary because of his enlistment in the U. S. Army Signal Corps Reserve.

In the absence of Mr. Buck the meeting was presided over by Mrs. Mary Burns, co-chairman of the committee.

Surrogate Court

Two sons, Edward S. Horan of Andover and Joseph D. Horan of Schenectady have qualified as executors of the will of the late Henry Horan of Andover, who died Dec. 6. The will names the sons executors and disposes of an estate given in the petition for probate as exceeding in value $2,000 in personal and $3,000 in real property. The estate was ordered divided equally among three sons, the two already named and Leo Horan of Andover, and two daughters, Hattie B. Smith of Bradford, Pa., and Elizabeth Snyder of Andover.

Margaret B. Adams, widow, of Wellsville, resident in the town of Andover, was named sole beneficiary and executrix in the will of Herbert B. Adams, same town, who died Sept. 25 last, leaving an estate stated as exceeding in value $500 in personalty and $500 in realty.

Farm-Home Week To Answer Family Needs

How to meet wartime conditions on the farm and in the home will be the keynote of the three-day Cornell Farm and Home Week, scheduled for February 2, 3, and 4.

A strictly "homemade" program provided by staff members of the College of Home Economics and the Extension Service will bring to rural women the answers to many of their problems in keeping a family comfortable, happy, and well-fed in wartime, according to the announcement from Sarah Gibson Blanding, dean of the College of Home Economics.

Current problems of New York State homemakers will fill all the periods of the women's prrogram.

Farm machinery clinics, field trips in fuelwood and sawlog cutting and handling, and practical talks for dairymen, maple syrup producers, and farmers who operate much mechanical equipment will be important parts of the mens program for the week, says Prof. L. D. Lelsey, who is arranging the general program of events.

Fewer events than usual will be scheduled during each hour and day, he says, but this will enable each visitor to reach a greater proportion of the total number of meetings given. Most lectures, as well as exhibits and demonstrations, will be arranged to allow the farmer and his wife to ask questions that bear on their particular problems.

The Farm and Home, Week meetings, like most other meetings not cancelled this winter, says Prof. Kelsey are expected to return practical value to the rural people who attend.

Motorists Asked To Preserve 1942 License Plates

Five minutes effort on the part of every motorist in Allegany County will help the State of New York save 1500 tons of steel for war purposes during the coming year.

"You're not going to get a new license plate in 1943" says H. G. Young of the Allegany County War Transportation Committee. "You will receive only a narrow strip to be bolted over your present license plate as evidence that you have registered your car for the coming year. That means your 1942 license plate must stand up for another year."

Your license plate won't be serviceable for another year unless you take some precaution to protect its surface against the elements The Commissioner of Motor Vehicles recommends that you clean your plate and then apply to its surface a coat of protective spar varnish. The Allegany County War Transportation Committee urgently requests that you follow this recommendation.

Five minutes of your time thus expended will help save badly needed steel for armament. The State is conserving 1500 tons of steel by issuing the registration strips instead of two regular-sized plates. The mate to your 1942 plate must be held in reserve for use in 1944.

Passenger and commercial vehicle registrations expire Sunday, January 31; Omnibus and ambulance registrations, December 31; dealer and transporter registrations January 10. The 1943 registration strips, on sale at all motor vehicle offices beginning December 18, may not be displayed before January 1.

November Milk Yields Net Value Of $13,777,000

New York, Dec. 22.—Local dairy farmers will collect in full this week for the milk, weighing 4,437,032 pounds, which they delivered last month to New York-area approved plants in Allegany county. The county's receipts are worth $145,534.65 at the uniform rate of $3.28 a hundredweight recently announced by C. J. Blanford, administrator of the New York metropolitan milk marketing area.

The value is 10.1 per cent higher than the yield from the November 1941 deliveries to the metropolitan pool.

The appraisal was reckoned without the value of the butterfat in excess of 3.5 per cent which averaged 17.3 cents for every 100 pounds of milk in the November pool. A year ago the extra butterfat yielded 16.6 cents.

The pool which local dairymen are sharing with the rest of the 56,010 dairy producers in New York pool has a net farm value of $13,777,430.56. The previous November pool yielded $12,497,902.97. The margin of gain which is credited to the current pool of 10.2 per cent and is the result of an increase of 46 cents in the uniform rate. The price of a year ago was $2.82.
