Americans, Please Note

Articles in the August 5 issue of The Union Signal called attention to the concern of rural dwellers in the United States in regard to the beverage alcohol problem. And the difficulties, apparently, are not confined to this country. Farmers in the vicinity of Worcester, South Africa, were aroused when the licensing board met to consider granting permits. Pleading for the protection of youth and the native colored people, several citizens made such effective protestations that the licenses were refused. Americans might take a tip from Africa. —Union Signal, Aug. 19.

Producer Return Of $3.83 Figured For August Milk

New York, Sept. 13.—A return of $3.83 a hundredweight was assured dairy farmers of the New York milkshed and the metropolitan milk pool was credited with a cluster of new records when Dr. C. J. Blanford, administrator of the New York metropolitan milk marketing area, reported the results of the August equalization pool.

The pool, which priced 467,658,224 pounds of milk delivered in August, has yielded a uniform price of $3.38 a hundredweight, according to the administrator's computation. Dairy feed payments from the War Food Administration at the minimum of 45c a hundredweight of milk means, however, that dairy farmers in the milkshed's six states will collect at the total rate of $3.83 to surpass an August peak of $3.56 that has stood since 1920.

Two Die From Results of Truck Crash Friday

Thomas Hubertus, 67, was killed and his son-in-law, Edward Bastian, 34, died in Jones Memorial Hospital, Wellsville, the result of an early morning accident on the Andover-Wellsville road Friday morning.

Mr. Hubertus and his son-in-law left Wellsville in the early morning with a load of household goods for Rochester, when for some reason the truck left the highway on a slight curve just west of Carl Burdick's farm and crashed into a culvert.

Mr. Hubertus who was driving, was pinned in the cab, his chest badly crushed and severly burned. The truck and load were completely destroyed by fire.

Navy Needs Doctors And Chaplains

Among the billets which the Navy is anxious to fill by direct commissioning from civilian life, medical officers and chaplains are carrying the highest priorities according to Lieut. Comdr. F. F. Moore, Officer-in-Charge of the Office of Naval Officer Procurement, Rochester. Lieut. Comdr. Moore states that the Navy's need for Chaplain and Medical Officers is extremely acute. In general, the top age limit for doctors is 55 years of age and physical waivers are now being granted for certain defects, particularly vision, which were not formerly allowed.

At least five hundred Chaplains are desired by the Navy immediately. After commissioning, chaplains are sent to Williamsburg, Va., for several weeks of indoctrinational training and are later assigned to duties at naval stations within and outside the continental limits, with a limited number being assigned for duty afloat, and others to the Marine Corps. Interested applicants may contact the Office of Naval Officer Procurement, Genesee Valley Trust Building, Rochester 4, N. Y.
