Bouquets to You

Usually, the honor of receiving our orchids is extended to a member of our school staff whose ability and work gives them the privilege of this honor.

This week, however, we are not giving the orchid to a faculty members, it goes to a student.

We, the editors of the Hi Herald, Mrs. McKenna and the members of this organization wish to present "Jim" Backus with our orchid.

"Jim," one of the most popular members of ACS, well deserves this privilege. He has just recently joined our staff. Also Jim is a member of the band and orchestra.

He is missed in his many classes, especially the chemistry class. The members of this class are patiently waiting for the boy who will discover an exceedingly strong explosive.

The Chemistry Class only hopes it won't be during that particular period.

We proudly present you this orchid, Jim, and please don't let it wither. Wax it so it will keep alive.

The students of ACS wish you to know that we're all waiting for your joyous return. SM

A Marine Returns

Staff Sergeant Clyde R. Briggs, S. M. C., who has recently returned from the Southern Pacific theatre of war, once again walked through the corridors of A. C. S.

Staff Sergeant Briggs arrived in A. C. S. during the assembly program last Friday. He spoke a few words to the students, but confessed that there wasn't much he could tell.

When interviewed, Clyde said: "I am very glad to be able to return to A. C. S. Even thirty days is too short a time to see everyone you would like to see and therefore, through the Hi-Herald, I would like to say "hello" to those whom I haven't been able to see.

Staff Sergeant Briggs will return to Jacksonville, Florida and there will be decided his next destination. CMH

Freshmen Visit Voting Booth

Friday afternoon about 2:00 the freshmen social studies class, accompanied by Miss Hanley, visited the town hall to inspect the voting apparatus.

Mrs. Theetge explanied the mechanism of the voting machine very clearly. The demonstration was very interesting, and all members of the class were allowed to vote. The freshmen wish to thank Mrs. Theetge for her time and effort in their behalf. DW

Visits to the voting place were also made by the 7th and 8th grade social studies classes Friday morning.

ACS Holds First Assembly

The first assembly of the school year began with the customary salute to the flag, led by Mr. Bretsch and was followed by the singing of the Star-Spangled Banner. The ACS band accompanied.

Gloria Ellis, president of the senior class, introduced the president of the junior-senior high school classes which were published in the Hi Herald last week.

Miss Hurn, the new music instructor, led the group in singing, "Shortnin' Bread," "The Trolly Song," "Sweet and Lovely" and "Swingin' on a Star," the words of which were shown on the screen with slides. Miss Sherwood ran the slide projector while the students sang.

When the lights were raised, Arretta Dunham, Ruth Hardy, Lila Childs and Ruth Lynch were standing in a group near the stage discussing the 'Sadie Hawkins" dance. Evidently they decided they wanted to go as they chased Bob Baker, Frannie Horan, Jug Dunham and Neil McCormick around the auditorium and stage. When the boys were caught, after a series of yells, bumps and screams, the four girls and what was left of the boys danced two square dances. The remainder of the group sang the familiar calls.

Master Sergeant Clyde Briggs, United States Marine Corps, dropped in on the assembly and told us of his many interesting experiences. One of these took place on Ellis Islands. At the end of his talk the group sang the Marine hymn.

The "School Song" was sung with a lot of vim and vigor and the ACS band, directed by Miss Horn, played for the passing to and from the auditorium.

It is hoped that the future assemblies will be as much fun and as successful as the one which the seniors sponsored. PET

Book Review

"Wave High the Banner"
By Dee Brown

Davey Crockett represented the West, which first came into power during the presidency of Andrew Jackson. During Jackson's administration, rough clothed backwoods men and farmers dressed in coonskin hats and buckskin hunting shirts poured into Washington as representatives and Congressmen.

Davy Crockett was born of poor Tennessee folks. Because of his great reputation as a sharp shooter and bear hunter, he was very popular among the people of Western Tennessee, who also voted him to Congress twice.

Finally, tired of politics and civilization, he left his large family in Tennessee and journeyed to Texas in search of adventure, where he was killed in the Battle of the Alamo.

If anyone enjoys reading historical novels which are interesting and entertaining, they should read this book. DAD-PJ

Lois Borden Writes to Hi H

4411 Chase Ave.,
Bethesda, Maryland
October 30, 1944

Dear A. C. S.:

Since you can never get rid of a bad penny, here I am. I said I'd write and tell you all about Washington. That would be almost a physical impossibility, especially for me.

School here isn't an awful lot different. It is larger and there is only sophomore, junior and senior classes, but the general routine is about the same. The school has a long name which is Bethesda Chevy Chase High School, but here you hear it only as B. C. C. or "B-town."

For the first time B. C. C. has a football team. The first game was played last Monday, October 23rd, at Landen and we won 13-2. It was a swell game and the students really went all out for the team. There is a game here tomorrow with Sherwood.

Here at B. C. C. we have representatives from 39 states, England, China, France, Japan, (American girl born in Japan), Australia, Canada, etc.

Maybe you have been wondering about Southern accents. There are very few of them here. About the only time you hear one is from a real Southener. Every man now and then you hear a "yo all" and a "right good" but that is about all.

We have a "School-Door-Canteen" every Friday night. It is like your "Social Hours" only they sell refreshments.

We also have a school paper. It is called "The Tattler" and comes out every Friday.

I like B. C. C. but I miss ACS. I'd like to hear from "yo all."

As ever,
LOIS BORDEN

Five Weeks Tests

Five weeks tests were held this week in Andover Central School.

Due to the late return of students to school, these tests are considered as ten weeks tests.

Report cards will be issued next Wednesday.

Music Notes

We see that Miss Horn cracked another baton. That's the second this year. Quite a record! Miss Horan must have worked on the railroad to develop that muscle.

The operetta has been chosen, altho the name is a deep, dark secret. If any of you students have a trace of Bette Davis or Rise Stevens in you, come down to the music room for a try-out. The music department hopes to have this operetta ready by Christmas.

New Christmas music has been obtained for the various musical organizations. JT-JS

Papers Received By Hi Harald

School papers were received by the Hi Herald from two schools in Allegany county last week.

The Fillmore "Space" was sent to us from Fillmore and "The Tattler" was sent from Whitesville.

We intend to send our paper to the schools from which we receive papers.

This procedure will enable us to judge their papers and also compare ours to their's. This will help us to correct many faults in our meetings. SAM

School Calendar For First Term Announced

The school calendar for the remainder of 1944 will be as follows:

November 10—Report cards issued for the first and second marking periods.

November 22—School closes at noon for Thanksgiving and reopens November 27.

December 15—Report cards issued for the third marking period.

December 25 to January 1—Christmas vacation.

January 22-26—Mid year and Regents examinations will be held.

The calendar for the second term will be announced later. JL

Girls' Sports

This year A. C. S. will participate in four play days, which will be held in the near future. Two days will be devoted to basketball, one volley ball and one to softball. The county will be divided into three leagues in which the following schools will take part:

Bolivar, Richburg, Cuba, Friendship, Scio, Allentown, Belfast, Fillmore, Angelica, Rushford, Belmont, Whitesville, Wellsville, Alfred-Almond, Canaseraga, Andover.

The play days will be held at a different school each time. They will take place always on a Saturday between 10 o'clock and 2 o'clock. Each school shall bring no more than ten players. The girls will be taken from the junior-senior gym classes which are beginning to prepare now. JL

GRADE NEWS

The kindergarten has a total of $18 in War Stamps for the school year. They are working on Thanksgiving pictures and stories. They are also reading the story of the first Thanksgiving.

Mrs. O'Boyle's first grade is making a child size toy train. They have $10 in War Stamps.

Mrs. Allen's first grade has a total of $32.80 for this year. There is an attractive bulletin board made up of turkeys and geese to celebrate the coming Thanksgiving. They also have a Thanksgiving turkey calendar.

Miss Bartholomew's third grade have been drawing pictures of the environment of the cave men which they are studying.

Miss Baker's fifth and sixth grades have $38 in War Stamps. They had a miniature vote for President. Roosevelt and Truman won 2 to 1.

Mrs. Schwarzenbach is absent this week and is being substituted by Mrs. Regal Perry of Wellsville.

Mrs. Richard Harder taught last week Thursday and Friday and will teach Tuesday and Wednesday mornings for Mrs. Howard Gath, who has been ill.

The eighth grade has a total of $58.05 so far this year in War Stamps.

With Paint and Brush

Miss Wilder is teaching the grades the vocabulary of forms applied to the season and class interests. Most of the work is always illustrative in nature. In the Primary Grades they are doing illustrations as a form of self expression.

The junior high school is correlating work with Social Studies. It is about the early Colonial settlers and is appropriate for Thanksgiving.

The Senior High School girls are working on free rhythmic line movements in design and sketching interiors. CB and EG

Book Week

Book Week ! ! ! What does book week mean to you—new books, new friends, or just a new and gaily colored book mark?

Nov. 12th to the 18th is the American Book Week. We hold it, giving honor to new books and new authors. New books are on display and up for distribution in every school. This week is primarily to acquaint people with better literature, the gaily colored pictures and advertisements draw the attention of children to books which they may otherwise never have noticed. It is a part of the educational program of America.

Our new librarian, Mrs. Alvord, with the cooperation of Mrs. Mc Kenna, has taken great care in selecting new books for Book Week this year.

It is much to our regret and disappointment that these books have failed to arrive, as of today.

Posters will be displayed and book marks will be distributed throughout the school.

We hope that the new books will arrive in the near future, as we are all very anxious to look them them over and select books for educational enjoyment during the year AKE

Presenting . . .

Miss Florence Wilder

Teaching her chosen subject, Miss Florence Wilder is now replacing Miss Ziel, as art teacher in the Andover Central School. Here, she teaches grade art, design, representation, and mechanical drawing

Miss Wilder obtained her skill in art at Columbia University in New York City.

Before her present school, Miss Wilder taught art in Little Falls, New York. Her home town at present is Providence, Rhode Island.

Miss Wilder wishes to state that "This is the friendliest town I've ever seen." (We hope her opinion is the same at the end of the year.)

I know you'll all join in wishing Miss Wilder happiness and prosperity in the coming year ahead. PAL

Freshman Frolics

Why so many sleepy people the morning after Hallowe'en?

Whom are you going to take to the Sadie Hawkins dance, Nona?

What certain Miss seems doomed to be called "Zany" in Latin I?

Overheard in Study Hall: "We farmer's don't get to town very often, but when we do—row-de-dow! Is that right, Earl?

Who is the flame in Lawrence Hoyt's eye lately? Does anybody know?

Does anyone want a cake of soap? The Freshman general science class has some.

The Freshman frolicked down to the justice court last Friday afternoon. Oh, no! We're not that bad, we just went down to look at the voting machine.

Why so many puzzled frowns on the Freshmen in Latin I? Couldn't be the work is getting a little harder, could it?

Why does Lawrence Hoyt always ask the assistance of Karl Fisher in study hall? Couldn't be a certain black-haired miss at the same table, could it? JT

Camera Clicks

"Oh, no, you can't see this." "But that doesn't look like you at all." "Gee, but aren't you hand'some?" "Hey, don't forget you promised to give me one." "Are you going to keep yours?" "Ha, now I shall know who broke the camera!"

These are a few of the many and varied remarks which were heard in the A. C. S. home rooms Wednesday, November 1. The occasion being the return of pic-

Each student received six small photos and one larger, tinted picture.

These the students took home and showed to their parents. If they wanted to keep the photos they brought a dollar back to the home room teacher. Those who did not want their's returned them.

The majority of the pupils kept their pictures, and many ordered additional ones.

The grade students received their photos at that time also. PAT

Have You Caught Your Man?

Yes, girls have you caught your man yet? There is only one day left.

According to Emily Post the proper etiquette, pertaining to invitations to dances, is to have your date at least a week before the dance.

But, girls, we will make an exception to the rule in this case.

If you haven't your date yet, ask him today or tomorrow. Hurry ! ! ! ! ! SAM
