

THE ANDOVER NEWS

ONE DOLLAR A YEAR.

HAMILTON C. NORRIS, EDITOR

ANDOVER, N. Y., Aug. 23, 1893.

Everything the Atlanta Journal says has a little extra importance from the fact that its owner is Secretary of the Interior of Cleveland's Cabinet. Hoke can speak by the card if he wants to and he sometimes does. The Journal, therefore, excites considerable attention when it calls upon Congress "to pass the free coinage bill of both gold and silver, putting enough silver in the silver dollar to put it on parity with the gold dollar. We believe that Mr. Cleveland and his Cabinet of Democratic leaders in the Senate and House squarely favor this plan."

"It might be well for the money hoarders who desire to sell their money at a profit to get it upon the market at once, for within a brief period it will be a drug on the market."

Thus speaks Comptroller of the Currency Eckels.

"The volume of currency in the country is greater than in any recent year, and yet none is to be had now, except as it is bought in the market as a commodity pure and simple."

The receipt of $13,000,000 of foreign gold last week without swelling the bank reserves is a mystery. The scarcity of small currency is less strange. The entire paper currency of the country aggregates $1,105,000. Of this only about $55,000,000 is in $1 and $2 bills, and of these fully 10 per cent are worn out and destroyed. The savings banks generally hold about $35,000,000 in cash against their $1,850,000,000 of deposits. This is about 2 per cent. If they have expanded their cash holding to 10 per cent of their deposits—no large amount in time like this—this alone would sweep into their vast vault from one-half to one-third the small change in the country.

These Are Bank Presidents' Hard Days.

"After this panic is over and anecdote reminiscences are told of the experience of some of our banks and capitalists, we shall realize better even than we are doing now how great the strain has been and how, after all, the most jealous care has been taken by banking institutions of customers and the business community." Such was the opinion expressed by one of the ablest bankers of this city and he knew of what he was talking, since he has been most prominent in the council of the Clearing House. His comment was suggested by the action of one of the great banks last week. One of its customers was in dire necessity for a large sum of currency. The bank itself was not able to pay out as great a sum upon an instant's notice. Its president was satisfied that his customer needed the cash for a heavy payroll. He authorized some of his subordinates to go into the market, and he bought the currency needed, paying 3 per cent, for it, and paid it out to his customer, not charging him any premium, and on the same day this bank president, in order to have no further embarrassment, ordered his brokers to buy from the bank of England $2,000,000 in gold at whatever premium was demanded, which he will pay out to his customers according to their checks, and without charging a premium when the gold arrives. Yet the common opinion in the west and south of New York banks is that they are Shylocks.—New York Press.

The great road making exhibition at the Inter State Fair will be the first thing of the kind ever attempted. Already train loads of material for building roads on the immense grounds are arriving. It is estimated that 20,000 pathmasters and supervisors have signified their intention of being present on "good road" day to witness the making of all sorts of roads, which will be under the supervision of P. J. Neagle, an expert at road building.

Malarial and other atmospheric influences are best counteracted by keeping the blood pure and vigorous with Ayer's Sarsaparilla. A little caution in this respect may prevent serious illness at this season. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best all-the-year-round medicine in existence.

Things Are Discommodulated.

A western editor, who seems to be afflicted with a tendency to look on the dark side of matters terrestrial describes the average community throughout the civilized world in a terse and truthful manner thus: "Heaven-born orators are carrying the hod, athletes are preaching the gospel, and brilliant writers are shoeing horses. There are lawyers who ought to be cow punchers, and cow punchers who ought to practice law; surgeons who ought to be sawing wood, and wood cutters who ought to be sawing bones. There are men in the penitentiary who ought to be holding positions of trust, and men holding positions of trust who ought to be in the penitentiary."

We direct the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Simmons Liver Regulator on another page. We have used the medicine in our family, and are prepared to say from experience that for torpid liver or a disordered stomach it is a good remedy. When travelling we usually carry some in our valises. From the "Christians Visitor," Smithfield, N. C.

Read what G. B. Hart, a prominent citizen of Sing Sing, N. Y., says of a preparation which L. A. Burrows the druggist, is introducing here. "I can safely say there is no medicine so good for bowel complaints as Chamberlain's Colic Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. There are families here who would not do without it during the summer months. I consider it far superior to any other."

A Gentleman

Who formerly resided in Connecticut, but who now resides in Honolulu, writes: "For 30 years past, my wife and I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor, and we attribute to it the dark hair which she and I now have, while hundreds of our acquaintances, ten or a dozen years younger than we, are either gray-headed, white, or bald. When asked how our hair has retained its color and fullness, we reply, 'By the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor—nothing else.'"

"In 1868, my affianced was nearly bald, and the hair kept falling out every day. I induced her to use Ayer's Hair Vigor, and very soon, it not only checked any further loss of hair, but produced an entirely new growth, which has remained luxuriant and glossy to this day. I can recommend this preparation to all in need of a genuine hair-restorer. It is all that it is claimed to be."—Antonio Alarun, Bastrop, Tex.

Ostrich taming is a very profitable industry in Africa, where it is puted there are over 150,000 birds.

In France a congress has been session to consider the repopulation of the country. It is recommended men having no children be taxexily, and that taxes be reduced proportionately for the larger families.

A few years ago a hunter on Indian River in Florida killed 800000 birds during the season, securing two in one night. But they have come much scarcer since then, is impossible for a hunter to such a record at the present time.

The street scrapings of cities cleanings from gutters and and the garbage and refuse of kind could be applied to their great advantage," observes the "New York Times," "if such a sensible method of disposing of these wastes will be adopted."

Electric railways promise to be a convenient means for travel in the most congested districts.

Some farmers also find opportunities for profit in fresh or perishable goods along such lines. A new value for such products is growing and gardening.

The official report of immigration for the year ending 30th of July shows an aggregate decrease of 121,000 as compared with the preceding year. Particularly noteworthy feature of the report, remarks the New York Times, is the fact that the decrease is wholly from the better countries, Sweden, Norway, Denmark, and the English. Some of the emigrants show a substantial
