Mr. and Mrs. Decatur Clarke and sons were Saturday callers of Mr. and Mrs. George Burd in Canisteo.

Pastor Rex Burdick returned from Battle Creek, Mich., Monday.

The evening radio programs that enjoy top rating suit my taste admirably, but most publications with top circulations leave me cool. I can't figure that one out.

I've mastered nearly everything in personal life except how to keep shoes shined without doing it myself and going out of the way to have it done.

Slate Creek

Helen M. Stewart, Reporter

Aug. 14.—The funeral of J. M. Caward was held at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Dan Mullen of Slate Creek last Tuesday at 2:30 P. M. The Rev. Teague, pastor of the First Methodist church, Canisteo, assisted by Missionary C. B. Ellis, also of Canisteo, conducted the services. A solo, "In the Garden," was sung by Mr. Ellis. The bearers were his sons-in-law, Dan Mullen, John Stephens and Earl Brown, and grandsons, Duane Caward, William Brown and Herman Mullen. Present were relatives from Cohocton, Rushville, Stanley, Interlaken, Prattsburg and Trumansburg. The large floral offering showed the respect and high esteem in which our neighbor and friend was held.

John Mullen had the misfortune to find one of his heifers dead Sunday morning. She had run her head between two trees and could not get out.

Eloise Mullen has been guest of Lois Bettinger of Bennetts Creek for several days.

Nancy Hale of Purdy Creek was an overnight guest of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hale.

Charlotte Stewart returned home Friday after spending several days as guest of Miss Janis Baker of Arkport.

Ruth Brown of Alfred and Mable Mullen called on Mrs. William Mullen and Helen Stewart Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Stewart of Hammondsport have been visiting at the home of their son, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Stewart for a few days.

Mrs. Gertrude Dineen of Bennetts Creek and her father, James Ingersoll of Jasper called on Mrs. Helen Stewart, Thursday.

Billy Stewart visited his cousin Bobby Mullen of Bennetts Creek Saturday and accompanied their cousin, Herman Mullen to a movie in Hornell Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Stephens and two sons and Dan Stephens of Cameron Mills were Sunday guests of Mrs. William Mullen.

Mrs. Helen Stewart and three children called on friends in Jasper, Sunday.

Mrs. Earl Brown and son Phillip returned to their home in Alfred after visiting her mother, Mrs. J. M. Caward and Mr. and Mrs. John Stephens for several days.

Voorhees Hill

Mrs. Raymond Church, Reporter

Aug. 14.—Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Coats entertained a party of friends at the Perkins homestead Saturday evening.

Mrs. Paul Davie, Mrs. Ruth Smith and daughter Barbara and Miss Elizabeth Davie of Wellsville called at the home of R. B. Church Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Margaret Adams passed the week-end with friends in Bolivar.

Carroll Church and son William attended the Steuben county potato meeting at Cohocton, Saturday. Mrs. Carroll Church, daughters, Phyllis and Esther and Christine Church spent the day at Stony Brook Glen.

Mr. and Mrs. Lytle Church and children of Knoxville, Pa., passed Wednesday night and Thursday with relatives here.

Loretta McAndrew of Waterford, Pa., is passing the week with friends on the hill.

Miss Phyllis Church is at Cuba Lake for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bartlett of Elmira spent Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Abram Slocum.

Mrs. Lydia Chalker of Wellsville visited at the home of her sister, Mrs. Howard Woodfield, Monday.

An executive who is always busy is usually doing a lot of stuff that a youthful assistant could do twice as well in half the time.

Intolerance or tardiness at the dinner hour increases with age.

Latin Flowers

To South America is the world indebted for one of its most popular garden flowers: the nasturtium. This is this gaily colored little plant mentioned in a European botanical book of the end of the 18th century: the nasturtium "is a native of Peru, and is said by Linnaeus to have been first brought to Europe in the year 1684." Another South American flower which is mentioned in European botanical treaties of the last century (1830) and one which is also today a favorite, is the petunia, "a native of Buenos Aires"—some say that the first were gathered upon the Uruguay near the Rio Negro—"and like other herbaceous plants from the same country, quite hardy in England during the summer"—to quote one author. The four o'clock — "romantically known as Marvel-of-Peru" comes naturally from Peru and was introduced to the Old World "at an early date, being very much admired there," it seems. Also from South America are a number of species of verbena, although the common garden variety has now become practically a mongrel.
