Has Your Agricultural Enterprise Been Enumerated?

(All general farms; also enterprises or establishments, even though small in area, such as greenhouses, mushroom cellars, nurseries, hatcheries, keeping cows or other livestock, chickens or other poultry, or bees, or growing of flowers, vegetables, or fruit; the value of the products from which sources amounted to *$250 or more in 1944.)

If not, or if you have any doubt, fill out this blank and mail to:

Bureau of the Census
305 Walbridge Building,
43 Court Street,
Buffalo 2, New York.

Name _____
Street No. _____
or R. D. _____
Village, _____
Town, City _____
Location of enterprise if different from the above address: _____

State whether enterprise or establishment is a general farm, a nursery, a greenhouse, etc.

*The $250 limitation does not apply when the enterprise has three or more acres.

The movie usher was in the dentist's chair.

"Now, Miss" asked the dentist, "which tooth is giving you all the trouble?"

"Second from the left in the balcony," she replied.

Spotlight on Spuds

Potato news for 1945 is good news. In fact we are likely to have the third largest potato crop in the history of the country this year. Right now potatoes are plentiful in practically all markets and prices are reasonable.

Since potatoes are loaded with nourishment, they're one of our best food buys right now.

On a Sour Note

Don't stop serving crisp vegetable salad these late summer days just because you've scraped the last bit of mayonnaise from the jar and cannot buy any more. Keep these salads going to the table — with sour cream dressing. Yes, cream that sours in hot weather is especially good with cucumbers, cabbage, lettuce, or fruit. The easiest way to serve it is to whip the sour cream and add just a little salt and a dash of dill or onion juice. For a variation in the dressing, add sugar, salt, a little pepper, some lemon juice, and vinegar to the whipped sour cream.

What's New?

How would you like to go into a store and walk out with a lovely wool skirt that can be tossed into a tub, washed time after time, and still show no sign of shrinking, matting, or fuzzing? Well, it won't be long now.

According to specialists at the United States Department of Agriculture, that's not the only thing you can expect. There will be washable raincoats for little boys and young men—coats that resist rain and that can be safely laundered at home without losing fit, shape, color, or their power to shed water.

New Fabric Discovery

It's on its way—a cotton material we've all dreamed about. Thanks to scientists at the U. S. Department of Agriculture, a fabric has been discovered that will neither mildew nor rot, and that has withstood burial in the ground for more than six months without any noticeable loss of strength. The new material has the strength and appearance of ordinary cotton, plus the ability to resist the attack of rot-producing micro-organisms.

What does it all mean? You will soon be able to own clothing that does not mildew, and you can have tents and awnings that will not rot in damp climates, and fish nets that remain strong even if put away wet.
