X-rays Taken by County T. B. Association

This past week chest x-ray surveys were held in Alfred and Houghton, whereby the students were x-rayed. A total of 469, including some faculty members and community lay people, were given the chance to participate in the promoting of the county-wide x-ray program which began this past year by the Allegany Health and Tuberculosis Association.

The Association thanks each and everyone who took interest in this program. Those who were x-rayed will receive a confidential report in about six weeks.

In order to eradicate tuberculosis by 1960 everyone must cooperate wholeheartedly and promote these chest x-ray surveys in each community.

This program is supported by the purchase of Christmas Seals and is the only means of support of this health organization.

State Pays Last Winter's Snow Removal

Under legislation which provided that localities could apply for reimbursement for "extraordinary expenses" incurred in snow removal last winter, $48,318.66 was paid in Allegany County. The county treasury was reimbursed by $17,887.48 with the rest going to townships throughout the county, Andover receiving $1,347.02.

Pheasant Contest Winners Named

Belmont, Oct. 11.—Joe Merwin, Fillmore, and Beatrice Prentice, Angelica, have been announced by County 4-H Club Agent Laurence Dedrick as the two club members securing the highest percentages of pheasant eggs hatched during the campaign carried out this summer to further stock pheasant covers. Eggs were furnished by the State Conservation Department and club members paid for the work of hatching them and liberating the birds.

The two young people mentioned above will be awarded prizes at the October 26 meeting of the Allegany County Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs to be held at the Belmont Conservation Club here. All girls and boys growing pheasants this summer will be invited to be guests.
