Seek Workers From West For Crop Harvests

Efforts are being made to recruit about 1,000 Arkansas workers to help with Western New York bean, tomato, apple, peach, potato and grape harvests. Elton K. Hanks, farm labor supervisor for the New York State Extension Service at Cornell University, contacted workers in Arkansas and bordering states the week of August 12, thru cooperation of their State Extension Services.

These domestic workers will reduce need for foreign workers in the area, recruited at high cost to the government, and may develop into a permanent source of labor for the area, he said.

Farmers May Get Additional Limestone

Farmers in Allegany County may now receive additional allocations of ground limestone, according to Herbert L. Hodnett, Chairman of the Allegany County Agricultural Conservation Program. Farmers wishing to order extra material should send their requests directly to the Agricultural Conservation office, Belmont, N. Y., remitting $2.00 per ton for each ton of bagged lime requested for $1.00 per ton for bulk lime. Checks and money orders should be made payable to Hazel E. Young, Treasurer, Allegany County Agricultural Conservation Association.

The material so ordered must be applied no later than December 31, 1946, said Mr. Hodnett.
