Looking Winterward.

Our Underwear department is one that receives close and particular attention. The heavy grades are now in and placed in position. The stock includes cotton, half-wool, all wool—white, natural grey and scarlet, in both ribbed and flat goods. Fleece lined for children and others of tender skin. Combination suits for ladies and children.

Ladies' fast-black fleeced Hosiery 17 to 50c pair. Wool and cashmere Hosiery 25c to $1.00 pair.

Extra values in children's ribbed wool Hose at 25c pair and upwards.

Men's heavy shaw-knits, also wool and cashmere Socks from the cheapest to the best.

The run at present is on Iced Squares, and it looks as if it would continue. We're in excellent shape for it, however, showing as we do five different grades from 47c to $2.00 each.

Jackets are beginning to move. It doesn't take long to satisfy from a stock as large as ours. Children's and infants' garments a specialty.

Our milliner is back from a two weeks' visit in New York, and we are now ready to show new goods and do fall trimming.

THE ANDOVER NEWS.

At a meeting of the Allegany County Publishers' Association, held at Bolivar, April 29, 1892, the following rules were unanimously adopted to take effect the week beginning May 9, 1892:

RULE 1.—That not less than 5 cents per line be charged for resolutions of respect, and local notices of entertainments from which revenue is to be derived.

RULE 2.—Cards of thanks to be charged $1.

RULE 3.—Obituary notices, except such as are published as a matter of news, and lists of wedding presents to be charged for at not less than 5 cents per line.

Jacklanterns and chestnuts are ripe.

A large number of people from Andover will leave for the World's Fair on the excursion tonight.

A former Andover young gentleman is soon to lead to the altar a popular young lady resident of the place where he now resides. That's all we will tell about it just now.

We learn that Dr. and Mrs. P. B. Hardy, of Britton, Mich., are the parents of a boy baby, born last Wednesday. A good portion of the congratulations will be postmarked "Andover."

Mr. Daniel Boyd, who has suffered with lung trouble for some time past, is now using Dr. W. R. Amick's chemical treatment for lung diseases. This treatment has for a number of months attracted the attention of prominent physicians, and has been used by Dr. Amick for a number of years, with great success. Mr. Boyd is improving under the treatment, which is furnished through Dr. E. M. Stittman of this place.

Last Friday evening a party of young folks enjoyed themselves at the home of Samuel Matteson. Dancing was the principal feature of the evening.

Dr. Benjamin Norton, postmaster of Belmont, died Tuesday afternoon at 8 o'clock. Deceased was one of the oldest residents of Amity, and greatly respected.

The Publishers' Association held its regular meeting at Cuba this week Monday. The next meeting will be held in Wellsville the first Monday in December.

Rev. Father Walsh delivered a lecture in the M. E. church at Angelica, Tuesday evening of this week. His subject was, "My Conversion to Christ in a Trappist Monastery."

A crop of orange blossoms will soon be plucked in Andover. Both of the interested parties are exceedingly popular, and their friends have a large stock of congratulations in store.

Mrs. Charles Freeborn is seriously ill at her home in this village. She has been in ill health for some time, but for the past few days has been much worse, and her recovery is considered doubtful.

The auction season is here. W. C. Lever's lungs are just as strong as ever, and his going-at-seven-fifty-give-me-eight tone of voice has lost none of its persuasiveness. If you intend to have an auction he's the auctioneer you want. If you secure him and have your bills printed at the News office your sale will be a success.

The C. L. S. C. will meet Monday evening, Oct. 16, at 7:30 o'clock, with Mrs. Benedict. The program will be as follows: Song, No. 21; quotations from Washington Irving; the usual questions from the Chautauqua; three facts about Rome or the Romans; table talk, reminiscences of Chautauqua. Reading, the Chautauqua idea. Those wishing to join the circle will please attend this meeting.

The celebrated orator, John A. Nicholls, delivered his two famous lectures in Andover this week. Monday evening his subject was "Life in London, or the Shadows of a Great City." On Tuesday evening he spoke of "A Night in the Slums of New York." Both lectures were illustrated by pictures thrown on canvass from a powerful stereopticon. Mr. Nicholls is a pleasing orator, and the illustrations make the entertainment doubly interesting. He delivered a rousing temperance lecture in the Presbyterian church Sunday evening, at which place his lectures were also given.

Perhaps there are people in our wide awake town who are not aware that a cyclone passed over this village last week and left its mark principally in the "hill-side cemetery." It made a clean sweep of all the underbrush, not only cutting it down but cleaning it up and causing the same to disappear. Several head-stones that have been lying flat on the ground for years, were also reset. We suggest it would be a good time for some people to visit the cemetery. Perhaps they might discover once more where some of their friends were laid to rest years ago. Improvements on every hand have been going on in this place for several months; why not improve and beautify the city of the dead? This subject ought to interest every citizen of Andover.

The Board of Education is considering the advisability of raising funds toward the purchase of a piano, by means of school entertainments. These entertainments are in a measure to take the place of the regular school rhetorical, and the necessary preparation is to be made outside regular school hours. Music adds greatly to the charm of school life, and with it are associated some of the most pleasant recollections of the school days of every student. The Department of Public Instruction urges that more attention be given to this subject. Double the work can be performed by pupils in a happy frame of mind, and a piano will contribute greatly to this end, while work in rhetorical develops self control, cultivates the memory and gives the student confidence to appear before a public audience.

Mrs. Mourhess is now in the city buying a large stock of millinery and ladies' furnishing goods. She will be ready to show goods and do work about the 15th inst. in the new store being built by H. Mourhess.
