WANTED—A few good manufacturers to locate here permanently. No bonuses offered, but we will guarantee the best location in this section of the state, good facilities for shipping, low taxes, a good town, and low cost of living. Cherry Creek News Andover possesses all the facilities above referred to, and we think we are warranted in saying that a fair sized bonus would be put up here as an additional inducement to some manufacturing concern to locate here. As we have before remarked, the business men should organize a board of trade and do a little booming.

Yesterday morning, just as the sun was half an hour below the horizon, but a beautiful blush in the sky heralded his coming, a carriage left the Catholic church of this place and was driven to the dwelling of our esteemed fellow citizen, Wm. Costigan. A sturdy man jumped from the vehicle, and with the sense of new ownership on his amiable countenance, handed out a radiant young woman, and both disappeared within the house. Here we must leave them, discussing a wedding breakfast and plans for visiting the World's Fair. The man was Mr. Patrick Lynch, for some years the attentive foreman of the Friendship section of the Erie, and the young woman, his bride, was Miss Matie Costigan, eldest daughter of Mr. Costigan. It was a fine pair, and we doubt not that happiness will attend all their future. The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Murray of Andover. Friendship Register, Oct. 12.
