"VICTORY"

By Ray Smith

Last Thursday, October 9, the Panthers of A.C.S. emerged from the Andover-Scio soccer game with a 12-6 victory after a long tedious 40 minutes. It was the first eleven who were active during most of the game. The locals lost the first league encounter to Belmont but cleaned up on this one thus putting them in position for a three way tie for the section championship provided they win tomorrow's game on the local field. The Richburg "Bearcats" will be fighting hard to knock an old rival out of the contest but with the "Old Fight" the boys showed in the Scio game they will again be victorious. It would be great if it were possible to take the section championship the first year we play, wouldn't it?

"TIED

By Ray Smith

A practice game with Allentown last Tuesday, October 14th in which the second string played the game ended in a two-two tie. I didn't see the game but from all reports these second string men will be good varsity material. The last game (maybe) will be played on the home field with Richburg tomorrow night. Friday, October 17th. If we win this one it will mean a three way tie for the sectional championship.

Let us give all possible support to the team for this last game.

JUNIORS COUNT MINUTES UNTIL OCT. 24th

Hey folks! remember the Junior Dance Friday night, October 24th. You fellows get around and ask that certain girl.

The girls are happily chatting over the new dresses they are going to wear and altogether there is a great deal of excitement in the Junior homeroom.

Everybody be in on the fun when the Cornhuskers start playing one of those lively dance tunes. BC

NEEDLE AND SPOON

Hi Gals:

I know you have all heard of the super sack dresses the home economics class are making. The directions are as easy to follow and the results so pretty that I know anyone could make one. The first thing to do is select your cloth. If you are of average height you need only 1¼ yards. Then you decide what neckline you want, because there are so many pretty ones to choose from. The shoulder seam should be sewed one inch down. The sleeves come next, all you do is slit the sides down eight inches from the shoulder seam and hem. The last thing to do is put in your hem and choose an appropriate belt to wear with it. You have a new dress for a very economical price and a minimum of work. DS

GREAT EXPECTATIONS — ?

Another dream shattered!!!

The week of September 29, the students of A. C. S. took their five week exams and I am sure many dreams were shattered. Of course there were a few exceptions but the final results will be announced Tuesday, Oct. 14 and Wednesday, Oct. 15, when the report cards are issued.

Come on, kids, let's all try to make a record, the next time, even though we may be unable to break one.

Think it over! ! ! !

ASSEMBLY PROGRAM PORTRAYS INDIA

In an assembly program, October 9th, in the auditorium, pictures were shown and talks given on India by Mrs. Carolyn Mayback, and her assistant from Buffalo.

Pictures were taken while her assistant was visiting his daughter, who married an Indian. Demonstrations were presented on clothing worn by the Hindus. Also pictures showed the food they prepared, how the food was eaten and other activities of the household. EMC-RMB

THAT'S THE WAY IT IS

The Freshman class are relieved to see "Dick" Hancock without the cast on his arm.

Donna Nobles seems to stick to her B's in science class. Gosh, pretty soon she'll have a whole hive !!

Louise Loucks seems to be really hitting it off with "Charlie" Dougherty this year. What happened to Dick Hancock, Louise?

We see Alice Bostick is still going with her one-and-only "Curly". Who will be your next victum, Alice?

There have been rumors floating around about "Vic" Daley and Teresa Joyce.

"Phil" Mitchell can think up some of the most fitting nick names for some people!!

Gee, the new romances that are beginning! How about that Barnett Bostick and Colleen McAndrews.

I guess the skating party was pretty much of a success and all the seats in the back of the bus were taken up!

Carolyn Briggs, who's the new heart ache? We know, but we'll let you tell them.

It seems to us that "Midge" Smith and Franklin Cornish were pretty well crowded in that one corner of the bus.

Well, until next week, then

"HALLOWE'EN"

by Norma Perry

Now that Hallowe'en is drawing near, I suppose everyone is planning their parties.

Of course every Hallowe'en there is a lot of deviltry and damage done. Now, I believe in having fun, but I do not see how or where anyone gets any fun out of wrecking and damaging things which do not belong to them. People already have enough problems as it is.

Hallowe'en is meant for people to have fun. There is more than one way of having fun. Of course the youngsters' fun is dressing up and trying to scare other people. For the high school kids, fun is or should be, having parties, playing games, and drinking cider and eating doughnuts.

So you see, kids, there is more than one type of fun. Let's have fun this year—the right kind.

SENIORS WILL SELL CHRISTMAS CARDS

Tuesday, October 7th, during a class meeting held eighth period, the Seniors definitely decided to sell Christmas cards.

They have chosen a nice variety of cards and with the co-operation of everyone their sales should reach a peak.

They would appreciate the full support of all. Buy your Christmas cards from the Seniors. JCB

MAGAZINE SALES TO SWELL SENIOR RING FUND

Wednesday, October 15, marked the beginning of the annual magazine selling contest by the Senior class.

The contest under the general management of Ray Smith, Senior class president, is divided into two teams.

In charge of the "Cooperative" team is Doris Atwell with Rose M. Baker, financial manager. The opposing team, the "Progressives" is headed by Phyllis Nye with Dolores Snyder financial manager.

Two publishing companies are represented this year, the Crowell-Collier Publishing Co. and Curtis Publishing Co. Among the magazines featured in the sale are:

Ladies Home Journal, Cosmopolitan, Sport's Afield, Country Gentlemen, Saturday Evening Post, Coronet, Esquire, to name a few.

The money netted by the seniors through the sale of these magazines will be used to buy class rings, and help to carry on the many senior functions.

So when a senior student approaches your door within the next two weeks, give your wholesearted support by buying magazines. HKY KPL

"CHIT CHAT"

Hello again. Put your books on the floor, move your cokes over and spread out the paper. We'll try to keep you interested with a little gossip and stuff.

Madge had a slight disappointment when Dick's car, The Flyin' Disc, got sick and wouldn't take that trip they'd planned.

Pat Dolan always believes in dressing up when she has company. Brunch coat, safety pin and curlers. No wonder Gib did not recognize her!

We don't see much of Helen Yannie any more. She spends her time working and studying. This week she's also chief cook and bottle washer at the Yannie household, while mother Yannie is in New York.

Rosie and Bernie are still seen together in Andover.

Earl Richardson couldn't hear his favorite Al Jolson records Friday night. He probably won't baby-sit anymore.

If you don't see Lila Childs around much any more, it's because she has to stay home and study. She's taking two subjects, you know.

That new IDB bracelet isn't on Jo Theetge's arm anymore — Could a visit from Ray Smith this week-end have anything to do with its disappearance?

The Seniors are now slaving away like mad, trying to sell those magazines. Those gorgeous rings are worth the work, though, aren't they?

Teddy Van Curen has again tackled the kitchen floor at her house. Only this time she's going to try not to spill any paint so it will be the color they want it.

The bunk in the corner of the postoffice belongs to Barb Wintemberg. That way she is right on hand everytime a train comes in so she won't have to wait for those letters from Bob.

Warning to stocking cap fans. Anchor the tail and tassle on it because about nine people out of ten love to pull them.

The school should install elevators now that the girls are trying out for cheerleading.. Sore muscles just don't like to walk upstairs.

Well, I guess that's about all for now so we'll sign off until next time.

LIBRARY RECEIVES NEW BOOKS

Life stories of 319 persons who figured in the news of 1946 appear in "Current Biography 1946" a 734-page reference volume which has recently been added to the Andover Central School library, according to Mrs. Conde, school librarian.

Most numerous in this collection, which tells "who's news and why" are more than 100 government officials in the United States and abroad, thus reflecting the widespread interest in international affairs, centered about United Nations personages. Figures in education and literature are almost as numerous, and over 40 names are politically prominent. Leaders in business, social service, and social science appear frequently in these pages, and many active in journalism, law and the theatre are among those in more than 30 professions represented. A convenient index by profession is included.

"Current Biograpthy 1946" is a one-alphabet cumulation of the biographical articles and obituaries that appeared in the year's monthly issues, revised and brought up to date as of December 31, 1946. Each sketch includes a photograph and reference to additional material. Considerable research makes possible impartial and accurate biographical information, while an informal, lively style makes the sketch especially readable.

GRADE NEWS

Mrs. Robison's kindergarten pupils can now count to five. They are making room decorations for Hallowe'en.

Miss Recktenwald's pupils are making Hallowe'en pictures for the bulletin boards. They are also studying about seeds.

Mrs. Connor's first grade has just completed a unit on Indians and expect to complete the work in "Before We Read" this week. Reading groups have been formed.

Mrs. Hall's first grade pupils picked up 58 bushel of potatoes. They opened the birthday box for Timothy Thisse. Joan Sootheran has recently been in the Rochester hospital.

In Mrs. Bennett's second grade Charles Whiting has come to school after being ill with whoop-

PERSONALS

Wouldn't it be a major catastrophe if Mary Alice Horan's flames all came at once on the same night?

Rosemary Mead doesn't let any grass grow under her feet when it comes to inviting a date to a Sophomore party, Sadie Hawkin's Day.

What's all this we hear about Ruth H. and Ruth S. making the rounds of the night spots in Hornell a while ago. Just wondering!

We see Mary Ellen Driscoll has followed the fad and got her hair cut.

The soccer team is well represented by the Junior class and since the Junior fellows are in the groove some games have been won.

As you walk down the corriders toward the library you will invarably see Wayne S. near Anne Marie Green's locker. New romance or just friendship!!

Did Reta Goodridge ever give a certain guy she met at the potato field a break and consent to go out with him.

Who is the certain Senior boy Gloria Clair has her eye on? Better watch out Kevin.

Every day in English class we can see Mary Ellen Connor drooling over a handsome Sophomore boy. This isn't Joe Smith, is it, Mary?

Are Leroy Caple's antics during second period study hall for the benefit of Jean Blauvelt.

We see Don Mulconery has a new admirer. Could it be that cute Marie Kemp in seventh grade.

Duane Hackett better watch out who he talks to in history class. The Marine Corps is kinda tough.

We wonder why we see Laura Mae Croyle going to the sixth grade room so often?

Mary Brown and Wayne Atwell are still on speaking terms.

Who was the good looking girl Ronald Ellis was skating with at the Freshman party?

We wonder who Priscilla Baker likes now. Could it be Richard York?

We don't see how Billy Glover got anything accomplished in the potato field.

ART NEWS

Some of the girls are doing water color paintings of natural objects. Since they have just recently started this work, there are no paintings that the girls have done on display. Some of the grade children are making their own masks for Hallowe'en.

Miss Church's pupils are going to make a map of the United States for their room. CB-PB

SHOP AND AG NEWS

Ag. classes 2 and 3 have been studying soil for erosion control and conservation practice. After studying in class the boys went on field trips. They have gone to the Starkwater farm near Independence where they have just completed diversion ditches, farm ponds, cleaned out hedgerows and laid out fields on contour. Also they visited Carl Burdick's farm where a complete program of conservation has been established
