Our November trade has been highly gratifying - far in excess of the corresponding month in any previous year since 1882 (the time we began business in Wellsville.)

In the face of the general hard times this statement to some, may flavor of romance, but it can easily be verified to the satisfaction of anyone who may challenge its truth.

This month in Now for December! The Dry Goods is always the largest of the 12. We are determined that this December shall be not only the largest in this year but, like the month just passed, the largest of any previous year. To this end we are going to push things for 'all they're worth. Our limited space will permit the mention of but few of the many attractive bargains we shall offer:

THE ANDOVER NEWS.

At a meeting of the Allegany County Publishers' Association, held at Bolivar, April 29, 1892, the following rules were unanimously adopted to take effect the week beginning May 9, 1892:

RULE 1.-That not less than 5 cents per line be charged for resolutions of respect, and local notices of entertainments from which revenue is to be derived.

RULE 2.-Cards of thanks to be charged $1.

RULE 3.-Obituary notices, except such as are published as a matter of news, and lists of wedding presents to be charged for at not less than 5 cents per line.

Mr. L. D. Cobb is in town.

The Allegany County Farmers' Club will meet at Friendship Jan. 12.

Mr. A. Warner of Toledo, Ohio, is in town looking after oil and gas matters.

Mrs. G. H. Parker of Bolivar was the guest of Miss Minnie Freeborn the past week.

The Chautauqua Circle has adjourned to meet Dec. 30. The program will be given out later.

We understand that Melvin Green, son of Andrew Green of this place, has purchased a meat market at Alfred Station.

A farmers' institute is to be held in Cuba some time during January or February. The exact date has not yet been fixed.

If the different fraternal organizations in this place will furnish us with a list of newly elected officers, we will be glad to publish the same for the benefit of our readers.

Mr. Fred Martin, who has been in the employ of G. B. Proper in the meat market, for some time past, returned to his home in Alfred Centre Monday. He is to see him leave town.

the Andover postoffice is likely to remain under its present management for several weeks to come. In fact, it may be several months before a change is made. The same is true of more than one office in this county. At Belmont E. W. Chamberlain is slated for the appointment, (in the interest of harmony, not because he cares about taking it) and the change at that place is likely to be made soon. These things may not "pan out" according to this program, but there is not much doubt that the present intentions of the powers that be have been correctly outlined.

Miss Emma Marshall and sister Eunice are visiting at the home of Mrs. H. S. Smith.

Christmas services will be held at the M. E. Church Monday evening, Dec. 25. All are cordially invited.

Misses Elizabeth Bassett and Sarah Barney spent a few days of last week with friends in Alfred Centre.

It takes a whole page of the News to tell what Comstock & Benedict have in stock for the Holiday trade.

The funeral of the late Wisner Doty was held at the Baptist church last Friday, and was largely attended.

Large crowds have enjoyed the skating on the pond during the past week. Wellsville sent up two large loads of young folks in one day.

Mrs. Adaline Walker, sister of W. J. Penny, died in Washington Nov. 27. She leaves a daughter and a son. Mr. Penny attended the funeral.

Our advertisers present extraordinary holiday attractions this week. You can't go amiss in your purchases if you read what they have to say.

Wallace Richardson carries both legs, one arm, and his back in a sling, the result of being too familiar with a road cart. The cart wasn't hurt a bit.

The Board of Supervisors is in session at Belmont this week. It is expected a vote will be taken today on the proposition to build a new jail at Belmont.

The subjects of the pastor's sermons at the M. E. church next Sunday will be as follows: Morning-The True Nature of Conversion. Evening-The Moral Hero.

Mr. H. G. Stillman, the newly appointed postmaster of Almond, was in town the latter part of last week. He passed around the cigars to as many of his friends as he happened to see here.

The next report of the State Board of Charities will contain an illustration of the Allegany county almshouses. It is understood that President Letchworth considers them model buildings of the kind in the State, considering the cost.

Miss Millie Barney entertained a number of her friends last Friday evening. Guests were present from Wellsville and Hornellsville and a very enjoyable evening was spent. The Brooklyn orchestra of Wellsville furnished music for dancing.

The Mutual Company's well on Eugene Warfield's farm is down nearly to the point where it is expected gas will be found. Later-The drillers struck the sand yesterday at this well, and the indications are that it will be a moderately-productive gasser.

Considerable sickness prevails in town at present. Among those who have been compelled to suspend business are President Cannon, James Owen and G. B. Herrick. Messrs. Cannon and Owen are improving, but Mr. Herrick is confined to his bed.

The Andover Cornet Band has been reorganized and the following officers have been elected: E. Smith, President; Henry Carr, Secretary; Alvin Clark, Treasurer; Frank Bloss, Leader. Mr. Bloss is a good musician and it is expected the band will improve under his leadership.

Brainard, Lester & Co. have a rig nearly finished on the farm of M. G. Stout in Fulmer Valley, and will begin drilling there next week. They are putting up a tank at the well on Uriah Davis' farm, and will pump this well, which is claimed to be good for about ten barrels of oil per day.

Prof. W. L. Davis, of Pittsburg, Pa., delivered an address at Prest's opera house Monday evening, explaining the plans and objects of the Order of the World, a fraternal organization. The crowd was small, but we understand there is some prospect that a branch of the Order may be organized here.

Mr. E. B. Dean is now connected with the Riverlawn sanitarium in Paterson, N. J. A few days ago an entertainment was given at the institute, attended by the friends and graduates. A Paterson paper says: "E. B. Dean, one of the representatives of the Sanitarium, assisted greatly in making the evening pass off pleasantly for the guests. In a short time he has made a host of Paterson friends. Mr. Dean will leave soon to spend the holidays with his parents in New York State."
