Prison Brothers of Wellsville were in town yesterday looking after their ice business. They have their eyes on the weather, and as soon as there is a sufficient depth of ice, business will be lively at the pond. It will probably continue as long as the weather continues cold.

The man who prophesied a long, hard winter has for the past three months been trying to dig a hole deep enough to bury himself in. He hasn't been hindered any by frozen ground.

Last Thursday evening a number of Mr. J. C. Cartwright's friends visited his home in this village. It was Mr. Cartwright's birthday, and the crowd helped him celebrate the event in due form.

Now is the time to get a copy of "Samantha at the World's Fair." It is witty, wise, and instructive, full of that kind of fun relished by the best of men. E. L. Karr, the agent, will be here Feb. 1st.

Mrs. Joyce has donated the use of an empty building in the rear of the American house to the hose company, to keep the hose cart in. This is a central point, and will answer nicely for the present.

Potatoes, if left in cold water an hour before cooking, will be mealy and white. We take this from an exchange, and if you wish to know whether the fellow lied or not, you can get a few poor potatoes and try it.

Last Friday evening the largest crowd of the season was at the pond to skate. Many were present from Wellsville and Alfred Centre. Saturday afternoon and evening large crowds were also in attendance.

In pursuance of a previous arrangement the school will hold an entertainment in Prest's opera house, Wednesday evening, Feb. 21, for the purpose of raising funds to apply on payment for the piano recently purchased.

The Philharmonic Society of Andover will give the closing social hop of the season at Prest's opera house in this village, Monday evening, Feb. 5, 1894. Music by Hickey's Hornellsville Orchestra. Last Friday, as Mr. John Howe was driving down the hill near the residence of E. Z. Cook, west of this village, in company with his daughter Katie, the forward axle of the carriage broke, throwing both occupants to the ground. Mr. Howe sustained a fracture of the collar bone, and also of a bone in the arm. The injuries are quite serious, but the patient is doing as well as could be expected.

The C. L. S. C. will meet with Mrs. W. H. Phillips next Monday evening. The following program will be given: Music, No. 8; quotations from Robert Burns; questions 16 and 17 in 4-page memoranda, 11, 12, 57 and 58 in 12-page memoranda; remainder of questions and answers in January Chautauquan; two facts from the week's reading; recess; table talk—each one to bring an item about a prominent person of the Middle Ages.

Members of the hose company attached a line of hose to a hydrant last Saturday afternoon, to demonstrate the height to which water could be thrown. With a 1 1/4 inch nozzle the water was sent to about twice the height of the American hotel, which is as high as any building on Main street. Several parties from Wellsville witnessed the exhibition, and pronounced our water works system a complete success.

The Steuben Presbytery met in Hornellsville Thursday. The Rev. W. G. White asked to be released from the pastorate at Cuba. Hillman of Almond was dismissed to the Presbyterial church at Newton, N. J., and W. H. Veenschoten was directed to preach at Cuba on Sunday, Jan. 28.

The suit brought by Mrs. Jane Davis to set aside a deed given by her to Mrs. Elizabeth Miller, deceased, conveying the Davis property on the corner of Main and Greenwood streets in this village, is to be sharply contested. Attorney Elba Reynolds of Belmont has been appointed guardian ad litem of Willie Miller, son of Elizabeth Miller and one of the defendants. Mr. Reynolds will be represented in court by his law partner, District Attorney Brown. The law firm of Chamberlain & Page of Rochester will look after the interest of the other infant defendant, Nettie Ulton, who is a granddaughter of Mrs. Miller. That will really bring five lawyers into the defense—Crayton L. Earley of this place, Reynolds & Brown of Belmont and the Rochester firm above mentioned.

At last Thursday morning's fire the stream had to be shut off two or three times on account of stones getting into the hose. Everybody says the hydrants ought to be opened occasionally until the mains are clear of obstruction. That's so, and the work has already been attended to. It will doubtless be continued as long as necessary.

A little money cuts a big figure in our cloak department now. It will pay to come to Wellsville alone for a jacket. 150 garments left that must be converted into cash within 30 days.
