THE ANDOVER NEWS.

Sunday night was the coldest of the season.

The donation for Rev. Wayne Brewster last Wednesday evening netted about $100.

A number of the Andover young people took a sleigh ride to Belmont Saturday evening.

Prangen Brothers began cutting ice Monday morning, and have a large force of men employed.

Rev. Joshua Clarke has accepted a call to the 1st and 2nd Verona Seventh-day Baptist churches, to begin his labor in March.

Last Friday was Candlemas day. If the bear didn't see his shadow it was because his eyes were blinded by the bright sunlight.

The friends of Rev. Joshua Clark will pay him a donation visit at the Seventh Day Baptist church, Thursday evening, Feb. 8th. All are invited.

Pupils will visit you next week with tickets for the school entertainment. Prices 25 and 35 cents. Buy your tickets early, secure a reserved seat and you will not have to stand. Seats can be reserved at Cannon's store on and after Monday next.

Dr. Crego, a Buffalo specialist, was in town Friday, on a professional visit to Mrs. D. B. Harrington. At the doctor's request, Mrs. Harrington, accompanied by Miss Nellie O'Connor, left Sunday night for Albany, to be present at the meeting of the state medical association, where her case will be considered by several eminent specialists. —Wellsville Reporter.

A lot of the younger students in the school took a sleigh ride to Wellsville Saturday afternoon, returning in the evening, and all having a pleasant time.

A ten cent conundrum social will be held at the home of Mrs. J. Q. Ross on Friday evening of this week. Everybody is invited to go and have a good time.

Those who are to take part in the school entertainment are being carefully trained, and a rare program may be expected, Wednesday evening, February 21.

The way to pay for that new school piano is to attend the entertainment the evening before Washington's birthday, Feb. 21. The money all goes to the piano fund.

The Mutual company's oil well on the farm of R. A. Pease has filled a 250 barrel tank during the past four months—an average of a little better than two barrels a day.

At the M. E. church next Sunday the pastor will preach in the morning. The theme will be "The value of personal work." In the evening union revival service in charge of Rev. J. H. Hathaway.

A party of young folks took a sleigh ride Tuesday evening to the home of Mr. M. A. Crandall, near the town line of Independence. There were about eighteen in the party, and they all had a jolly time at Mr. Crandall's home.

Beginning Thursday, Feb. 8, mail from the west will arrive on train 12 again, instead of on 18. We dare say the people in this vicinity are better served when mail comes on 18 than when it comes on 12, and many will regret the change.

Mr. John Prest has bought from Mr. W. H. Church the lot upon which the News office stands, corner of Main and Elm streets. Mr. Prest will erect a handsome block of three business places on the lot the coming season. And so the town grows.

The dance Monday evening was the largest of the season, and the large number in attendance enjoyed themselves to the fullest extent. Supper was prepared by the ladies of the Catholic church and served at the home of Mrs. Delaney on Center street.

A conference of Christian workers will be held in the parlors of the M. E. church on Sunday at 3 p. m. The object of this meeting is to plan future work and greet Mr. Hathaway. All christian workers of all the churches are cordially invited to be present.

The revival services in the Methodist church last night were of special interest. A large congregation. Several expressed a purpose to begin the Christian life. Rev. E. H. Lattimer of Olean preached. Rev. J. M. Leach of Andover was also present and assisted in the services. —Monday's Wellsville Reporter.

The C. L. S. C. will meet next Monday evening with Mrs. J. C. Green. The program will be as follows: Song, No. 19; quotations from Bacon; answer four questions from the week's reading in the Chautauquan; also answer the questions in the Chautauquan; reading from the life of Joan D'Arc, by Mrs. J. C. Ross.

Mr. William Gilmore of York, Livingston Co., N. Y., father of Mrs. Jas. Owen of this place, died last Saturday. Mr. Owen, wife and daughter attended the funeral, Mr. Owen returning last night. Mrs. Owen and daughter remain to care for Mrs. Gilmore, who is very ill and whose death would not be surprising at any time.

Mr. J. C. Green has sold his house and lot on Church street to Mr. Jeremiah Clarke, who will move to this village and occupy the same. Possession is to be given by the first of April. Mr. Green seems to have better luck in selling his property than he does in getting rid of the postoffice, and we are glad to note that the sale brings so good a citizen to this village.

Geo. W. Oles, violinist, and Mrs. Anna White Oles, vocalist, assisted by local talent, delighted a fair sized audience last evening at Prest's opera house. While giving due praise to Mr. and Mrs. Oles, we wish to state that a good portion of the evening's enjoyment was furnished by the local talent, whose selections consisted of an instrumental solo by Miss Minnie Clair, a reading by Miss Mary Wilcox, choruses by members of the Baptist choir, and a male quartette by Messrs. H. P. Bundy, A. P. Wood, H. A. Benedict and A. B. Burrows.

Lost—Set of chime sleigh bells. Will the finder please return to this office?

Lamp chimneys of all sizes at Comstock & Benedict's.

Found—an umbrella. Enquire of Mrs. John Davis.

The court of appeals, the highest in the state, has decided that women have no right (legal right) to vote, and that settles it. So if either of the Allegany lady candidates had been elected, they could not have held the office. —Belmont Post. But they might have been elected by male votes, brother Willard. We do not understand that the decision referred to has any bearing upon the right of women to hold office.

The increase of the insurance rates in Wellsville is an outrage and can be classed little less than larceny. The companies, however, have the power and will exercise it to their own advantage. The gross abuse of their privilege will doubtless lead many people to carry the risk on their own property in the future. —Wellsville Democrat. Doubtless the increase of rates will have a similar effect in Andover, coming as it does just as we have completed a splendid system of water works.
