

THE ANDOVER NEWS

ONE DOLLAR A WEEK

HAMILTON C. NORRIS, EDITOR

ANDOVER, N. Y., Feb. 28, 1894.

Signs of spring—thrilling stories of the escape of animals from circus menageries.

The Moody and Sankey meetings in Washington have had no apparent effect upon Congress.

Late news indicates that the spirit of the Spanish inquisition has never been driven out of Spain.

The anarchists who preach destruction ought not to be surprised when other people practice it—upon anarchists.

The U. S. Senate is "the bulwark of the nation" or "the pliant tool of Dave Hill," just according to what paper you happen to accept as authority.

Is this 1694 or 1894? To read about the "evil eye" and witchcraft charged against a citizen of Ohio is enough to make one suppose it to be the former.

Raiding illicit distilleries continues to be a dangerous pastime. The loss of four lives—two deputy marshals and two moonshiners—followed one in West Virginia the other day.

Big price will be paid by the farmer of the north-west for the breed of sheep that will eat the Russian thistle. Secretary Morton once claimed to know of such sheep.

The whiskey trust is figuring on an increased profit of several million dollars this year by reason of the action of the House in "jumping on the trusts," and its members are hoping that the Senate will further increase the profits by doing some more jumping.

"It is a paradoxical truth," muses the Washington Star, "that when the people of a Nation are rejoicing and well pleased with each other, they are in the best condition to go to war with some other country. If the Government of Germany were to declare war now the Emperor would have the most enthusiastic following.

Any height that commands a comprehensive view of New York reveals the fact that beyond the city's boundary of water there is nearly in all directions a horizon edged with woodland. The city stands in the midst of an urban area of perhaps 200 square miles, but many hundred acres of that area are still covered with woodland, and the suburban edges are all within easy reach of some considerable great area.

There is a very funny article in the Century Magazine descriptive of the tramp as he is found on the New York Central Railway. The writer went out tramping in order to learn the ways of the fraternity. He fell in with parties of ten to thirty, here and there, between Albany and Buffalo. They were having a good time everywhere, three meals a day regularly, free rides on the railroad, and good beds in cold weather. They had "spotted" all the soft-hearted people in the various towns. They knew also what places and houses to avoid. They were never destitute of beer, often had it in kegs, and in one camp they had as many as fifteen kegs at a sitting. Saloon keepers would seldom refuse them a glass. When they wanted larger quantities they would beg on the streets till they had enough to buy it by wholesale. The number of tramps met in a professional way by this writer between Albany and Buffalo was about 300, or one per mile of road; of course, he did not see all who were "working" on that line.

WHAT DID MR. BELDEN WHISPER?
Allegany Democrats, And Others, Want To Know What Ails Cleveland.

The New York correspondent of the Philadelphia Press says that Congressman James J. Belden of Syracuse has been a warm and Republican, a warm friend of Gov. Flower for many years. Therefore, when they met at the hotel in this city which Mr. Belden owns and which Gov. Flower makes his home when he is in New York, they spoke with confidence to each other about the political situation and outlook. The Congressman told the Governor that in his opinion there was a very good chance that in the Senate the Tariff Bill would be re-committed to the Finance Committee, and with instructions, and Gov. Flower replied that it would probably be better so, and even intimated his suspicion that whether it be so or not, the Congressional elections in the fall are likely to result in the return of the Republican majority to Congress.

After these two personal friends and political opponents had thus chatted for a while, Gov. Flower, looking very serious, put another question, which he said had been troubling him for some time. He said: "Belden, can you tell me what ails Cleveland? We don't know how to explain some of the things which he has done; even those who know him best can't account for some things that he has done and said. Is he sick, or what is the matter with him?"

For a moment or two Belden did not reply, and then putting his lips closer to Gov. Flower's ear he said something which others who were present did not hear. Whatever the information was that he conveyed, it surprised the Governor, although that was judged by his appearance rather than by any comment, for he said nothing.

Only the Scars Remain.

"Among the many testimonials which I see in regard to certain medicines performing cures, cleansing the blood, etc., writes HENRY HUDSON, of the James Smith Woolen Machinery Co., Philadelphia, Pa., "none impress me more than my own case. Twenty years ago, at the age of 18 years, I had swellings come on my legs, which broke and became running sores. Our family physician could do me no good, and it was feared that the bones would be affected. At last, my good old mother urged me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I took three bottles, the sores healed, and I have not been troubled since. Only the scars remain, and the memory of the past, to remind me of the good Ayer's Sarsaparilla has done me. I now weigh two hundred and twenty pounds, and am in the best of health. I have been on the road for the past twelve years, have noticed Ayer's Sarsaparilla advertised in all parts of the United States, and always take pleasure in telling what good it did for me."
