

SUNDAY'S SERMON.

ONE OF DR. T. DEWITT TALMAGE'S STELLING DISCOURSES.

Subject: "Christ the Conqueror."

Text: "Who is this that cometh from Edom with dyed garments from Bozrah?"

Edom and Bozrah, having been the scene of fierce battle, when those words are used here or in any other part of the Bible they are figures of speech setting forth scenes of severe conflict. As now we often use the word Waterloo to describe a battle, so in this text are figures of speech descriptive of a scene of great slaughter.

When a general is about to go out to the wars, a flag and a sword are publicly presented to him, and the maidens bring flowers, and the young men load the banners, and the main starts and the banners are the thunder of the wheels and the shriek of the whistle.

As Jesus stepped on the stage of this world it was amid a rattle of shouts in the galleries and amid the kindest maternal ministrations. But soon hostile forces began to gather.

But he could not surrender. He could not apologize. He could not take any back steps. He had come to strike for the deliverance of an enslaved race, and He must do the work.

The hour came. Oh, what a time it was! I think that day the universe looked on. The spirits that could be spared gathered heavenily temple about the dead.

The weapons begin to tell on Christ. See how faint He looks! There the blood starts, and there, and there, if He is to have reinforcements, let Him call them now.

The tide of battle turns. Jesus hath overcome. Let the people stand apart and make a line that He may pass down from Calvary around the world.

We behold here a new revelation of a blessing that is to befall the world. Christ as though He were going to do something grand for us after awhile.

Christ the Conqueror. All we have to do is to accept that fact in our hearts, and we are free for this world, and we are free for the world to come.

"Cheek" and "Nerve." Many people use the words "cheek" and "nerve," of every-day vernacular, as if they were synonymous and interchangeable.

It is idiotic, said he, to use the words "cheek" and "nerve" as if they meant the same. A man may have both, but it is not usual.
