

THE ANDOVER NEWS

ONE DOLLAR A YEAR.

HAMILTON C. NORRIS, EDITOR

ANDOVER, N. Y., MAR. 7, 1894.

INDEPENDENCE NEWS.

Farmers are very busy in their sugar orchards, these warm days.

Mr. George Alvord and family of Andover, visited relations in town one day last week.

It is reported that Rev. C. E. Dodge and wife of Whitesville, who have been quite ill for some time past, are improving.

Mr. Jones Briggs of Hallsport was the guest of his niece, Mrs. C. C. Parks, several days last week.

This place was represented at the Alliance dramatic entertainment at Hallsport last Saturday night, and a fine time is reported.

The chirping of birds, the buzzing of "skeeters," the prancing of spiders and the mild weather remind us that spring is almost here.

It is wonderful how rapid is the improvement of Mrs. C. S. Armstrong from her late serious illness, as she is able to ride out and do a little light housework.

It is said that the large estate of the late Hon. Wm. Cobb of Spring Mills, consisting of one hundred farms, more or less, and other property, has been satisfactorily divided among the heirs.

Comrade and Mrs. J. D. Jacobs and son Herbert of Whitesville, were the guests of your correspondent's family last week Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Jacobs were recovering from a severe attack of la grippe.

Your Whitesville correspondent was a little off in reporting the marriage of "Frank Wager and Josie Butler by Rev. J. Kenyon" last week, as the Elder claims that to his knowledge he never saw the alleged couple.

ELM VALLEY NEWS.

Rev Mr Adams of Alma is holding protracted meetings in this place.

Many friends and relatives of Mr. John Beebe attended his funeral in Andover on Monday.

Our winter term of school closed on Monday, with literary exercises in the evening.

Mr. Prentiss Burdick has the grip.

Mrs. F. S. Osborne is improving.

Mrs. Thomas Dunigan is ill.

Those who are making sugar report a very fine run.

Miss Maud Beebe is visiting friends in Scio.

THE ANDOVER NEWS

Corporation election will occur March 20th. E. W. Chamberlain has been appointed postmaster at Belmont, and T. Davis at Alfred Centre.

The celebrated Retsel hats just arrived this week. Latest styles in tourists' hats and caps from New York city, for sale at Ross' one price cash store.

The editor of the News was called to Genesee Thursday evening by serious illness of his father, who has been ill for about a week, and recovery is very doubtful.

The towns known at the time of the termination to have voted license are—Andover, Alma, Independence, A. M. Scio, Wirt, Friendship, Cuba, V. Alfred.

Evangelist J. H. Hathaway closed his labors here Wednesday evening. It is safe to say this place has never experienced a religious revival equal to the one just closed. Over 200 persons were forward to the altar and expressed a determination to lead a Christian life. Mr. Hathaway has done a grand work for Andover, and is a power good wherever he goes.

The News office has been moved to rooms in the rear of the postoffice. Just now we are in the midst of what may be called a "terrible muzz," and it is no easy undertaking to get out a paper this week. However, we hope to get a better shape before long. The entrance to the office is through the back door.
