THE ANDOVER NEWS.

"One That Was Lost" Saturday evening.

The ladies' gold watch at Ross' will be drawn this week Saturday evening at 8 o'clock.

The pastor will preach at the M. E. church next Sunday morning. Subject—"Fools."

The Allegany County Publishers' Association will meet at Canaseraga Friday, April 6. The members will be entertained by Mr. Miller of the Times, and his wife.

Easter was appropriately observed by all the churches. Special music, flowers, sermons appropriate to the occasion, and good congregations, all helped to make the day's observance complete.

Mr. John Prest is excavating the cellar and unloading brick for his new block on the corner of Main and Elm streets. He will also build a dwelling in the rear of the block, on Elm street, and has the cellar for the same party dug.

Marie Knibloe, dramatic impersonator, gave two enjoyable entertainments in Andover during the past week—Monday and Tuesday evenings. She is an artist in her line, and it is to be expected that a large number of people did not hear her. Her performance under the auspices of the...

Saturday evening of this week at 8 o'clock.

Address from Spring Mills state that Mrs. John Beebe, whose illness was mentioned in last week's News, is slowly failing. There is said to be no hope of her recovery.

Jeremiah Clarke, who is now moving to this village, has lived in the house he moves out of, on his farm in this town, ever since he was married, over 40 years ago. That's quite a record.

The Canisteo oil wells produce a fluid that will color cloth, like dye-stuff. Well, we have understood that the Canisteo field was sort of dying out, and it's no wonder things look blue to those who have invested their money there.

Miss Mianda Crandall, daughter of Sidney Crandall, Superintendent of the Poor of this county, died at Monominee, Mich., last Sunday, aged 22 years. The remains were brought to Whitesville for burial. The friends of Mr. and Mrs. Crandall will deeply sympathize with them in their bereavement.

Don't fail to attend the drama, "One That Was Lost," Saturday evening, at Prest's opera house. The play is original, having been written by a member of the Andover Cornet Band, and the proceeds will go to that organization. Admission 10, 20 and 30 cents. Reserved seats at L. A. Burrows' drug store.

The Chautauqua circle will meet next Monday evening with Mrs. Benedict. The program will be as follows: quotations from or about Benjamin Franklin; three facts from the Chautauquan; three facts from the Classic Latin course in English; the usual number of questions in the Chautauquan; reading.

The recent action of the village Trustees in voting to allow a rebate on highway tax to those who lay stone sidewalks will doubtless have the desired effect, as several parties are contemplating the laying of stone walks, and two or three of them have already decided to do so. Under the present arrangement stone walks will be cheap and they are always handsome and durable.

Postmaster J. C. Green has for the past two or three days been indulging in the pleasant pastime of moving. He now occupies the house owned by Mrs. J. M. Hartrum on Chestnut street, just east of his newly-purchased land. He is preparing to erect a house of his own, and within the next year or two, with new streets laid out, and new houses built, "Greenville" may become an important addition to our village.

Rumor says that a new residence will soon be built on the corner of Church and Centre streets in this village, on the premises formerly owned by E. L. Hann. If rumor has it right, and from the reputation of the present owner of the premises for building and improving we don't doubt that she has, we will look for a house that will wonderfully improve that part of our village. "So mote it be."

The Village Board of Trustees met Monday evening and organized for business. The full board was present, with President Owen in the chair. The following appointments were made: Clerk, H. C. Norris. Street Commissioner, Abram Slocum. The new members will soon be accustomed to their duties, and it is anticipated that the deliberations of the Board will be as harmonious, and its acts as satisfying and business-like as were those of the former Board. The President and Trustees also organized as a Board of Water Commissioners and elected James Owen President, H. Mourhess Secretary and A. M. Burrows Treasurer.

Evangelist J. H. Hathaway closed his labors here Wednesday evening. It is safe to say this place has never experienced a religious revival equal to the one just closed.—ANDOVER NEWS. Mr. Hathaway found unsympathetic audiences in Friendship, but perhaps Andover contains wickeder people.—Friendship Register. Oh, no, brother Fries, for according to your own admission, it will take somebody more powerful than Hathaway to wake up Friendship sinners.

For the past week or two there have been rumors that a new National or State bank would soon be started in Andover, part of the capital being furnished by outside parties. From what we are able to learn, the indications are that the new enterprise will be a "go." But this is inside information, and possibly may not be true. Stop the parties who are talking the...

A "Fovorie Parlor" was held at the M. E. church parlors last evening, and the rooms were scarcely large enough to accommodate the crowd that attended. Those who had charge of the affair, and many of the guests, were dressed in poverty attire, and we heard one young man say the girls looked prettier in calico than they do in silks. The party was a great success, and the receipts were about $27.

"Coxey's army" has started from Massillon, O., and will march to Washington. Mr. Coxey's march has been the object of much comment in the newspapers. He proposes to march with his army to Washington and secure the passage of several bills in the interest of the laboring classes. It is stated that the army will receive additions at many places along the line. We saw in the Pittsburg Commercial Gazette a few days ago an item to the effect that several Belmont parties would join the procession. We doubt not the statement is true, and other towns in this county should also furnish delegations. Instead of spending their time trying to get bills through Congress, Allegany's contingent might with propriety make a few pointed inquiries like this: "What's the matter with appointing a few postmasters up our way?"
