

SUNDAY'S SERMON.

DEPT. OF THE DISTRICT ATTORNEY

Subject: "Sustaining Power of Religion."

Text: "Though ye have lain among the pots..."

I suppose you know what the Israelites did down in Egyptian slavery...

But after a while the Lord broke up that slavery, and He took these poor slaves into a land where they had better get...

What the author of the celebrated book, "Life in Egypt," says...

Sin is the hardest of all taskmasters. Woe man Pharaoh, it keeps us drudging...

I am going to present something that some of you do not believe...

And so man, you have never investigated it. They think it something undesirable...

Now all through the fashionable circles the whisper goes...

See, in the first place, what religion will do for a heart...

But trouble comes. There are many young men in the house this morning...

But here is a Christian young man. Trouble comes to him. Does he give up?

But here is a Christian young man. Trouble comes to him. Does he give up?

But here is a Christian young man. Trouble comes to him. Does he give up?

enjoyment compared with the deep, level, overflowing river of God's peace...

Oh, how independent the religion of Christ makes a man of worldly success...

You and I have found out that people who pretend to be happy are not always happy.

Let him fill high the bowl; he cannot drink in the abiding consciousness.

And as the pigeons pass by the setting sun would throw silver on their wings...

Sin is the hardest of all taskmasters. Woe man Pharaoh, it keeps us drudging...

I come in amid the elating of the glasses and under the flashing of the chandeliers.

Oh, you know of anything, my hearer, that is more beautiful than to see a young man start out for Christ?

Such a young man can go through everything. There is no one on earth or in hell that can resist him.

Spectacle the First—Napoleon passed by with the host that went down with him...

Spectacle the Second—Voltaire, bright and learned and witty and eloquent...

Spectacle the Third—Paul, insignificant in person, thrust out from all refined association...

Which of the three spectacles do you most admire? When the wind of death struck the conqueror and the infidel...

Oh, are you not in love with your religion?—a religion that can do so much for a man while he lives...

I suppose you have noticed the contrast between the departure of a Christian and the departure of an infidel.

All that on one side, compared with the departure of the Scotch Minister...

The young man retired to his room, but could not sleep. All night long he heard the groaning of the sick man...

In the morning, coming down, he said to the hotel keeper, "How is the sick man?"

It was many hours before the young man could leave that hotel. He got on his horse and started homeward...

Oh, if religion does so much for a man on earth, what will it do for him in heaven?

Oh, if religion does so much for a man on earth, what will it do for him in heaven?
